Best - Crozier Wedding Held At Church Of Christ

A wedding of interest to a wide circle of friends took place at the church of Christ, Summerside, in setting of summer flowers, on Saturday, June 14th, at 2:30 p.m. when the Reverend W.O. Weale performed the double ring ceremony which united in marriage Joyce Marie daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Crozier of Wilford and Edgar Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Best, of Central Lot 16.

Miss Joyce Key of Summerside, was guest soloist singing the "Wedding Prayer" previous to the ceremony and "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register, she was accompanied by Mrs. Myra Morrison, organist.

The radiant young bride who was given in marriage by her father was lovely in her wedding gown of nylon net over taffeta, red bodice featuring long fitted sleeves. A crown with sequin and pearl trim held her shoulder length veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

Miss Norma Crozier, was her sister's maid of honor and was dressed in shrimp net and lace over taffeta with fitted bodice and V neckline front and back. She wore a matching tiara and carried a cascade of yellow nuns.

Miss Ruth Reid, bridesmaid, wore a gown of yellow nylon net over taffeta with matching tiara and carried a cascade of mauve nuns.

Mr. Clarence MacLeod, Central Lot 16, was best man. Mr. Richard Crozier and Wesley Reeves were ushers.

Mrs. Crozier, mother of the bride, was attired in a light blue lowered nylon dress with beige accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Best chose for the wedding a nylon mauve dress with white and mauve accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations.

Honored guests at the wedding were Mrs. Crozier and Mrs. Smith, grandmothers of the bride. Mrs. Crozier wore navy with white accessories and wore a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Smith wore a navy blue striped suit with matching accessories and wore a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception for approximately thirty-five guests was held at Birch Hill Tourist Home where the bride's table was attractively decorated and centered with a three tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. Rev. W.O. Weale proposed the toast to the bride and groom which was fittingly responded to by the groom.

Immediately after the reception the happy young couple left on a honeymoon trip to points of interest in Nova Scotia. For travelling the bride wore a flowered brown dress with matching duster and white accessories. She wore a corsage of red roses.

On their return the bride and groom will reside in Central Lot 16 where the groom is a prosperous young farmer. The bride is a stenographer with the Hall Mfg. and Cold Storage Co Ltd., Summerside.

Gallant - Cahill Marriage Solemnized At The Manse

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the Summerside Presbyterian Manse on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. J. Donald MacKay when Ruth May, daughter of Mrs. Donald Cahill and the late Mr. Cahill of Summerside, became the bride of Allan Charles Gallant, son of Mrs. Walter Gallant and the late Mr. Gallant of Summerside.

The bride chose for her wedding a street length dress of white nylon, pink embossed over taffeta with pink accessories and a corsage of pink and white roses.

Miss June Gallant, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and wore a dress of white nylon, with gold thread, and white and gold accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

Mr. Alfred Cahill, cousin of the bride, was groomsman. A reception for twenty-five guests was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. George Coyle, where the bride's table, with its attractive arrangement of mixed summer flowers and lighted tapers, was centered with a three-tier wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom.

For a honeymoon trip throughout the province, the bride donned a yellow wool coat. On returning Mr. and Mrs. Gallant will reside in Summerside.

On Wednesday evening previous to the wedding, the bride-to-be was tendered a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Walter Gallant, where she was escorted to a decorated seat of honor by Miss June Gallant, who assisted in cutting the ribbons of the many and lovely gifts. The hostess read the accompanying verses of best wishes.

1923 Golf Club Report Is Interesting Reading

The following remarks were given by the president Mrs. J.E. B. McCready, April 5, 1923, at the annual meeting of the Charlottetown Golf Club.

At the height of the golfing season in this year 1923 the old report makes interesting reading. It will be noted in 1923 there was only one golf club in this province.

"For the purpose of refreshing our memories, a glance backward will recall that when the Charlottetown Golf Links was first organized, a committee of ladies were elected at the annual meeting 1904, which was held at the offices of Peter Ings.

This continued until 1905, when Nova Scotia and New Brunswick or perhaps better put it, Halifax and Saint John began agitating and approached Charlottetown on the subject. A meeting of our lady members was called in May 1906 at the residence of Mrs. F. L. Haszard and Mr. Percy Pope was invited to speak on the matter.

It was there and then decided to join the Maritime Association, but the first requirement necessitated that we should become a properly constituted club. We then organized and became the Ladies' Branch of the Charlottetown Golf Club, adopted the colors of white and green, and sent our affiliation fee of $5.00, which was collected from the Ladies by ten cent tax. This method continued for a time, until recently the general club having raised our annual fees, agreed to pay this $5.00 M.A. fee.

This brings me to ask if you are still in favor of the club colors which have not been greatly used, but now that we are to have the Maritime Association here in August, we should wear our colors.

The executive suggests the charging of ten cents for a cup of tea. When you hear the secretary treasurer's report and know how small a balance is on hand, though we had $15.00 of an increase from the general club you will readily concur that even a small revenue from the "Teas" will be most acceptable. There are always unforeseen incidents arising, and the charge is small but this is a matter for you to decide.

The other is regarding the resolution that was unanimously adopted (date?) asking the Maritime Association to prepare a schedule of the Meets forthcoming, so that a like dilemma may not arise in future. When you think of the Maritime provinces having six, eight, or more golf clubs and P.E.I. one, the ratio of triennial meets is out of all proportion.

Charlottetown should not be required, unless the club wishes, to have the meet oftener than once in three years, but this is for your decision.

I have to thank the committee for their kindly assistance and cooperation during a rather disturbed year. With the building extension going on and workmen about, it was difficult to have the house in order but that is all now happily over and we have a fine kitchen for which we extend hearty thanks."

Signed, (Louise B. McCready).

GAS 26.9 CENTS

THE PRESERVING KETTLE

What's autumn without grapes? And what jelly cupboard is complete without Grape Jelly? Why not make your own, using this successful recipe?

GRAPE JELLY
4 cups juice (about 3 quarts ripe Concord grapes)
7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar
1/2 bottle Certo fruit pectin

First, prepare the juice. Stem about 3 quarts fully ripe grapes. Crush thoroughly. Add 1/2 cup water; bring to a boil. Simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Place in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. Measure 4 cups into a very large saucepan.

Now make the jelly. Add sugar to juice in saucepan, and mix well. Place over high heat. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Stir in Certo at once. Then bring to a full rolling boil. Boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; skim off foam with metal spoon. Pour quickly into glasses. Cover at once with 1/4 inch hot paraffin. Makes about 10 medium glasses.

What is pectin? It's the jelling substance found in all fruits in varying amounts. Certo is pectin extracted from fruits rich in this natural substance, then refined, concentrated and performance-controlled. Your jam and jelly set exactly right when you use Certo and follow the tested Certo recipes.

Preserving Pointer. Never open a jar after sealing, to fill the space which may appear at the top. If the sealer is completely air-tight and has been properly and sufficiently processed, the food will keep perfectly. Breaking the seal and adding more fruit may easily cause spoilage and waste the whole jar!

This is my last column for the year. What fun it's been visiting with you! I know that you and your family will truly enjoy all the good things you've been able to preserve so successfully by following these tested Certo recipes.

MARY HAWORTH

There Are Smart Sacks

Dear Mary Haworth—My wife has bought a sack and I am about to crack.

It is not that she is a calendar art type, cloaking her physical endowment of God-given womanhood in a tube of cloth that suggests nothing to be admired or desired. My squawk is that she has a greater obligation to her husband of 18 years—her faithful husband, I may add—than simply to stay in fashion.

It is my conviction, though I may be stating it awkwardly, that a woman owes her husband something more than keeping the kids in check, and a tasty meal on the table nightly. I say she owes him the right to stick his chest out in front of other men. In short, she owes him the obligation of looking her best at all times—of being as attractive and sexy as she is able.

LIKE TO HEAR BEST
Men like to hear compliments about their wives, and their kids, just as they like to be complimented themselves—for a good golf score, a flat stomach after 40, or the ability to make the best martini in town. There is vanity everywhere.

But back to the sack: How can this shapeless drape out of the limp-wrist salons of Paris be worth anyone's hard-earned money? And how can I get my wife to give the sack the sack?

B. J.

Dear B. J.—There are sacks and sacks, on the racks in the dress sections of women's shops and department stores. And it isn't the sack as such, so much as it is the woman herself, and the particular style of sack she buys, that makes the difference between bag and belle, when she has it on.

Ideally, the sack wearer should be young, tall, leggy, slim and rounded in the right places, and the sack in which she envelops herself should be cut, by genius, to her personal dimensions. When these requirements are met, the sack dress works hypnotically upon the observant eye, calling attention to feminine contour in a newly provocative way.

INNOCENT LOOKING FAD
Even at its worst, the sack style is one of the least innocent looking fads that fashion promoters have launched in years. As we see it today, it is a play upon the vogue of the 1920s, but with a kind of decadence added—the implication of free-form boudoir attire worn in public. Perhaps not everyone gets this message, but still it's there for the perceptive reader of latent meanings.

So, if it is sex appearance a la mode, that a man wishes to parade in his spouse—to bolster his ego before the world—the sack dress will do as much as any other high fashion, if the garment is shrewdly chosen for the wearer. And when the sack succeeds in emphasizing sex, it packs a wallop of vulgarity beyond that of any other "insinuating" feminine fashion in recent history.

There is another aspect to the sack. To wit: If trends in dress have psychological significance, and they probably do to some extent, this latest expression of certain designers may reflect their fantasy-wish to wipe adult criteria off the map, and make ours a "child's play" world—at least for the favored influential few.

Note that the sack is a sort of child's dress, in its supposedly straight up-and-down lines and pseudo-simplicity. It is the contrast between this alleged artlessness and the speculative reactions sparked, when a woman's body is thus clothed, that imparts a pornographic accent to the overtly shapeless drape.

By comparison, either the small-waisted, full-skirted womanly gowns or the trimly sheath-fitted fashions are models of psychological health in styles, since they refer forthrightly to mature women as the subject matter. They do NOT deal in perverse implications of "baby doll" females. M. H.
