

The Daily Examiner JULY 18, 1885.

The Cape Tormentine Railway. An additional subsidy of $3,200 per mile, has been granted by the Dominion Government in aid of this railway; and we sincerely hope that no excuse is left for further delay in its construction.

Additional Indemnity. In the Supplementary Estimates, as published by some of the newspapers, there is an item of $144,500 for "increased sessional allowance for the present session only."

Canada's Friends in Power.

Of the present British Cabinet there are several prominent members who have shown friendship to Canada. An English correspondent remarks that Lord Carnarvon, who is now Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, was Colonial Secretary when the Confederation of the Provinces of Canada was realized.

Reduction in Taxation.

The St. John Globe, instead of confining itself to the question of reciprocity between Jamaica and Canada—to which we referred some days ago, in taking exception to that journal's statements on the levying of duties on sugar—avoids that issue, and branches off into another: the amount of money borrowed by the present Government.

Table with 2 columns: Liabilities and Assets. Liabilities: 1867 $93,046,051; 1874 141,163,551; 1878 174,675,833; 1884 252,482,416. Assets: 1867 $17,317,418; 1874 32,839,596; 1878 34,595,200; 1884 60,762,482.

debt $2,000,000 above expenditure on capital account; the Conservatives spent $25,766,000 more upon public works than the increase in the debt."

If the country is to be developed, and if great public works, at the magnitude of which the Grits stand almost breathless, are to be constructed, there must be a continual increase in the debt for some years to come.

"But," says the Globe, "it is by no means clear that amounts lost to the revenue would be saved to the people." We thought the opposite was the doctrine of the Grits; but the planks seem to be slipping one by one from under their feet.

Fire in Summerside.

Yesterday, at noon, the fire bell rang out its warning notes that the devouring element was again at work in Summerside. The fire was discovered in a stable in the rear of a building occupied by James Howe, Esq., Stipendiary Magistrate.

The buildings are owned by Mr. Artemas Rogers, son of David Rogers, Esq., and were insured in the London Mutual of Canada for $900. The difficulty in obtaining a supply of water for the hand-engines, shows that Summerside requires a steam fire engine.

Supreme Court, Queen's County.

CONNOR vs. McKinnon—The Jury in this case retired at 1 o'clock, but were not yet returned with a verdict. This afternoon the prisoners convicted at the present Term were placed in the dock to receive their sentences:

The Value of a Mackerel.

This member of the Scromber family is selling at about one cent each in the market, and though the catch is large, the size is small, but, when perfectly fresh, very good. In 1893 mackerel were caught so plentifully at Dover, England, that sixty sold for one shilling (25c) or five for two cents, while the year before, (1897) the first Brighton mackerel boat reached Billingsgate, London, on the 14th May, and sold the whole load at 40 guineas (about $200) per hundred.
