

Woman and Home.

RULES OF POLITENESS WRITTEN FOR A TWELVE-YEAR-OLD NEPHEW.

"Auntie M," pointed out the following rules for a little 12-year-old nephew, who was the light of her eyes, "if not always the joy of her heart, for though a good-natured, amiable boy in the main he would offend against the 'proprieties' frequently."

First come manners for the street! Hat lifted in saying "good-bye" or "How do you do?"

Hat lifted when offering a seat in a car or in acknowledging a favor.

Keep step with any one you walk with.

Always precede a lady up stairs and ask her if you may precede her in passing through a crowd or public place.

Hat off the moment you enter a street door and when you step into a private hall or office.

Let a lady pass first always, unless she asks you to precede her. In the parlor stand till every lady in the room is seated, also older persons.

Rise if a lady comes in after you are seated and stand till she takes a seat.

Look people straight in the face when speaking or being spoken to.

Let ladies pass through a door first, standing aside for them.

In the dining-room take your seat after ladies and elders.

Never play with knife, fork or spoon. Do not take your napkin in a bunch in your hand.

Eat as fast or as slow as others, and finish the course when they do.

Rise when ladies leave the room and stand till they are out.

If all go out together, gentlemen stand by the door till ladies pass.

Special rules for the mouth are that all noise in eating and smacking of the lips should be avoided.

Cover the mouth with hand or napkin when obliged to remove anything from it.

Use your handkerchief unobtrusively always.

Do not look toward a bed-room when passing. Always knock at any private room door.

These rules are imperative. There are many other little points which add to the grace of a gentleman, but to break any of these rules is almost unpardonable.—Yonkers Gazette.

Rasp and Greasing Hooves

The horse is one of the most superbly perfect of Nature's works, viewed physically; and he occupies besides an exalted position among animals as to his intelligent and moral qualities. It is, therefore, most painful to see how, under the handling of intelligent (?) man, he is maltreated and even abused. He submits his neck to the yoke uncomplainingly; he accepts the iron-plating of his feet; and he allows the galling cheek upon the movements of his head, and yet gives man his best service, even to the death. The ignorant smith has his views as to what should be the shape of his feet. So he cuts and rasps, and forms them to suit himself. He has an idea that the hoof is made on purpose for him to rasp and shoe, and exercise all the tools of his trade upon. So he makes a shoe and fits the hoof to it; he removes the natural polished exterior, which by its tough elasticity defends the tender parts from injury, is nearly impervious to water, and permits a little evaporation of internal moisture, by which it is kept normally pliable and vitalized to the very surface. He rounds and smooths off the new surface; leaves it in a condition to allow the moisture of the hoof to pass off rapidly, and the hoof to dry and crack, and thus he recommends the application of tar and grease and lamp-black, as if he were trying to render an old boot pliable and presentable. The greasing may be well enough—better than nothing—after the mischief is done. But why do sensible horse-owners allow the evil which their peremptory orders, if not their more remonstrances, would prevent?—American Agriculturist.

Scarlet Fever in Milk.

The latest theory—by no means a reassuring one—as to the nature and origin of scarlet fever, is that it may be had "direct from the cow," and is, in short, the form assumed in human beings by some originally vaccine disease. An epidemic, or rather several epidemics, of scarlet fever in Marylebone, Hampstead and other districts, have been traced to certain milk. Every care has been taken to discover whether the milk could have been infected after leaving the cow, and on full investigation this theory has been excluded. One of the cows, "the appearance of which was least satisfactory," has now been bought and conveyed to the Brown Institution, where experiments are being made with the milk and other secretions. The sanitary officers of the Marylebone district certainly deserve credit for the promptitude with which they seem to have nipped in the bud what might have become a formidable epidemic, and for the care with which they have conducted an investigation which may lead to important scientific results.—Pall Mall Gazette.

MAKE HENS LAY CHICKEN CHOLERA

It is a well-known fact that most of the Hens and Cattle Powder sold in this country is worthless; that Sheridan's Condition Powder is absolutely pure and very valuable. Nothing on Earth will make hens lay like Sheridan's Condition Powder. Dear, one responsible to each pair of food. It will also positively prevent and cure CHICKEN CHOLERA.

MANHOOD

How Lost, How Restored.

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cts or two postage stamps

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.
