BRISTOL

Mrs. James A. O'Brien received the sad news over the weekend that her only living sister, Mrs. A. Hughes, had passed away in Arlington, Mass. after an illness of four years. Mrs. Hughes was Eliza O'Brien and left Bristol, as a very young girl, seventy-six years ago. She often recalled that her late father had driven her to Charlottetown in a two wheel cart to catch the Boston boat years before the railway had come to this Island, and greater Boston was only a mud and bog section. Four years ago this summer while getting ready to visit her old home here once more this grand old lady fell on the stairway and never recovered from the injury. She leaves besides her family in Boston, one brother Fred, in Boston, who was on a trip to the Island when his sister passed away and one sister Mrs. James A. O'Brien, in Morell and many other relatives here.

Scores of friends in this vicinity learn with regret that Mr. and Mrs. Lem Jay have entered the P.E.Island Hospital for treatment. Lem Jay, it will be remembered is that first old time fiddler of C.F.C.Y.

Quite a number from this vicinity are making plans for the annual visit to the shrine of St. Anne DeBeaupre early in July. Mr. Mauris Martell, one of those cured at the shrine years ago, will again head the list from here. Mr. Martell has vowed never to miss the trip each year and to take as many as possible along with him. Among those who will be going is Mr. Joseph MacDonald for the thirty first time without a miss, and Joe Kelly, of Bangor, making the trip every for nineteen years.

A new doctor has come to this vicinity in the person of Doctor McLellan, a native of Souris. Dr. McLellan, has opened his office at St. Peters, giving us again two doctors in that village and one at Mount Stewart.

This Bristol scribe paid a visit to that grand old man Dr. Roddie, at St. Peters Bay, last week. Arriving there as evening shadows were falling we found him just about ready to come in from his garden for the day. "My office is closed" he said, "but I am busy gardener all the time." We spent two wonerful hours chatting with that old Doctor and Knight of St. Gregory. He well recalls his first and last days doctoring the sick.

Mr. Joseph McMillan is still on the sick list and a patient in the Charlottetown Hospital for the past two months.

Mr. Bernard MacDonald, was was rushed to Charlottetown Hospital on Wednesday.

Mr. Justin McCarthy is another patient from this vicinity who is undergoing treatment in Charlottetown Hospital at present. It will be recalled Mr. McCarthy was severly injured a couple of years ago when he was thrown from a load of hay when his horse moved quickly.

The priests from this and neighboring parished are attending the retreat at S.D.U. this week.

Mr. P. R. Sinnott, of the department of transport, who has been home on vacation from Mould Bay N.W.T. was called to Sable Island last week for a months duty to relieve one of the boys in the weather station. Mr. Sinnott will finish his vacation following his relieving job.
