HAPPENINGS

To meet Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was the wonderful experience of Prince Edward Island people recently. On Sunday afternoon, May 2nd, Mrs. H. R. Large, Charlottetown, Mrs. Roy Quigley, Halifax, and Mr. and Mrs. David Walker, Charlottetown, were the guests of honor of Dr. and Mrs. H. Shirman Hirst at a reception given at their home, Hyde Park, New York.

Mrs. Roosevelt was a guest and as Mrs. Large and her daughter, Mrs. Walker, sat either side of Mrs. Roosevelt on the settee, they immediately felt at ease in the company of this internationally well-known woman.

An extremely gracious manner with a regal quality is that of Mrs. Roosevelt. Despite her world interests Mrs. Roosevelt like any other grandmother loves to talk about her grandchildren. She referred to the recent story of the camel which her granddaughter wished to bring with them from their trip to Egypt but also the camel might get through the needle's eye but not through the U. S. customs.

Mrs. Roosevelt begins the day by taking her dogs for a walk. Every day is busy but Mrs. Roosevelt seems to thrive on it. She does not interfere in any way with her conversation.

Of course she endeared herself to Islanders as she talked at length about their country. Her husband had sailed around this province and had talked about it to Mrs. Roosevelt. She plans to visit here and asked about places to visit.

A tangible keepsake of the visit with Mrs. Roosevelt was her autographed book "On My Own". To read Mrs. Roosevelt's book is a joy but to meet the author in person was indeed an experience of a lifetime.

Saint Andrews Guild, Zion Church, recently had as its guest of honor Mrs. Walter Lee, Mrs.

Lee has recently come here as a bride from China. A gift was presented to Mrs. Lee and a warm welcome given to this very charming newcomer to our midst.

Another delightful feature of the afternoon was the address given by Mrs. I. Rachmel who was the guest speaker at the same meeting. Mrs. Rachmel showed slides of the recent trip to Holy Land which she, Dr. Rachmel and David had enjoyed. Mrs. Rachmel entreated her listeners with history past and present and the slides were beautiful.

Mrs. Alexander Agnew is being welcomed home from Montreal where she spent the winter with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lidstone.

Mrs. A. E. Davies and Miss F. Ruth Vintcombe have returned from a six months visit to Dunedin, Florida.

Mrs. H. M. Simpson has returned from Morrisville, Penn., where she has been visiting the Rev. W. T. and Mrs. Warren and grandchildren.

Mrs. Michael J. Doyle returned last week from Boston, Mass., where she has been spending the winter with her daughter, Miss Margaret Doyle, R.N.

Squadron Leader and Mrs. D. C. Mitchell of Loversall, Yorkshire, England, are at present on a motor tour of the continent and are visiting many different countries.

Squadron Leader Douglas Murphy of the R.C.A.F., Edmonton, is at present on a brief visit to P. E. Island to see his mother, Mrs. Austin Murphy of Emerald and his many relatives and friends.

S. L. Murphy's mother was severely burned in a flash fire in her home at Emerald two weeks ago. She is now recuperating in Charlottetown Hospital. Her many friends will be glad to hear that she is progressing as favorably as can be expected after a one-third area burn.

Squad. Leader Murphy is the guest of his brother William A. Murphy, of the Biology Dept. of Fisheries situated in the Dominion Building. S. L. Murphy leaves on return to Edmonton on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Weir and baby Meriam, who have been visiting relatives in the city, returned by plane Tuesday to their home in Dartmouth.

MRS. HUGH SIMPSON pours tea and is assisted by members of the Alpha Chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority at their Talisman Tea. Members shown here are: Mrs. Norman MacLeod, Mrs. Bill Thompson, Mrs. E. H. Lord, Mrs. Jerry Veinot, Mrs. E. S. Matheson, Miss Helen Cox, Mrs. Arthur MacRae, Mrs. Don Wonnacott, Mrs. Somerled Trainor, Miss Frankie MacMillan, Mrs. Ralph Manning.

The Annual Talisman Tea Is Held By Sorority Sisters

The classic phrase — l'air de Paris — could be applied to the Talisman Tea held Tuesday afternoon at the "Y" and sponsored by the Alpha chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

Many things contributed to this atmosphere. There was the exquisitely appointed tea table with its refectory shaped floral centerpiece of Talisman roses and chrysanthemums. This was enhanced by English hand-made, hand chaste tall silver candleabra with yellow tapers. The sorority crest—Life, Learning and Friendship — was prominently displayed. The sorority was founded in the New World but there are also branches in France.

But to come back to the old world flavor. The tables for four around which the people sat were reminiscent of the sidewalk cafes of Paris or the fashion salons at which the great collections are exhibited. Then of course the millinery loaned by H-Style was Paris inspired! The models wearing these hats were well chosen to set the fashion of the day.

The club president, Miss Helen Cox welcomed the guests. She was charming in a Liberty print wore: Mrs. Charles Trainor, lemon yellow cloche in nylon organdy; Mrs. Jerry Veinot off the face cloche in mint green with organza matching bow at the back.

Mrs. E. S. Matheson, mint green, ruffled brim, cherry wreath encircling brim; Mrs. L. R. Bagnall small pink hat with scalloped brim; Miss Shirley Stearns, small sailor hat in orange and white with corded silk orange streamers. Miss Stearns, who plays each year for the sorority teas and whose selections are so much appreciated, was presented with a gift.

Mrs. William Thompson, Royal blue cloche covered with matching flowers; Mrs. Arthur MacRae, large white hat in fancy mohair material trimmed with white velvet band; Miss Phyllis White, portrait hat ripple brim with white band; Mrs. Roy Vessey, white ribbon hat with high crown pixie style; Mrs. Gordon Bears, natural straw, small high hat with side drupe and large organza bow. Mrs. David MacLeod large portrait hat in white, white organza trim and white rose.

Mrs. Walter Bears attended the tea and was most gracious in her comments. Mrs. Bears was wearing a tailored ensemble, small hat and a Russian squirrel cape stole.

The weather was fine and great numbers attended. The basic ingredient of the afternoon may have been hard work but all concerned were well rewarded and everyone present had a happy afternoon at the Sorority Tea.

ELLEN'S DIARY

House By Side Of Road Provides Pleasant Visit

May drew a pleasant day in over the hills of this morning—one blessed with sunlight and a light warming wind. It put young lings of the cattle-kind to day-pasture, youngest lambskins and mothers to the sun of the orchard. We saw a lad go after school through his pleasantness with a bamboo pole off with the pup to a spell at the fishin' in the stream.

We suppose, if privileged to look back on this day from the aftermath of next May, it will be to recall a stroll we enjoyed when the afterglow was fading from the quiet of the farmlands. Our outing was to end at Rob's, a mile away, where the W.I. of that district was to foregather to the May meeting, flower-seeds and slips, new spring handros, pretty gowns and all.

It was a lovely evening—so still the bullfrogs' bass notes from the vicinity of the mill-stream below came up to us on the road above, clear and musical. The stream itself provided us with its seasonal bright beauty and the freshly smoothed road made a nice avenue for our steps and for the machines which passed to and fro there.

We like to walk the mile. Indeed much prefer it to going by machine as James and the others would have had us go. Besides in a corner of mind there was the notion to break the distance in a spring-call on Mr. and Mrs. A. not long returned from their winter-stay in the city. A visit with them is a pleasant experience. In the coziness of that sheltered farmhouse "by the side of the road" and close by the dip of stream, one may invariably gain much refreshment of spirit and come away the better for the stay.

They have the modern fixings electricity brings but they also have the nice old furniture, the pretty prisms lamps, the old dishes and suchlike which have come down with them through years together.

There is the quaint marble-based glass ink-well ("Not an antique though!" Mr. A. chuckled) he had gained in boyhood as a reward for being "the ideal student" in the school Gage now at the organ, a pretty memento of Mrs. A's childhood days. There was, and of much interest too, the strapped wallet of Mr. A's father, long years gone from his farming and butchering and treks to market on remembered market days. It had held, we could appreciate, many a hard-won and honest dollar gained in those austere days of that early Island farming of which the young generations know so little. "You're late!" someone smiled, when at length we arrived at Rob's to join the circle of members already gathered there.

And Granddaughter—where had she been this evening?

Until tomorrow—Diary—Goodnight.

Refreshing Fruit Flavors Enhance Dessert Course

By IDA BAILEY ALLEN

"The fruit goblets you originated, Madame, are one of the most delightful and charming ways in which both fruit juice and pulp can be served.

"To me their flavor is unique because they are made of two or three fruits. These are put through a fruit press or blender or even a food-chopper, according to their degree of softness. They are tart and refreshing and look beautiful in clear glass goblets."

Rhubarb, strawberry, pineapple goblet: Put 1/2 c. chilled sweetened stewed Rhubarb and juice in blender. Add 8 canned or fresh pineapple chunks and 1/4 c. strawberries. Blend 2 min. (or rub through sieve). Serves 2.
