10. A competitor is not restricted to one only of the handicrafts nor to the use of one class of tools: but he may show his skill in two or more. His position and the number of marks to be awarded to him will be determined by his general skillfulness as a workman. A skilled mechanic will thus be enabled to obtain credit and improve his position by showing his power of using those classes of tools not properly belonging to his own handicraft, and the ordinary student may in like manner instead of simply qualifying in the use of a certain class of tools show his skill in one of the handicrafts mentioned.

11. To those who merely qualify in the use of tools a certain proportion of the marks obtainable for practical workmanship will be given according to their relative skill. These marks will count towards the general result.

12. The travelling expenses of poor students—2nd class railway fare with a personal allowance of 10s. per diem—will be allowed to enable them to attend at the places where the practical examinations are to be held.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

[CIRCULAR.]

DOWNING STREET,
13th July, 1869.

SIR,—

Her Majesty's Government are extremely anxious that Governors of all Her Majesty's possessions in America and the West Indies should strictly fulfil the duties incumbent on a friendly Government towards the Government of Spain, now contending with a civil war in Cuba; I, therefore, enclose to you a copy of the Foreign Enlistment Act, which is intended to enable Her Majesty's Officers to secure the fulfilment of those duties; and I have to instruct you to call special attention to the provisions of that Act in the Colony under your Government, and to exercise the utmost vigilance to prevent any infraction of its provisions.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your most obedient humble servant,
GRANVILLE.

The Officer Administering the Government } of Prince Edward Island. }

“ ANNO QUINQUAGESIMO NONO GEORGII
III. REGIS.

“ An Act to prevent the Enlisting or Engagement of His Majesty's Subjects to serve in Foreign Service, and the fitting out or equipping, in His Majesty's Dominions, Vessels for Warlike Purposes, without His Majesty's Licence.

“ Whereas the enlistment or engagement of His Majesty's subjects to serve in war in foreign service, without His Majesty's licence, and the fitting out and equipping and arming of vessels by His Majesty's subjects, without His Majesty's licence, for warlike operations in or against the dominions or territories of any foreign prince, state, potentate, or persons exercising or assuming to exercise the powers of government in or over any foreign country, colony, province, or part of any province, or against the ships, goods or merchandize of any foreign prince, state, potentate or persons as aforesaid, or their subjects, may be prejudicial to and tend to endanger the peace and welfare of this Kingdom: And whereas the laws in force are not sufficiently effectual for preventing the same: Be it therefore enacted by the King's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That from and after the passing of this Act, an Act passed in the ninth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Second, intituled 'An Act to prevent the listing His Majesty's subjects to serve as Soldiers without His Majesty's licence;' and also an Act passed in the twenty-ninth year of the Reign of His said late Majesty King George the Second, intituled 'An Act to prevent His Majesty's subjects from serving as Officers under the French King, and for better enforcing an Act passed in the ninth year of His present Majesty's reign, to prevent the enlisting His Majesty's subjects to serve as soldiers without His Majesty's licence; and for obliging such of His Majesty's subjects as shall accept Commissions in the Scotch Brigade in the service of the States General of the United Provinces, to take the oaths of allegiance and abjuration;' and also an Act passed in Ireland in the eleventh year of the reign of His said late Majesty King George the Second, intituled 'An Act for the more effectual preventing the enlisting of His Majesty's subjects to serve as soldiers in foreign service without His Majesty's licence;' and also an Act passed in Ireland in the nineteenth year of the reign of His said late Majesty King George the Second, intituled 'An Act for the more effectual preventing His Majesty's subjects from entering into foreign service, and for publishing an Act of the seventh year of King William the Third, intituled 'An Act to prevent foreign Education;' and all and every the clauses and provisions in the said several Acts contained, shall be and the same are hereby repealed.

“ II. And be it further declared and enacted, that if any natural-born subject of His Majesty, his heirs and successors, without the leave or licence of His Majesty, his heirs or successors, for that purpose first had and obtained, under the sign manual of His Majesty, his heirs or successors, or signified by Order in Council, or by proclamation of His Majesty, his heirs or successors, shall take or accept, or shall agree to take or accept, any military commission, or shall otherwise enter into the military service as a commissioned or non-commissioned officer, or shall enlist or enter himself to enlist, or shall agree to enlist or to enter himself, to serve as a soldier, or to be employed or shall serve in any warlike or military operation, in the service of or for or under or in aid of any foreign prince, state, potentate, colony, province, or part of any province or people, or of any person or persons exercising, or assuming to exercise, the powers of government in or over any foreign country, colony, province, or part of any province or people, either as an officer or soldier, or in any other military capacity; or if any natural-born subject of His Majesty shall without such leave or licence, as aforesaid, accept, or agree or take to accept, any commission, warrant, or appointment as an officer, or shall enlist or enter himself, or shall agree to enlist or enter himself, to serve as a sailor or marine, or to be employed or engaged, or shall serve in and on board any ship or vessel of war, or in and on board any ship or vessel used or fitted out, or equipped or intended to be used for any warlike purpose, in the service of or for or under or in aid of any foreign power, Prince, State, Potentate, Colony, Province, or part of any Province or people, or of any person or persons exercising or assuming to exercise the powers of government in or over any foreign country, colony, province, or part of any province or people; or if any natural-born subject of His Majesty shall, without such leave and license as aforesaid, engage, contract, or agree to go, or shall go to any foreign state, country, colony, province, or part of any province, or to any place beyond the seas, with an intent
