THE DAILY EXAMINER.

AUGUST 16, 1894.

UNJUST AND TYRANNICAL.

The first scene in the practical application of the income tax is now being enacted. A myrmidon of the Provincial Government is delivering the tax bills. Wherever he goes there follows a storm of indignation. It is not enough that the people should be taxed. But in this time of dullness, when most persons have to strive hard and save with the utmost care to make ends meet, to be assessed as if they were in the receipt of large and handsome incomes and could without any effort pay taxes ranging from $10 to $300 each—this it is that causes the path of the man who delivers the bills to be marked by explosions of vituperative rhetoric. Under the circumstances citizens feel that they are grossly insulted. The poor man who delivers the bills is, of course, not to be blamed. He has only obeyed the orders of his superiors. Their policy is not only to tax the people by an obnoxious method which involves annoying interference with the people's private business, but to force every man to take an oath as to the amount of his income—so that Mr. Fred Peters, and Mr. Donald Farquharson, bank directors, etc., and their colleagues, may know exactly what his financial position is. For rank injustice and ingenious tyranny the scheme is unique. It is worthy of a Turkish Grand Vizier. We have no doubt that rather than give our political traders the information which they have, under legal forms, intrigued to get, there are some, perhaps many persons, who will pay the full amount of the outrageous tax bill which has been made out against them. They must either be deceived by the Government or forced to let members of the Government know exactly how much they have to come and go upon; and they will prefer to be fleeced.

THE UNITED STATES.

The news that the House of Representatives accepted the Senate Tariff Bill is true. But it is not true that President Cleveland has not vetoed it. In view of all the circumstances, it is however, hardly probable that the Presidential power to veto will be exerted in this case. The Senate Bill is, if anything, less drastic than the McKinley tariff; and it is impossible at present to obtain anything better. So, though it is felt that the bills placing sugar, coal and iron upon the free list, passed by the House of Representatives, cannot pass the Senate, it is not likely that President Cleveland will veto the Senate Tariff Bill, obnoxious though it be.

Under it all raw sugars are subject to a duty of 40 per cent. ad valorem.

Sugars about No. 16 (refined) one-eighth per cent. additional.

Sugars produced in bounty paying countries, one-tenth per cent. additional to these rates.

Hawaiian sugar is still free under the reciprocity treaty.

Iron ore, 40 cents per ton.

Pig, $4 per ton.

Iron or steel rails, 7-20 of one per cent per pound.

Tobacco for wrappers, $1.50 per pound unstemmed, $2.25 stemmed.

Cigars and cigarettes, $4 per pound and 25 per cent. ad valorem.

Whiskey is taxed at $1.10 per gallon; and the bonded period is fixed at eight years.

Coal, bituminous and large slack, 15 cents per ton.

Logs and sawn lumber and timber (save tropical woods) and wool are free.

Tin plate 1.1-15 cents per pound after October 1st.

The exact position of eggs, potatoes and other things in which we are interested is not stated. We believe that the duty on eggs is three cents per dozen and upon potatoes 15 cents per bushel.

We occasionally hear dyed-in-the-wool grits complain because a few changes were at the instance of manufacturers, made in the Canadian tariff after it was introduced by Mr. Foster. But what would the Government say if the Government had been two years ago elected to readjust the tariff upon a free trade basis, and had failed as the Democratic Party of the United States have failed! The Government and the Conservative Party and the Constitution would then be denounced—and with good reason. To say that the people of the United States rule in the United States is to say that which is not the fact. A clever and unscrupulous band of political manipulators have "fixed" the tariff contrary to the will of the people, and it is charged that for doing so they have had their palms well greased.

—The Empire: There are unsurpassed opportunities on P. E. Island inviting settlement by English well to do farmers, who may desire to come from Europe, and tourists in search of a cool climate, beautiful scenery and quiet resting places, would find themselves with country comforts in hundreds of places in this beautiful Island Province.

—Ottawa Journal: Lord Aberdeen's advice to the farmers of Prince Edward Island to go in more and more for butter and cheese making is good advice for farmers everywhere in Canada. The day of profit from grain growing is past. Direct profit from hay is obtained at a fatal cost to the soil. But the day of profit from dairying, fruit-growing and vegetables is far brighter and richer than ever, thanks to modern rapid transit.

—Of the people's savings the Government has never held so large a sum as at the present time; the aggregate deposits in both classes of banks thus comparing:

DEPOSITS IN SAVINGS BANKS.

1894.....	$43,036,628	1896.....	$41,012,465
1893.....	41,849,658	1889.....	42,956,857
1892.....	39,329,547	1884.....	29,217,536
1891.....	39,400,026	1878.....	8,497,013

When Sir Richard Cartwright was Finance Minister he declared that no better test of the material condition of the great body of the people can be found than the savings banks returns, and as evidence of the substantial thrift and well-being of the Canadian people these figures are most gratifying.

PERSONAL.

Mr. J. A. Maskell, of Cambridge, Mass.—formerly of Souris—is here with his family spending the holidays.

There were registered at the Hotel Davies this morning: J E Hill, Kensington; Lewis F Beer, do; C H S Sterns, do; W E Burke, Quincy, Mass; F R Burke, do; F G Holden, Boston.

CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

The twenty-seventh annual meeting of the Canadian Medical Association will be held in St. John, N. B., on Wednesday and Thursday, August 22nd and 23rd.

Members will please bear in mind that certificates entitling them to reduced fares are to be obtained from the station agent at point of departure.

One full fare is to be paid, and on presentation of the certificate on the return journey, signed by the Secretary, a ticket will be issued free of charge to local members. Tickets must be purchased within two days of the meeting.

It is expected that quite a number of medical men from P. E. Island will attend.

The reduced rates also apply to their wives and families.

The committee of local arrangements have not spared themselves in their endeavors to make this the best meeting of the Association, and hope there will be a very large attendance.

The Maritime Medical Association meets on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock for election of officers and other business, and these will become part of the Canadian Association, their papers being given at the latter meeting.

THE SECRET OF LIFE.

According to a recent despatch from London, the annual disclosure of the latest discoveries in various branches of science being made at the meeting of the British Association, Oxford, is an interesting budget. A year ago the biologists, who had believed that they were on the point of solving the mystery of life, acknowledged themselves baffled. Now Prof. Schaefer, president of the section of physiology, announces the discovery in each tiny animal cell containing life of what he terms "an attraction particle." It should be remembered that when the biologists discovered the cell principle of life they thought it impossible to subdivide these infinitely small a one, but the microscope has shown the existence of this particle in each cell, which is itself a structure, sui generis, having a degnite existence and a definite function of its own. It is almost as minute an object as it is possible to conceive. In a cell which is magnified one thousand diametres, the central particle is merely the size of a pin point. Yet this almost infinitely small object exerts an extraordinary influence over the whole cell, which may be many thousand times its size. It initiates and directs these processes which result in the multiplication of cells, and directly, therefore, it is concerned in directing the general growth of the individual and ultimately the propagation of species. It is shown, then, that the principle of life is contained in particle a thousand times smaller than the smallest object which the best microscope of a few years ago was able to perceive, and the latest name for the unsolved mystery of life is "an attraction particle."

TO RELIEVE WELLMAN.

Following quickly upon the receipt of intelligence of the disaster that befell the Wellman Arctic expedition steamer Ragnvald Jarl, which was crushed in the ice off Walden island after Mr. Wellman and other explorers had started north on sledges, comes news of an expedition for the relief of Mr. Wellman and his party. A despatch from Tromso, Norway, states that the sealing vessel Malygen and a fast cutter sailed from that port on Friday evening last for Spitzbergen, there object being to bring back the members of the expedition. The cutter is under the command of Captain Bottolfsen, who was master of Ragnvald Jarl and who was the first to bring authentic news of the loss of the steamer. The Malygen carries a large supply of winter clothing and also large quantities of provisions. The despatch adds that the relief expedition was fitted out by the consul of Aagard. On June 17 Wellman and his companion were in command of Cape Platen, and the relief expedition will approach as near as possible to that point in order to pick them up. The Malygen is the sealer that rescued Capt. Bottolfsen, Winship, Hyeradhl and Hovde after they travelled 230 miles over the ice from where the Ragnvald Jarl had gone down.

In Chicago a petition has been recorded for an injunction against Sunday baseball. The perfection of liberty and freedom which Americans are supposed to admire cannot be secured unless the baseball enthusiasts agreed to confine their three-bag shouts within the precincts.

BRITISH FLEET IN CHINESE WATERS

The possibility of Great Britain being forced to take an active part in the Corean affair, which has brought on a war between China and Japan, makes the strength of the British fleet in Chinese waters a matter of considerable interest. The following table shows the British ships of war now in Chinese waters, with the number of their guns, their tonnage and horse power:

	Guns.	Tons.	Horse power.
Imperieuse	14	8400	10000
Alacrity	4	1700	2000
Archer	6	1770	3500
Caroline	14	1420	1400
Daphne	8	1140	2000
Firebrand	4	455	360
Leander	10	9300	5000
Linnet	5	756	870
Mercury	13	3730	6000
Pallas	8	2575	7500
Peacock	6	755	1200
Pigmy	6	755	1200
Plover	6	755	1200
Porpoise	6	755	1200
Rattler	6	755	1200
Radpole	6	805	1200
Severn	12	4050	6000
Swift	5	756	870

The only ironclad in the fleet is the Imperieuse, a ship built in 1883, which carries 10 inches of steel-faced armor on her sides, and is armed with four 24-ton guns. The Imperieuse has a speed of nearly 17 knots, but she is not now rated as a battleship, but as a first-class cruiser. None of the other ships on the China station can be considered as powerful fighting ships. The Chinese fleet, however, might be speedily reinforced from the Australian squadron the flagship of which is the Orlando, a belted cruiser with 10 inches of steel on her sides and armed with two 22-ton guns. This vessel has a speed of nearly 19 knots. It is evident that in the event of a serious conflict in Chinese waters the British fleet would have to be reinforced by heavy ironclads from the Mediterranean.

CANADIAN CHINESE TRADER

Gives His Impressions on the War.

Mr. Frans Gove, the only Canadian trader in Shanghai, passed through Montreal on Saturday. He expressed himself freely to a Star reporter at the Windsor Hotel: "I left Shanghai July 7. Everybody knew trouble was brewing, but we merchants do not mind it at all. The trade is all in the treaty ports and both the Japanese and Chinese have a very wholesome horror of British men of war coming around. Since war was declared I have come through Japan and trade is going on just as usual. I have been seventeen years in Shanghai and over China and I can tell you my impression is that this war will be a long one. Both races are very vindictive, but I have no doubt that China will in the long run wear out the Japs. It is not a question of naval strength, but a matter of numbers. The Japanese navy is decidedly the stronger. The arithmetical strength of the two navies is about equal, but their personnel is different. The Japanese have their own officers, excellently trained in Europe, and they can lead their men well, but the Chinese navy men will not fight unless led by English officers. There are some of these out there already, and China is doing her best to get more at once. The Chinese sailors are very Chinese-indolent, addicted to opium, and often ignorant of even how to fire a gun. There is no doubt about it that Russia is unfriendly to China. Before the war broke out a Russian man-of-war arrived at Ginsen and saluted the Japanese and American war vessels, but not the Chinese. No, the war will be by no means a fizzle. The Chinese are calling up the Black Flags, and that means very determined business. In any event I back China to win this war, and I was getting rear assaulted on board the steamer by a Japanese Prince for expressing that opinion in his hearing. At any rate business men are not a bit troubled. If anything, the war will do us good. I can't see what European power can interfere at all."

NEW CURE FOR DIPHTHERIA.

So many thousands of children are annually carried off by diphtheria, the sufferings caused by the disease are so agonizing, and the remedies hitherto at the disposal of the medical profession so inadequate that the news of the introduction into the Berlin and London hospitals of a new and efficacious cure for this fell malady cannot be regarded otherwise than as a matter of public interest. Very little has been heard about this remedy until now, owing to the fact that the distinguished bacteriologists engaged in its discovery have been unwilling to subject themselves to the same disadvantage as Dr. Koch, whose cure for consumption has been unjustly proclaimed a failure merely because it was published to the world prematurely, and before it was ready for medical application.

The new cure, briefly speaking, is one of inoculation, with this difference, that, instead of injecting the poison in the system of the patient, one injects the blood of an animal which has been inoculated with a weak culture of the diphtheria bacteria,—the virus of the latter being, however, of so weak a character that it does not affect the animal with the malady, but merely renders it immune thereto. Repeated experiments show a few drops of blood from a horse or any other animal thus rendered immune injected into a human being suffering from diphtheria are sufficient to arrest and cure the disease.

Of course, it is too soon as yet to quote the statistics of the few hundred of cures which have been effected in Berlin and London by this treatment, which is to be fully discussed in all its complicated scientific aspect at the forthcoming International Congress of Hygiene in September at Buda Peson. But, whatever the ultimate result of its application, it has at least one advantage over all the other forms of inoculation hitherto discovered, namely, that the matter injected into the system of the patient is free from poison and consequently harmless.—New York Tribune.

GENERAL TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, August 14.—It has just been discovered here that a local firm has been slaughtering cheap ranch horses, the flesh of which is made into "dried beef." The product is all shipped to Jersey City. The proprietors say that they convert 1,100 horses daily into "dried beef." They buy the horses for less money on the ranges than cattle can be had for.

LONDON, August 14.—The Rome correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says that the Pope received yesterday several clergymen who were recently converted from the Church of England. The pope said he rejoiced at their conversion. He and his successors would be prepared to sacrifice all except the custody of the sacred deposit of truth to welcoming back those separated from the fold by schism and historical events.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—It is rumored in St. Petersburg that England intends to propose to the powers that they co-operate in demanding that both China and Japan withdraw their forces from Corea forthwith and entrust the government of the peninsula to an international conference. The rumor is the subject of much comment. Opinion is general that Russia would never consent to such a proposition; she prefers to let events take their course while her interests are not menaced.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Aug. 14.—According to the authoritative statement of a salesman at Ogdensburg today, Montreal cheese buyers are making a united effort to produce a corner in the English cheese market for their own special benefit. The news has created intense interest in this dairy country. Wealthy cheese buyers of Montreal, it is said, have already filled their large cold storages, and have commenced renting cold storages about the country. They have agents scouring Canada and Northern New York. Brockville buyers have men in Jefferson and Lewis counties instructing makers as to the kind of cheese they want. The syndicate are buying to hold, expecting a rise in the market.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The Field, in its yachting article, says: "The Britannia has now defeated the Vigilant under every condition of weather and sea, except a hard-reefed sail in a heavy head sea. The contests are becoming monotonous to both. An incidental result is that Mr. Gould has declined to sail the 15 miles to windward match, on the ground that the Vigilant won the event she came over here for, last Saturday, and that she does not desire any further contests of the kind."

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—The stampede of Pullman strikers continued to-day. Fully 2,000 persons applied for their former positions in the works. About 1,000 men are on duty. The company's officials say 3,000 are easily obtainable. Pullman officials have intimated that the strikers will not be pushed for overdue rent. This fact was largely instrumental in causing to-day's rush for positions.

CHICAGO, August 14.—An attempt was made to-day to exterminate Alderman John Coughlin by sending him an infernal machine. The alderman's life was saved through his opening the machine in such a manner that it did not explode. It is supposed the attempt on the Alderman Coughlin's life was made by some Chinese whose opium dens he was instrumental in closing. The infernal machine contained a substance resembling nitro-glycerine mixed with glue and sawdust.

QUEBEC, August 14.—All lovers of law and order throughout Canada will rejoice to hear Cardinal Tachereau's utterances anent the recent religious troubles in this city. His Eminence is in feeble health, but one of his clergy says: "We express the wish of the spiritual head of this archdiocese in protesting against the violent attacks of which certain religious societies have been made the victims. We pray the people of this city to abstain from these demonstrations, which may have most disastrous consequences. The church desires religious liberty and commands the exercise of that charity of which Jesus Christ has given us the precept and example."

ROME, Aug. 15.—Several anarchists were arrested yesterday at an open air meeting in the suburbs. The police searched their lodgings near the middle of the city to-day and found bombs and explosives, tools and chemicals for the manufacture of such articles. The Italian government expelled the French socialist Ducquercy, some time member of the French chambar of deputies. The police are watching all anarchist suspects constantly. Their object is to arrest every anarchist against whom they can get sufficient evidence for conviction.

THE ART OF ADVERTISING.

There is nothing on earth so mysteriously funny as the way in which many business men treat an advertisement. The prime, first, last and all the time object of an advertisement is to draw custom. So the merchant waits till the busy season comes, and his store is so full of custom he can't get his hat off, and then he rushes to his printer and goes in for advertising. When the dull season comes along, and there is no trade, and he wants to sell his goods so bad that he can't pay his rent, he stops advertising. That is, some of them do; but occasionally a level-headed merchant does more of it, and scoops in all the business, while his neighbors are making mortgages to pay the gas bill. There are are times when you couldn't stop the people from buying everything in the store if you planted a cannon behind the door, and that's the time the advertisement is sent out on its holy mission. It makes light work for advertising, for a chalk sign on the sidewalk could do all that was needed and have a half-holiday six days in the week; but who wants to favor an advertisement? They are built to do hard work, and should be sent out in the dull days, when a customer has to be knocked down with hard facts, and kicked insensible with bankrupt reductions, and dragged in with irresistible slaughter of prices, before he will spend a cent. That's the end and aim of advertising, and if ever you open a store don't try to get them to come when they are already sticking out of the windows, but give them your advertisement right between the eyes in the dull season, and you will wax rich, and own a fast horse, and perhaps be able to smoke a cigar once or twice a year. Write this down where you'll fall over it every day.

A society has been established in England for the "Education and Reformation of Husbands." Husbands are, by the society, classified into five divisions, the fault finder, the card player, the dissipated, the luxurious and the neglectful husband. At least these are, it is thought, the classes of husbands which may be reformed. The husbands have not been heard from yet, publicly, but we think good might be accomplished by a husband's association for the reform of babies. There would be only one classification, namely, the night-howlers.
