

Anderson Easily Trounces Cooper For Tennis Crown

MELBOURNE (AP)—Mal Anderson's tennis racket is hot again.

The lean Queenlander, who has been in a prolonged slump since his impressive victory in the American Nationals at Forest Hills, N.Y., in a round-robin final, won Saturday with a 66-minute, straight-set victory over his Australian teammate, Ashley Cooper, for the Victorian Championship.

The score was 7-5, 6-4, 6-3. It tells little of the superiority which the quick-nimble-footed Anderson held over his more cumbersome countryman.

Perry Jones, 70-year-old U.S. Davis Cup captain, and Jack Kramer, who is advising him, both delayed their trip to Perth to watch the all-Australian final. They were impressed, but Jones refused to concede that the match dimmed America's hopes of recapturing the big silver bowl.

"Any time Anderson hits form it is bad news for us," said Kramer, who reports say, will sign both finalists to pro contracts after the Davis Cup challenge round.

"When he is right he probably is the best amateur tennis player in the world."

Anderson and Cooper both were assured of singles assignments in the Davis Cup challenge round before the match, but Anderson was regarded as second to his hard-hitting teammate. Cooper beat him in the final for both the U.S. and Australian championships and added Wimbledon to this season's list of laurels.

Now the situation may be reversed. Anderson may be the strongest bet for keeping the cup at home.

WON DOUBLES TOO

Anderson also was best in the doubles final. He teamed with young Rod Laver, a red-haired left-hander, to beat Cooper and Neale Fraser for the title 5-7, 6-4, 9-7, 6-4.

Davis Cup selectors were among the crowd of 9,000 at Perth, where they were bound to be impressed by Anderson's doubles play. There is a chance Fraser may be paired with Anderson, instead of Laver, in the challenge round.

South Africa's Sandra Reynolds upset Australia's top-seeded Lorraine Cochrane 6-4, 8-6 to win the women's singles title. Mary Hawton and Thelma Long defeated Miss Reynolds and Renee Schuurman of South Africa 6-2, 12-10 in the women's doubles final.

Al Bidding of Toronto carded a fourth-round 70 for a 71-73-69-70-283 total. He won $145.

Durelle Receives Large Welcome

MONCTON (CP)—Moncton welcomed Yvon Durelle back to the Maritimes Saturday and the Baie Ste. Anne, N.B. light-heavyweight had tears in his eyes when he thanked supporters for the homecoming.

Durelle, who lost to world light-heavyweight champion Archie Moore in Montreal Dec. 10, was taken through downtown streets at the head of a 100-car motorcade.

"I don't deserve it. I let you down," said the husky fisherman, who knocked Moore to the canvas four times before being knocked out in the 11th round.

SPORTS FRONT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

TORONTO MAPLE LEAFS will go along with George "Punch" Imlach and Bert Olmstead guiding their destinies for the remainder of the 1953-54 season. The Alfie Pike deal, as far as this season is concerned, is washed up. Pike will stay with the Winnipeg Warriors of the Western Hockey League where he has the coaching job.

Pike gave the matter serious consideration before turning down the Toronto offer. The way things have been going around the Maple Leaf Gardens this fall probably made Mr. Pike just a bit jittery about packing up and leaving his home in the west.

However, Pike and the Leafs are not through talking terms. They are to get together next spring and try to work out satisfactory arrangements that will bring Alfie east to direct the Leaf traffic.

Coaches Are Fed Up With International Hockey Rules

TORONTO (CP)—At least two Canadian university hockey coaches already are fed up with the international rules under which their college loop operates this season.

The eastern intercollegiate season has only been under way three weeks but coach Jack Kennedy of the University of Toronto Varsity Blues and Roland Blau of the University of Montreal Carabins are objecting.

"These rules kill the game," said Kennedy after his squad had blanked the Carabins 3-0 Friday night. "I was never in favor of adopting them and I definitely hope the rules are dropped after this season."

Blau said "with good officiating, Canadian rules are the best. I'm against rough play but if the referees would apply the rules, hockey would be better under our own rules."

"Not one of my players is in favor of the changes. Boarding and charging can be eliminated while playing our own game."

The hockey committees of the four colleges—Toronto, Montreal, McGill University and Laval University—voted on the changes. McGill opposed the scheme at the time.
