INSTINCT OF THE HONEY-BIRD.

This extraordinary little bird, which is about the size of a chaffinch, and of a light grey color, will invariably lead a person following it to a wild bee's nest. Chattering and twittering in a state of great excitement, it perches on a branch beside the traveller, endeavouring by various wiles to attract his attention; and having succeeded in doing so, it flies lightly forward in a wavy course, in the direction of the bees' nest, alighting every now and then, and looking back to ascertain, if the traveller is following it, all the time keeping up an incessant twitter. When at length it arrives at the hollow tree or deserted white ants' hill, which contains the honey, it for a moment hovers over the nest, pointing to it with its bill, and then takes up its position on a neighbouring branch, anxiously awaiting its share of the spoil. When the honey is taken, which is accomplished by first stupefying the bees by burning grass at the entrance of their domicile, the honey bird will often lead to a second and even to a third nest. The person thus following ought to whistle. The savages in the interior, whilst in pursuit, have several charmed sentences which they use on the occasion. The wild bee of Southern Africa exactly corresponds with the domestic garden bee of England. They are very generally diffused throughout every part of Africa, bees-wax forming a considerable part of the cargoes of ships trading to the Gold and Ivory coasts, and the deadly district of Sierra Leone, on the western shores of Africa. Interesting as the honey bird is, and though sweet be the stores to which it leads, I have cause to wish it far enough, as when following the warm spoor or track of the elephant, I have often seen the savages, at moments of the utmost importance resign the spoor of the beasts, to attend to the summons of the bird. Sometimes, however, they are "sold," it being a well-known fact, both among the Hottentots and tribes of the interior, that they often lead the unwary pursuer to danger, sometimes guiding him to the mid-day retreat of a grizzly lion, or bringing him suddenly upon the den of the crouching panther. I remember one occasion, about three years later, when weary with warring against the mighty elephants, and hippopotami, which roam the vast forests, and sport the floods of fair Limpopo, having mounted a pair of unwonted shot-barrels, I sought recreation in the humbler pursuit of quail-shooting. While thus employed, my attention was suddenly invited by a garrulous honey-bird, which pertinaciously adhered to me for a considerable time, heedless of the reports made by my gun. Having bagged as many quails and partridges as I cared about shooting, I whistled lustily to the honey-bird, and gave him chase; after following him to a distance of upwards of a mile through the open glades adjoining the Limpopo, he led me to a place where a crocodile was lying with his entire body concealed, nothing but his horrid head being visible above the surface of the water, his eyes anxiously watching the movements of eight or ten large bull buffaloes, which in seeking to quench their thirst in the waters of the river, were crackling through the dry reeds, as they cautiously waded in the deep mud, that a recent flood had deposited along the edge. Fortunately for the buffaloes, the depth of mud prevented their reaching the stream, and thus the scaly monster of the river, was disappointed of his prey.—Waverly Magazine.

AGRICULTURAL MACHINERY.—As an instance of the improvement in agriculture now in progress, it may be mentioned that the makers of steam engines for agricultural purposes in England, have in some cases increased eightfold within the last three years. One house made in 1848 only 15 engines, but 1851, finished no less than 294. The same results hold good with respect to other improved agricultural implements. One maker turns out 5 threshing machines a week; another, who made only 56 machines in 1849 and 1850, turned out 191 in the last 21 months, The same important activity exists in all other branches of the business.

OXFORD PUNS.—Dr. Barton, warden of Merton College, was the oddity of his time. Of the puns belonging to Dr. Barton, we believe that the following is little known. As he was a man of remarkable insensibility, people told him everything that happened. A gentleman, coming one day into his room told him that Dr. Vowel was dead. "What!" said he, "Vowel dead! thank God it is neither u nor i." Dr. Eveleigh, who with his family some years ago at Weymouth, gave occasion to old Lee, the last punster of the old school, and the master of Balio College, Oxford, for more than half a century, to make his dying pun. Dr. Eveleigh had recovered from some consumptive disorders by egg-diet and had soon after married; Wetheral, the master of University College, went to Dr. Lee, then sick in bed, resolved to discharge a pun which he had made. "Well, sir," said he, "Dr. Eveleigh has been egged on to matrimony.," "Has he," said Lee; "why then, I hope the yoke will sit easy." In a few hours afterwards Dr. Lee died. The yoke did sit easy on Dr. Eveleigh, for he had a most amiable wife.—Oxford Chronicle.

AN impertinent fellow asked Lord Guildford who that plain lady was before him' "That lady," said his lordship, "is my wife. It is true, she is a plain woman—I am a plain man—you are a plain dealer—and that is a plain story!"

"HALLO; I say, what did you say your medicine would cure?" "Oh! it'll cure everything—heal anything!" "Ah! well I'll take a bottle; maybe it'll heal my boots—they need it bad enough!"

MRS PARTINGTON says, she can't think how it is, the arm of the sea don't get broke, as so many ships, pass over it.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF LOSS OF HEALTH, DISORDERED STOMACH, INDIGESTION AND DETERMINATION OF BLOOD TO THE HEAD.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. John Lloyd, of Erw wen, near Harlech, Merionethshire.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

SIR,—I avail myself of the first opportunity of informing you, that, for a very long period, I was afflicted with a dangerous giddiness and frequent swimmings in the head, attended by loss of appetite, disordered stomach, and generally impaired health. Every means had failed to give me any permanent relief, and at length it became so alarming, that I was really afraid of going about without an attendant. In this melancholy condition, I waited personally upon Mr. Hughes, Chemist, Harlech, for the purpose of consulting him as to what I had better do; he kindly recommended your Pills, I tried them without delay, and after taking them for a short time I am happy to bear testimony to their wonderful efficacy. I am now restored to perfect health, and enabled to resume my usual duties. You are at liberty to publish this letter in any way you may think proper.

I am, Sir, your obedient Servant'

MIRACULOUS CURE OF DROPSY.

Extract of a Letter from Edward Rowley, Esq., of India Walk, Tobago, dated April 8th, 1852.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

DEAR SIR—I deem it a duty I owe to you and the public at large to inform you of a most miraculous recovery from that dreadful disease, DROPSY, and which, under God, was effected by your invaluable Pills. I was tapped five times within eight months, and skilfully treated by two medical practitioners, but could not get cured, until I had recourse to your remedy, and notwithstanding all I had undergone, this miraculous medicine cured me in the course of six weeks. (Signed) EDWARD ROWLEY.

A DANGEROUS LIVER COMPLAINT AND SPASM IN THE STOMACH EFFECTUALLY CURED.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Bostock, Druggist, of Ashton under Lyne, dated July 31, 1852.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

DEAR SIR—I have much pleasure in handing to you a testimonial of the efficacy of your Medicines. A person in this neighbourhood, with whom I am well acquainted, was affected for a long time with violent spasmodic pains in the stomach and liver, arising from frequent colds, smells of paint, and the effects of a stooping position, which he was obliged to assume in his business. The spasms were of an alarming character, and frequently left him in a weak and debilitated condition. At length he heard of the salutary effects of your invaluable Pills, and was induced to give them a trial. The first dose gave him considerable relief, and by following them up in accordance with your directions, they have acted so wonderfully in cleansing the liver and stomach, and strengthening the digestive organs, that he has been restored to the enjoyment of good health.

I remain, dear Sir, yours faithfully,
(Signed) WILLIAM BOSTOCK.

Further she desires me to say, that she has witnessed their extraordinary virtues in those complaints incidental to children, particularly in cases of Measles and Scarlatina, having effected positive cures of these diseases with no other remedy.
