Children's Work On Display At Art Centre
The first exhibition of work by children who have been attending the classes held at the Art Centre this season is now on display at the centre and will remain on view until the end of the week. The present exhibition is by children from five to eight years of age who have been attending the Tuesday classes and is the best group of work by children of this age ever to be shown here. Don't either with tempera paints or colored chalks, all the pictures are 18"x24" and cover a wide range of subjects according to the interests of each child. Work by children in the Wednesday and Thursday classes as well as from the Saturday Open House will be shown later. A new series of children's classes lasting until Easter will begin next week, when children who could not be accommodated in the fall session may register along with the children who wish to continue their art.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of Mr. Douglas Gunning who departed this life December 31st, 1953. The month of December again is here. The saddest month of the year. Because it took you from our home. And left us here in grief alone. Ever remembered by wife and daughter, Goldie.

Burned To Death In Fire In King's County

John Russell Taylor, a 69-year-old bachelor at Marie, King's County, was burned to death early Sunday morning in a fire which completely destroyed his single storied home where he has lived alone for a number of years. The Souris detachment of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police were notified of the fire about 9:00 a.m. but reports from neighbors, indicate that the blaze had taken place at an earlier hour. The frame dwelling, 18x24 was burned to the ground when police arrived and found the charred remains of the victim. While the cause of the fire has not been determined, it is reported that an oil burning stove in the living room could have started the blaze while the victim was asleep. Next of kin to the late Mr. Taylor are a cousin, Charles Coffin of Fortune and another cousin, Mrs. Ernest Dingwall, Souris. Coroner R. A. Burden of St. Peter's who viewed the remains, accompanied a jury to meet for the inquest on January 11th.

Traffic Handicapped By Yesterday's Storm

Wind, snow, ice and rain all combined yesterday to make life miserable for people of this city. The wind averaged 30 miles all day with gusts running much higher, according to reports from Mr. Warren Burns, weatherman at the Experimental Farm. Mr. Burns also reported that over an inch of rain had fallen while temperatures hovered about the 38 degree mark. Unofficially citizens had a great deal of difficulty navigating the treacherous sidewalks and in many of the exposed places it was definitely dangerous with both men and women being blown backwards on the ice as heavy gusts hit them from around or in back of buildings. The snow and high winds also played a part in the game between the Islanders and Sydney Millionaires had to be cancelled when the car ferry at Borden ceased operations after its train crossing at 2:40 yesterday afternoon. The scheduled trip at 7:30 last night could not be made and the Abegweit was tied up at the Borden pier. It was not expected that any extra freight trips would be made unless the wind died down considerably.

Throughout The Province
Both the Island Telephone Company and the Maritime Electric Company reported last night that they had little difficulty through the day although they did encounter some trouble Sunday night. Travellers on the highways said that in general conditions were better than in the city where the ice seemed to remain despite the rain. They also noted, however, that the hills in rural areas were sometimes difficult to navigate though they had been sanded by the Provincial Department of Public Works and Highways. The storm which began with snow over the holiday week-end caused trouble all across the Province. Cars were reported stuck in drifts almost everywhere as the more open rural spaces permitted the winds to carry the snow into deeper piles.

Howe Claims
come almost non-existent, Canada in the first 10 months of 1953 exported about $466 worth of goods to Russia—mostly gifts. Imports—mostly raw furs—totalled about $416,000 in the first eight months of last year. During the Second World War, however, Canadian exports to Russia reached as high as $100,000,000 a year. These were mostly war materials used by Russia to beat back the Nazi invasion. Turning to the world economic front generally, Mr. Howe said he is "optimistic" about the future. He believed Canada's gross national product which reached a peak of $24,200,000,000 in 1953, will increase again in 1954. The rate of increase, however, would not likely be as great as the $1,200,000,000 advance in 1953.

UN Recommends More Trade With Asiatic Countries
GENEVA, Switzerland (Reuters)—A group of United Nations agencies Monday recommended increased trade with Asia as a major step towards a stable world economy. In a 146-page study, they suggested these "desirable adjustments": 1. Asia and the Far East should sell more goods to the United States, and buy less. The resulting dollar surplus could be used to buy goods from Europe, easing that continent's dollar shortage. 2. Europe should also sell more goods to dollar countries, and purchase raw materials from non-dollar countries. 3. In addition to increased trade, there should be a "substantially" greater flow of capital. The recommendations would correct Asia's increasingly unfavorable trade balance, said the report. Between 1938 and 1952, the report added, Russian trade fell from 15 per cent of the world total to 10 per cent, while Asian imports remained stable at 12 per cent of the world total. In the same period, there was a 25-per-cent decrease in Asiatic sales to Western Europe, excluding those from Japan, while imports from Western Europe rose 66 per cent.

Fliers Lost Again In Arctic
WINNIPEG, (CP)—The gloom of an early sub-Arctic night once more closed in on Monday as three RCAF fliers—found, then lost again in the snowy wilderness about 1,000 miles north of Winnipeg. On a 400-mile mercy mission from Churchill, Man., to pick up a sick Eskimo at Baker Lake, N. W. T., the men's ski-equipped Norseman plane was forced down Saturday on an unknown lake. Search planes spotted signal flares Sunday and later established radio contact. Flights over the region by Lt. Col. Lewis G. Baker failed to find the plane. Radio range and direction finders were unable to "fix" the Norseman's position before the signals faded. The plane was piloted by F.O. O. J. Fisher of Duparquet, Que., and carried Lt. G. M. Dawe, Vernon, B.C., and Lt. C. J. W. Bradley of Sturgeon Falls, Ont., as crew.

Fliers Lost Again In Arctic
The opening service in connection with the universal Week of Prayer was held in Central Christian Church with a full congregation present despite the inclement weather. The service was conducted by Rev. James Davison, owing to the illness of the pastor, Rev. M. Dunbar. Rev. E. C. Evans assisted in the service with prayer and reading of the lesson. Sgt. Captain of the Salvation Army gave a stirring address on the "Power of Prayer", dividing his subject into three parts, prayer as power to preach, prayer as power to heal, and prayer as power to cast out demons. The choir of Central Christian Church was present under direction of Mrs. A. MacFarlane. The next service will be held tonight in the Baptist Church, when Rev. T. H. B. Somers will speak in place of Mr. Dunbar who was to have given the address.

Week Of Prayer Meetings Open

Eleven women were presented with Red Cross Home Nursing Acknowledgment Cards at the regular meeting of the Women's Institute held in Hebron last night. The 12 week nursing course was organized early in September and included women from the three communities of Hebron, Glenwood and Bilburn. The various classes were taught by Miss Margaret MacQuarrie, Mrs. Angus Darrach, Miss Margaret Stewart, public health nurse, and Mrs. Wendell Wood, Red Cross Home Nursing Instructor. The following members successfully completed the course: Mrs. Alvin MacIsaac, Hebron; Mrs. Wilbur MacQuarrie, Hebron; Mrs. Alexander Morrison, Hebron; Mrs. Harold Morrison, Hebron; Mrs. Alton MacIsaac, Hebron; Mrs. Foster Hierlihy, Hebron; Mrs. Willard Betts, Glenwood; Mrs. Lloyd Williams, Milburn; Mrs. Goyd Goyd, Milburn; Mrs. Albert Leckey, Milburn; Mrs. Leon Woodside, Milburn.

Police Chief Speaks At Rotary

"Persons in this class are found in all walks of life," said Chief of Police MacArthur in describing "Goat Getters in Life" in an address before the Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon in the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday. The speaker continued, "This type of person has been here from the dim and distant past, and strangely enough at times, changing their personality, going from the aggrieved to the aggressor. No one is immune from their wisecracks or sallies and all, at one time or another, have felt the sting of their barbs and arrows." "It is a Democratic principle that all should live free untrammelled lives and all are entitled to the pursuit of happiness. Any psychiatrist will tell you that in order to be mentally healthy, it is necessary to be happy. Hate, envy, spite and the harbouring of grudges, will destroy any chance of happiness and mental health," the speaker said. "Our goat getters are with us from the cradle to the grave," he continued. "They are a class of people who find it difficult to give any other person credit for any accomplishment that surpasses their own. They disagree not only with particular individuals, but also with accepted thought and action. They insinuate themselves into every circumstance and seem to take an unhealthy delight in bringing chaos into an otherwise serene existence. 'I am sure,' the speaker said, 'they were present when Columbus tried to show those about him that the world was round; when Napoleon faced the Alpine snows and met disaster on the barrier plains of Russia and with Charles Martel when he defeated the hordes of the Huns. They would be there to obstruct progress with their innuendoes and contrary ideas.' "However," the speaker continued, "as in infancy or young childhood, the actions and sayings of this class very often produces results that are the direct opposite of unhappiness." The Chief recalled many humorous Goat Getter incidents and reported one such after a wretched night in the trenches of the Ypres Salient. "After a cold, wet period, drenched with enemy fire, the morning came and one of the Old Guard received a beautiful 'Blighy'. As he was being carried to comparative safety, one of the new lads looking on was heard to exclaim 'Oh the poor fellow.' What a goat getter that lad was, to the old veterans who would have given a king's ransom to be on the stretcher under similar circumstances." The speaker continued on a more serious vein dealing with life and happiness and the obvious contact between life and a Supreme Intelligence which governs all nature. He cited the case of the young salmon after spending years at sea, comes back to his own river and travels up the very side of the river into which flows the tributary where he was born. Much more disconcerting is the mystery of eels which migrate at maturity from all ponds and rivers. Those from Europe cross thousands of miles of water, all bound for the same abyssal deep near Bermuda. There they breed and die. Their little ones, with no apparent means of knowing except that they are in a wilderness of water, find their way back to the very ponds, lakes and rivers their parents came from. In conclusion Chief MacArthur said "Therefore gentlemen if we must be goat getters, let us be of the type who will bring a little mirth or happiness in life and count that day lost whose low descending sun, views from our hand no worthy action done."

Parents Redecorate School Classroom During Holidays

At the regular meeting of the City School Board it was noted that a group of interested parents had repainted a classroom of West Kent School during the Christmas holidays even using New Year's Eve for one phase of the project. These parents had previously requested certain changes to improve the classroom. On learning that there was only one of many classrooms needing the requested renovations they decided to go half way to make their children's classroom both more pleasant and more efficient. The Board to help with the project has used the room as an experiment in the use of baffle boards installed behind the lights to improve lighting. Mr. Kenneth Parker, City Superintendent of Schools in his report congratulated the teachers and pupils on the successful results of their co-operative effort in putting on their Christmas programs. Queen Square presented their traditional variety program on two successive nights to capacity crowds; West Kent presented a Christmas pageant at Prince of Wales auditorium under the direction of Rev. Horace MacEwen, a most creditable production in every way; Rochford Square, delightfully entertained a large gathering of parents and friends one evening; Prince Street had their customary musical Christmas program but due to lack of space was forced to confine their two programs to their own students.

High School Tenders

Major Earl Baker chairman of the Building Committee for the new high school reported that tenders for the completion of the building will be opened within the next two weeks. Work will then be immediately proceeded with. Now that the second phase of the new high school unit is about to be started, Mr. Parker advised that consideration should soon be given methods of selecting staff for the new school, and other matters pertaining to the setting up of the school. A plan to allow our present pupils to submit a name for their new school was discussed. The Board are anxious that the name be one chosen by some pupil or group of pupils. Word was gratefully received from Canada Packers that they will donate any of their products which can be made use of in the Home Economics Course in the City Schools.

Red Cross Home Nursing

With rural Red Cross Home Nursing Classes completed, organization will now take place in Charlottetown. The basic nursing course covers a twelve week period and instruction centres around the care of the sick person in the home. The use of improvised equipment for home care is demonstrated and the general topics include—signs of illness, temperature taking and pulse count, making a patient comfortable in bed, viz bed making, bed bath, etc., medicine and treatment, the care of elderly people and patients suffering from chronic illnesses, communicable disease and first aid treatment, etc. Time for practice is allowed following demonstrations and lessons are often highlighted by films to help impress the topic. Evening or afternoon classes will be arranged weekly. Individuals or organizations wishing to enrol should get in touch with the Red Cross as soon as possible.

Active Year Reported In Department Of Highways

"We have had a banner year, possibly the most successful in the history of the Department," said Hon. Dougald MacKinnon, Minister of Public Works and Highways, when questioned yesterday regarding the work done in his department. "It will not be possible for some time to give details of the work, the quantities of materials used and how disposed of and all the minute and exacting process of road preparation and building; these figures must be accurate when released and reflect a true picture," the Minister continued. A six mile stretch of paved road from Albany through Middleton to near Bedeque and upgrading from Hoggs Corner through Bedeque to Rose's Corner, a distance of two miles, was a major objective successfully achieved. Eight miles of work was let on broken stretches from Pinetie towards Milview, most of which has been completed. A seal coat between Montague and Lower Montague, a distance of approximately five miles, has also been completed. "The continuous rain and heavy traffic on the St. Peter's Road in May and early June gave us a bad beating we had not anticipated," the Minister said. "We had a great deal of re-building and seal coating to put this important traffic route back in shape." "A substantial job of sub-grading and clearing by bulldozers has been completed in all districts throughout the Province to give traffic on the St. Peter's Road in May and early June gave us a bad beating we had not anticipated," the Minister said. "We had a great deal of re-building and seal coating to put this important traffic route back in shape." In conclusion the Minister went all out in expressing his appreciation of the work done by the machine operators and foremen whom he described as workmen of exceptional ability and worth, never failing to do a good job with not a penny's worth of material. He was equally enthusiastic about the engineers and office staff which had combined intelligence and energy in producing a year of departmental work in which he was glad to be associated.

Canadian P.C.'s Mistaken For Reds At Border

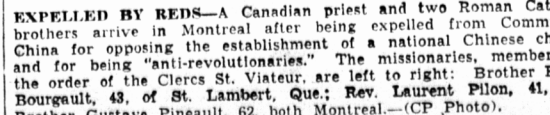

OTTAWA, (CP)—The External Affairs Department has asked the Canadian embassy in Washington to look into the case of two Toronto students refused admission to the United States. The department took the action after a request from D. R. Michener, Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Toronto St. Paul's. Edward S. Rogers, 30, and William M. Boulton, 21, both members of the Young Progressive Conservative club at the University of Toronto, were detained at West Palm Beach, Fla., pending a hearing by immigration officials. They were en route home from Nassau, the Bahamas. Meanwhile, an official here said it appears the case may be nothing more than an "overzealous" immigration official mistaking the young Progressive Conservative Club for the Labor-Progressive Communist party. The U.S. embassy asked the American state department for a report on the case from the justice department, responsible for immigration.

ELITE ATHLETES

STOCKHOLM, (CP)—Fifteen of Sweden's elite gymnasts will tour the United States on special invitation. The group will give displays and take part in competitions at about 30 universities and colleges, starting at the West Point Military Academy early in January. WINNIPEG, (CP)—The Manitoba legislative building, even without counting the "golden boy" statue on top, is Winnipeg's tallest building. Public works officials put the building at 240 feet high, with the Fort Garry Hotel next at 190 feet.
