THE VACANT SEAT.—Several persons from the Belfast district, who were in the city yesterday, expressed their belief that Professor J. T. Melish, of this city, would be asked to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of D. C. Martin, Esq. If such a selection were made it would be an excellent one.

ANOTHER SWINDLER GONE.—Ex-Mayor Cramer, of Hackettstown, N. J., has left for Bermuda after swindling several business men and farmers and becoming engaged to no less than fifteen women. One damsel claims that she has been engaged, to Cramer for sixteen years. All the women were swindled out of money.

INHUMAN.—A rumor was circulated through the city several days ago, that the daughter of a city clergyman, one of the lady passengers on board of the Northern Light, had died. There is no punishment too severe for demons who delight in manufacturing falsehoods of this nature. An effort should be made to find and expose them.

FINE PORKER.—The Providence R. L. Evening Bulletin, of Jan. 3, 1888, says: "There are on exhibition at the pork packing establishment of J. & R. F. SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.

RECORD OF THE COURT

Another Elevator Disqualified.

OTTAWA, (Ont.) Jan. 13. The court gave judgment to-day disqualifying Mr. Purcell, the Opposition member for Glengarry, on account of personal bribery; and the Judge has ordered criminal proceedings to be taken against half a dozen of his "pals." The bribery and corruption proved in this case was scandalous.

Further Particulars.

OTTAWA, Jan. 13. Mr. Purcell M. P., for Glengarry has been unseated and disqualified. Judge Rose said there had been the grossest corruption on the part of the reformers in the constituency, and he would recommend that Purcell and four of his supporters be prosecuted for corrupt practices. The election cost Purcell nearly $40,000.

Lost in a Blizzard.

BISMARCK, Dak., Jan. 13. The stage which left Washburn yesterday morning for this city should have arrived last evening. Nothing has been heard of it, and it is supposed to be lost in the blizzard.

A stage left for Winona this morning, and great fears are entertained for its safe arrival. The blizzard evidently spent its force here. The wind last night was 40 miles an hour, and the mercury 25 below. This morning it was 30 below and intensely cold. A special from Cooksone says no trains have reached there for two days. It began blowing yesterday, and piled the snow 18 feet high. It is bitterly cold. Trains all over the State of Wisconsin are laid up.

Moonlighters Sentenced.

DUBLIN, Jan. 13. Judge Murphy, at the Munster Assizes, sentenced fourteen moonlighters to terms of imprisonment varying from 18 months to 18 years. He expressed himself certain that with the growing facilities the law would be able to cope with moonlighters, and soon force them to disappear. The Express (Conservative) believes that measures will be offered in Parliament on the resumption of the session to deprive electors of the power to return persons to Parliament who have been convicted of crime.

London Befogged.

LONDON, Jan. 13. London entered this afternoon on its fourth day of continued fog. The veil has never once been lifted since Monday, and no man has beheld sun, moon, stars, or a square inch of blue or even gray sky. The river is totally deserted. Trains arrive and depart irregularly, but unceasingly. Accidents are frequent. The fog extends all over the western and southern coasts. Atlantic and other mail steamers neither arrive nor depart at English Channel ports.

The Blizzard in Canada.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 13. The Province has been visited by one of the worst blizzards ever experienced. A settler named McKay was found frozen to death in Brandon district last night. The Canadian Pacific are said to be contemplating laying a double track between Winnipeg and Port Arthur, business having attained such proportions as to render this almost unavoidable.

Terrible Suffering.

LONDON, Jan. 13. Advices from the Russian frontier say troops in the Jublin district are suffering terribly from cold. Forty sentinels were frozen to death. Dysentery and typhus fever are prevalent, and a large staff of doctors are engaged at high salaries. Wine rations are served daily.

Congratulation.

LONDON, Jan. 13. The Gazette this evening published the Jubilee address of congratulation sent to Queen Victoria by the women of Great Britain, signed by 1,132,608 women.

Thick Fog and Darkness.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 13. The fog here cleared away, to be succeeded by a shimmering darkness which envelops the city. Shipping on the Mersey is still at a stand.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A Query.

SIR,—Is it the intention of our City Father's to call the usual public meeting for the consideration of the annual report, and civic matters generally. If they omit doing so are we to judge that they dread facing the citizens? Jan. 14 1888 CITIZEN.

Ward Four Meeting.

SIR,—In your issue of yesterday there appeared a communication signed by one Philip Foy. His statements concerning my conduct and speech at the meeting in Ward Four are totally untrue. When accused by Councillor McRae of deception in my canvass for Ward Three, telling the temperance people that I was in favor of temperance, and the anti-Scott Act people that I was in favor of the liquor traffic, I said he was a liar, and other words would apply to a person making such a false statement. Mr. Foy endeavors to impress the public with the idea that I said something disparaging of the clergy. This I deny. What I stated was that certain clergymen were associated with men in this Civic Election whose moral character and commercial reputation would not bear the light of day. HENRY C. DOUSE. January 14.

Supreme Court.

SATURDAY, JAN. 14.

The Queen on the prosecution of Patrick Monaghan vs. Daniel Madden and Philip Doherty, indicted for burglary. This case is still going on. The Attorney-General for the Crown: F. Peters for the prisoner.

In the case of Isaac W. Wadman, charged with the illegal removal of a body from the Roman Catholic Cemetery, the Grand Jury returned "No Bill."

In the case of Owen Smith and Joseph H. Dunn, charged with burglarizing the premises of Blake Bros., the Grand Jury returned a "True Bill."

The Grand Jury this afternoon made the following report:

GRAND JURY ROOM, HILARY TERM, JAN. 14, 1888.

The Jury beg to report that they visited the Jail which they found scrupulously clean, well ventilated and comfortably warmed. Among the prisoners the Grand Jury saw several boys, showing the necessity for having a reformatory for such juvenile offenders.

The Grand Jury also visited the Hospital for the Insane, and were exceedingly pleased to find that institution in splendid order in every department.

The Grand Jury also visited the Poor House, which they found clean and as comfortable as it is possible to be, considering its very limited accommodation. The Grand Jury would strongly recommend that, if at all possible, rooms be set apart mostly for bed-ridden patients.

A petition having been presented by a number of the citizens of Charlottetown and country to the Grand Jury in the matter of one Charles Yeo, who mysteriously disappeared from Charlottetown about the month of January, 1887 and not since heard of by his friends who have made diligent search for him, and that grave suspicions are entertained that he came to his death by foul means.

From representations made by parties who appeared before us as well as by the petition, we strongly urge that a strict investigation be made into the matter.

Messrs. William Mutch, John McGregor and Albert Kelly appeared before the Grand Jury, representing that the landing at the Ferry Wharf had been seriously injured by the Charlottetown Milling Company running a railway across the street of said landing.

The Grand Jury appointed a committee to examine said landing and find that the said Milling Company built up a "brush" landing which is not sufficient in length or width.

We therefore recommend that the said landing be made suitable for the accommodation of the travelling public.

A complaint has been made to the Grand Jury by J. J. Chappell, that John McPherson, of Prince Street, perjured himself before Mr. Mason, a Returning Officer at the Scott Act Election, November 24th, 1887.

The Grand Jury recommend that the Attorney-General investigate the case.

The petition of the Grand Jury has been called to the fact that F. P. McCarron has been convicted of a violation of Her Majesty's laws, which we consider should disqualify him as a City Councillor, and therefore call your attention to the matter. For self and fellows, P. M. BOURKE, Foreman.

Weather Bulletin.

TORONTO, Jan. 14—10 a.m. Fresh to strong winds veering to westerly clearing weather colder again to-morrow.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain; and the little cherub awakes "as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea; whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind. mar17 eod & wky
