Island Scouts To Receive Award From Princess

Fifteen Prince Edward Island Scouts will be awarded the King's Scout Certificate, the highest ranking of the public service badges by Her Royal Highness, Princess Elizabeth when the Royal Party visits the Experimental Farm on Friday afternoon.

The badge was originated by King Edward VII and Lord Baden-Powell, and only five P. E. I. scouts hold it at present. The Scouts who hold it are: Fred James, Albin Galloway, James MacDonald, David Stewart and Moyce Beck of the 1st Montague Troop, John Phillips, Bob Hutchison, Don Livingston, Robin Houston, and Forbes Kennedy of the 9th Charlottetown Troop, and Bill Vies, Lloyd Dalziel, Ian Taylor, Arthur Cauty, Bill Nelson and Alan Massey of the 7th Charlottetown Troop.

An illuminated address which will be presented to the Royal Couple on Friday by the City of Charlottetown together with a set of six oil-colored photographs of their two children, is an outstanding example of artistry by Sister Margaret of Notre Dame Convent.

The address, which is approximately eighteen by twenty-four inches in size, is on a white background and is in full colour. At the top is the Seal of the City, and at the bottom, Princess Elizabeth's Coat of Arms. Joining these is a leaf and flower design, entirely original, which forms a most suitable frame for the old English lettering of the text.

Capital letters throughout are illuminated in gold and vivid colours, and the address is signed by the Acting Mayor and the City Clerk.

COUNCIL DECIDES

as it would save the city money. Councillor Gormley said he had been consulted. Councillor Johnstone stated the ex-mayor had said he consulted all the Council and he objected to a statement to that effect which appeared in the local press. Turning to Mayor Stewart, he said, "I am not questioning your word, Your Worship."

The Mayor replied, "I should hope not." He then reminded a councillor Johnstone that that had been clarified at a later meeting.

Councillor Johnstone then stated that if he believed the Council now he could only say that the statement made by the ex-mayor that he took the matter up privately and personally with each of the members was "not true. He made reference to "the excellent editorial" in the Guardian yesterday on the subject of calling an election and quoted parts of it after which he said "And I can say Amen to that."

He noted that what he termed bad precedents had been set in the past and continuing them "can get us into a lot of trouble." He too paid tribute to Acting Mayor Stewart for the personal stand he took on the matter.

Councillor C.M. Cox said he "heartily approved" of the resolution. "I offered no advice to the Mayor," he said, "when he was ex-Mayor. I asked him when was he a mayor, and he said 'When he takes his seat in the Legislature.' He said he had legal advice and having had that I believe he acted conscientiously."

"Unfortunately"

Councillors Cox continued by saying that there had been a meeting and ex-Mayor MacDonald had expressed the opinion of all the Council that then it was wise to avoid an election. He said that was unfortunate in view of the way it turned out, adding that the Council could not question the Chief Justice and now could only try to get out of it as best it can and avoid such things in the future.

Councillor Arthur Gormley said the ex-Mayor had told him it was two retired judges who told him he could stay in. In his opinion, he would not have stayed if the ex-Mayor had acted conscientiously, he said.

Acting Mayor Stewart said he had no desire to sit there illegally and called on the Council to confirm his naming as acting mayor. He stated that though they were in legal difficulties, "I think this Council has given Charlottetown good government." He then announced his candidacy for the mayoralty on November 28.

Biggest Atom Bomb Of Fall Series Exploded

By Bill Becker

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Nov. 5—(AP)—A strong, fiery atom bomb—the most powerful and brilliant in the fall test series at Yucca Flat—rocked the Southern Nevada desert for miles today but no serious damage was reported.

Children were released from school in the little town of Caliente, Nev., (population 1,000) as the Atomic Energy Commission issued a special warning to the community, but a freak of atmospheric lines spared the town. Telephone lines were hit, however, and services were disrupted briefly. Spectators watched the atomic displays from the streets.

The same strange action sent the shock waves bounding harmlessly past more heavily-populated Las Vegas.

Shock 50 Miles Away

But the explosion—accompanied by a full-scale, 10-second fireball at 11:30 a. m. EST—jagged observers on Mt. Charleston, 50 miles from the test site. A double-waved shock, following the flash by nearly ten minutes, had the intensity of a medium earthquake.

The fifth in the present series, today's bomb seemed to, have twice the power of No. 4, which tested troops in Exercise Desert Rock last Thursday.

That blast broke seven store windows in Las Vegas, Charleston. Observers today rushed into town expecting to find dozens of panes smashed. But Las Vegas got only the flash and a mild rumble. The shock waves reverberated for 30 seconds in the surrounding hills, then bounced on into open desert.

Shock Waves Bounce

An A. E. C. spokesman said the phenomenon, which is only partly understood by scientists, is caused by the sharp wave hitting a temperature inversion layer in the air (that is, a layer of air beneath the hot air that normally exists). This earth-to-atmosphere-to-earth process sometimes is repeated as many as four times.

"Fortunately, it took a good high bounce over Caliente, where just 50 minutes before, our preliminary TNT blast hit right on the nose," the A. E. C. spokesman said.

The A. E. C. immediately warned all residents of Caliente, 90 miles northeast of Yucca Flat, to open their windows and get outdoors. The children were marched out of school in an orderly drill, watched the flash and cloud formation, and waited for the big shock that never came.

A rumble was heard nine minutes later.

Mr. LePage had previously been in hospital suffering from an attack of pneumonia, but had returned to his home last Wednesday. Drama Course To Open At Winsloe

An enthusiastic group, representing drama clubs from many sections of the Province, gathered at Winsloe last evening to register for a course under the direction of Mr. Michael Meiklejohn, Director of Dramatics under the Department of Physical Fitness Ottawa.

Sponsored by the P. E. I. Department of Adult Education, Mr. Meiklejohn has held classes covering every phase of play production in many Canadian Centres, and citizens of this Province are fortunate in having his services made available to them.

Registration was not complete last evening and it is expected that this morning will see the total of participants brought up to fifteen. The tentative schedule of the course includes periods of discussion on casting, staging, production planning, settings, rehearsals, lighting, costume and color, and polishing the play. Films will be shown covering many of these phases through the courtesy of the National Film Board.

Mr. Meiklejohn will conclude his present course on Thursday evening, and will then give another course in response to a special request by the Little Theatre Guild of Charlottetown. His latter course will deal principally with the problems of the director and will be held in the L. T. G.'s, newly acquired Green Room.

Will Receive Cup From Hands Of Princess Elizabeth

The presentation by Her Royal Highness Princess Elizabeth of the Revolver Challenge Cup to Corporal William Beatty of the Summerside detachment of the R.C.M.P., will take place at the Experimental Farm on Friday afternoon.

The trophy, awarded to the best pistol shot in the R.C.M.P., was donated for annual competition to the Royal North West Mounted Police in 1912 by His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught, then Governor-General of Canada.

In the Fall of 1950, 1,800 participated in the competition, and eight tied for top honours with a score of 239 out of a possible 240 points. In May, 1951, the course was re-fired by these eight members of the Force, with Corporal Beatty emerging the winner with a perfect score of 240.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC

Royal Visit Traffic Regulations

During the Royal Visit to Charlottetown on November 9, 1951, it will be necessary for safety and convenience, TO ENFORCE certain restrictions to regulate the traffic in the city and to insure that Their Royal Highnesses are seen by the greatest number of people.

During specified hours there must be absolutely no parking or traffic on the routes of the Royal Procession.

At 11:30 A.M. Their Royal Highnesses arrive C.N.R. Station and proceed to Province building via Weymouth, Euston, Gt. George, Grafton, Prince and Richmond Sts. No parking or traffic movement on these streets from 10:45 A.M. until Procession has passed to a reasonable distance, and then only with the greatest care for the safety of the many pedestrians.

At 12:30 P.M. the Royal Party proceed to City Hall via Richmond, Queen and Kent Streets. No parking or traffic movement on these streets from 11:30 A.M. and then only with the greatest care for all.

At 12:40 P.M. Royal Party will leave City Hall for Government House via Kent, Queen, Water, Rochford, Brighton Rd., Ambrose, McGill Ave., North River Road and Park Roadway. No Traffic or Parking on these streets between 11:30 A.M. and 1:00 P.M. Then with great care, as shown above.

At 3:00 P.M. Royal Party leave Government House via Park Roadway, Brighton Rd., Euston, Queen, Grafton, Weymouth, Longworth Ave. and Mt. Edward Road for the Experimental Farm. No traffic or parking on these streets between 2:45 P.M. and 3:30 P.M. Then as before watch the pedestrians.

At 4:45 P.M. Royal Party will leave the Experimental Farm for the Forum via Mt. Edward Road, Longworth Ave., Weymouth and Fitzroy Sts. No traffic or parking on these streets between 4:30 P.M. and 5:30 P.M. During the afternoon that portion of Fitzroy St., between Weymouth and Cumberland will be closed and barricaded to all vehicular traffic.

At 5:15 P.M. Their Royal Highnesses will leave Forum for C.N.R. Station, via Fitzroy and Weymouth Streets. No traffic or parking on these streets between 5:00 P.M. and 5:30 P.M.

At 7:45 P.M. Royal Party will leave C.N.R. Station for Charlottetown Hotel via Weymouth and Kent Streets. No parking or traffic on these streets after 7:30 P.M. until the Party have arrived at Charlottetown Hotel.

At 10:00 P.M. the Royal Party will leave Charlottetown Hotel for Railway Wharf via Kent and Prince Streets. No Parking or Traffic on these streets after 9:45 A.M. until arrival at Wharf.

Traffic will be stopped over Hillsboro Bridge for approximately one half hour, possibly 11:00 A.M. to 11:30 A.M. Parties coming that way should keep this in mind.

No doubt there will be a great many people in the city that day; mostly by automobile or truck. It may be difficult to park close to the Procession routes, so it is suggested that traffic entering from North River Road can find a parking place in the field just west of the P. E. I. Hospital. Those coming in the Malpeque Road would find a good parking place on Elm Avenue where the Circus is usually held. Parties from St. Peter's Road and Hillsboro Bridge should think of the Exhibition Grounds and adjoining field. It is not imperative that all stop at these places, but it will relieve the traffic situation. Many out-of-town people with friends or relatives in the city could make arrangements to park in their yards. Citizens on streets not marked for the Royal Procession could also assist greatly by using their yards that day and leaving the streets for out of town people. For those attending the Experimental Farm there is a good sized parking lot available at the Matthews-Wells Farm just south of the farm. Properly marked cars will find miles of space on streets not covered by the Royal Party.

The Police ask only for your cooperation in a difficult task. They have no intention to herd, coerce or restrain the public; but to use only that amount of direction that will ensure the safety of all and no embarrassment to the Royal Couple. These instructions should be read in conjunction with any issued by the Royal Visit Advisory Committee.

C.W. MACARTHUR,
Chief of Police.
