Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease because it is liable to result in loss of hearing or smell, or develop into consumption. Read the following:

"My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years and the disease had gone so far that her eyesight was affected so that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered severe pains in the head and at times was almost distracted. About Christmas, she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it." W. H. OBITUARY.

The sad news of the death of Annie, beloved wife of John D. McCarthy, of Morell, at the Charlottetown Hospital on the 4th inst., brought to the hearts of all who knew her feelings of deepest sorrow and well merited sympathy for her bereaved family. Mrs. McCarthy, not feeling altogether as well as usual, decided to go to the hospital on November 6th, where she maintained a usually good state of health until shortly before her death, when she was seized by a severe attack of hemorrhage of the lungs, and died within a couple of hours. Her remains were taken by train to Morell station on Monday evening, the 6th inst., where a large number of mourning friends awaited their arrival and followed in solemn procession to her home. On Wednesday her remains, followed by a large concourse of mourning friends and relatives, were conveyed to St. Joseph's Church, where a Requiem High Mass was sung by Rev. A. McAulay. The ceremony was grand and impressive. At the conclusion, the cortege reformed and proceeded to the cemetery, where the last sad rites were performed. The deceased was 33 years of age, and leaves a husband, two children and a large circle of friends to mourn the loss of a virtuous and affectionate wife, a kind mother and a charitable friend.

Bright be the place of thy soul!
No lovelier spirit than thine
E'er burst from its mortal control
In the orbs of the blessed to shine.

On earth thou wert all but divine,
As thy soul shall immortally be,
And our sorrow may cease to repine
When we know that thy God is with thee.

Light be the turf of thy tomb,
May its verdure like emeralds be;
There should not be the shadow of gloom
In aught that reminds us of thee.

Young flowers and an evergreen tree
May spring from the spot of thy rest,
But no cypress nor yew let us see,
For why should we mourn for the blest?

THE WHITE SANDS PIE SOCIAL.

A grand Pie Social was held in the White Sands schoolhouse on Friday evening, the 10th of January instant. Although the night was stormy, the schoolhouse was crowded, even standing room was difficult to find. All the ladies in the district were present besides a large number from the adjoining districts. At 7 o'clock, sharp, the curtain was drawn and the performance began. John Kiely, Esq., presided. Besides the local talent that assisted we had from High Bank, Mrs. Hammond Nicolle, Miss Katie McSwain, Miss Flora C. McPhee, Miss Christie McLeod and Miss Minnie Jordan, Caleb Jordan, Wycliffe Jordan, Henry Jordan. The order was excellent. The following programme was disposed off in a manner that did great credit to the various performers. Each selection was greeted with great applause:—

Chorus—"Happy Greeting to All"...Choir
Recitation—"Socrates Snooks"..... ..... Miss Maggy Kiely
Violin Music.....Jordan Brothers
Recitation—"Is it Anybody's Business".....Miss Flora C. McPhee
Vocal Trio—"Annie Laurie"..... Mrs. H. Nicolle, Miss Christie McLeod and Miss Katie McSwain
Recitation—"The Country Justice"... ..... Mr. David Brooks
Reading—William's Choice"..... ..... Miss Maggie Bull
Violin Music..... ..... Jordan Brothers and Henry Beck
Recitation—"How Mike Mulligan lost his Head".....Luther Jordan
Song—"Mush, Mush".....Luther Jordan
Chorus—"Red, White and Blue"...Choir
Recitation—"The Guilty Child"..... ..... Miss Lauretta Ferguson
Song—"Old Rustic Bridge"..... ..... Miss Flora C. McPhee
Reading—"Paddy's Courting"..... ..... John R. Kiely
Vocal Duet— ..... Mr. Caleb Jordan and Miss Cassie Beck
Reading—"Mr. Blifkins' First Baby"... ..... Miss Bessie Clements
Violin Music..... ..... Jordan Bros. and Henry Beck
Vocal Duet—"The Highland Laddie"... ...Mrs. H. Nicoll and Miss C. McLeod
Stump Speech.....Mr. Henry Jordan
Vocal Duet—"Is There Room for Mary There?"..... ..... Miss M. Jordan and Miss C Beck.
Round by Three—"Good Night"..... Mrs. H. Nicolle, Miss M. Jordan and Miss C. Beck.

After the programme was ended the selling of pies began. Mr. David Glover acted as auctioneer, and did his part in a very able manner. The pies were all knocked down at a good figure.

Many thanks are due to the Committee in charge, especially to Mr. William Glover and Mr. William Clements, who know well how to make their neighbors feel happy on a stormy night like the 10th. A nice sum was realized, and is for the benefit of the School District. After the pies were sold each one went her own way accompanied by him.

Why Contemplate Suicide?

It is like tempting Providence for consumptives to ignore the remarkable remedy known as Miller's Emulsion of Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. For any person to die of consumption without trying this remarkable flesh and blood maker, after knowing of its existence, is suicide pure and simple. All that the consumptive patient needs is new blood with which to battle against the destructive forces of the disease, Miller's Emulsion provides new blood in abundance. It is a combination of Norwegian Oil and hypophosphites of lime and soda—a triumph of science. Miller's Emulsion is the great nerve strengthener and blood maker, and cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Scrofula and all Lung affections. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at all drug stores.

Counterfeits

A few years ago a great discovery was made.

Unprincipled persons are trying to prey upon and dupe people who are led to ask for kidney treatment.

Some of the methods adopted by imitators are as follows:

First—To imitate the size, color and shape of Dodd's Kidney Pills and sell them by count.

Second—To put them up to appear very nearly the same and to be offered at the same price.

Third—To hook on the word "kidney" in naming cathartic pills so as to increase sales of mere physic.

Fourth—To give a name so near to Dodd's that unwary people may be deceived and think they are getting Dodd's.

Look out for such dodges. When you want kidney medicine you want the best. And ought not to be the subject for any trick.

So beware.

In God's scale of justice the reward must be equal to the merit.

SOME SOLDIERS SAY differently, but nearly all the English garrisons have for years called "Kilty," "The Military Scotch." Give it a trial. Their judgment will be yours.

Tore His Flesh in Agony.

"I was troubled with blind itching piles for 20 years; was unable to work, and tore my flesh in agony. United States and Canadian doctors failed to relieve. Chase's Ointment was a God-send. I am a better man than in 20 years, and am able to work every day." Philip Wallace, blacksmith, Iroquois, Ont. Chases's Ointment cures piles, eczema and irritant diseases. All druggists 60c. per box.

Dr. Young records that at Gibraltar the human voice has been heard at a distance of ten miles, and it is true that over water as well as a surface of ice sound is propagated with extraordinary clearness and strength.

Bad Blood Between Them.

The ever-slaving farmer's wife, her delicate sister in the city, suffer more than they care to tell. The dark rings around the eyes, headaches, dizziness, palpitation or rheumatic twinges, betoken a run-down system. The blood is poor, and is a bar to enjoyment of life Scott's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, strengthens and vitalizes the system, and speedily restores the bloom of health to the cheeks. It cures when all others fail.

Advertisements, like a girl's waist, are often squeezed into too small a space to be attractive.

Nervous Prostration.

Cured effectually by Scott's Sarsaparilla.

His heart was affected.

"Overwork as a student at college brought on an attack of nervous prostration," says Mr. Gilbert, a railway missionary. "I was exceedingly nervous and if I exerted myself my heart commenced to flutter violently, and I was warned that even ordinary exercise endangered my life. But thanks to Scott's Sarsaparilla I feel better than I ever expected to feel, for I can now address a meeting without effort, can walk a brisk pace for two hours or more without exhaustion and am free from that distressing palpitation. In my work I have oftentime recommended Scott's Sarsaparilla, and have seen many cases where its effects have been most marked."

Scott's Sarsaparilla acts like magic in restoring shattered nerves because it rebuilds the nerve centres. Nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia and all nerve derangements wear on the system. Scott's Sarsaparilla makes new blood and muscles and strong nerves. Of all druggists, $1 per bottle. Dose from half to one teaspoonful.

THE WOMAN'S BIBLE.

It is Impossible to Take This Fanciful Production Seriously.

It is hardly possible to take "The Woman's Bible" seriously, so much of it is flippant and ridiculous; and yet it has a sober and significant aspect. The names of the women who prepared it, as far as it has been given to the public, are well known and highly respected. They represent in a distinct and practical sense the cause of the emancipation of their sex, as they call it, and nobody is disposed to question their sincerity. But it may be well doubted if their attempt to discredit the Scriptures in the interest of the mothers and daughters of the world will prove to be successful. On the contrary, it is likely to retard the progress of the movement to enlarge the sphere of woman and abolish the discriminations which are alleged to be unjust and injurious to her. These bold and eager critics of the greatest of all books do not speak by any authority of superior ability in that relation, and certainly they do not present anything that is either novel or impressive. For the most part, they merely repeat the time-worn sophistries and special pleadings of infidel writers in all ages; and the prevailing spirit of the work is supercilious and irreverent. It is comparatively easy, as all students of the Bible know, to point out technical discrepancies in it. Col. Ingersoll has made that sort of flawpicking familiar and more or less popular; but the efforts of these feminine scoffers to imitate him are sadly bungling and ineffective.

The fact is worth noting by way of illustrating the general character of the book that, while it contemptuously rejects the story of the creation of woman out of a rib taken from Adam while he slept, the story of the serpent and the temptation of Eve is practically accepted. Adam's conduct in the case is severely and justifiably condemned, and we are told that "the unprejudiced reader must be impressed with the courage, the dignity and the lofty ambition of the woman." Thus the touch of vanity that makes the whole sex kin serves to authenticate one miracle and to invalidate another in pretty contempt of the fact that they both have the same foundation and are equally credible. The story of the birth of Moses is accepted because it appeals to maternal instinct, and because only women were present when the baby was discovered among the bulrushes. By a similar process of distinction the story of Balaam and the ass is indorsed, because the ass was of the fem'nine gender. While Balaam was angry, headstrong and violent, we are informed, the ass calmly manifested "the keen spiritual insight and the ready power of speech with which the female sex has been specially endowed, and which are often referred to with ridicule and reproach by stolid, envious observers of the less impressionable sex." The e specimens indicate the drift of the work as a whole and the theory upon which it is based, if it can be said to have a theory.

There is nothing to be said in favor of such a book as a contribution to the literature of the woman question. It will provoke derision on the one hand, and on the other a feeling of profound pity and regret. The sentiment to which the cause of feminine advancement owes all of its triumphs and to which it must look for all of its future victories will surely not be increased by a performance of this sort. When the champions of the rights of the sex make their cause absurd they can not expect it to prosper. And that is the besetting weakness of their methods and policies. It is difficult to conceive of a worse mistake that they could make than that of antagonizing Christianity and making assaults upon the Bible that is the source of all that is good and true in our civilization. Women are most respected and honored on account of their moral and religious qualities. Men willingly accord to them a superiority in that respect, and pay them homage because of their devotion to spiritual interests. If they throw away that advantage and become skeptics and cynics as to matters of vital importance, their privileges and opportunities will not be extended. The infidel woman is a kind of contradiction of nature, an object of astonishment and aversion; and if the sex is wise it will never adopt that condition for the purpose of promoting its chances of welfare and happiness.

She Blamed the Fountain Pen.

"Annabel," called a rich shoeman's wife over the banister, as she heard the front door close.

"Yes, mamma," replied a sweet, girlish voice, and Annabel Garta slowly framed herself in the darkness of the staircase.

"Was that Mr. Toplif, Annabel?"

"It was, mamma."

"Do you know it is twenty minutes after eleven?" came in cold tones from the wrappered figure in the upper hall.

"Mamma, we hadn't the slightest idea it was so late," said the young lady earnestly.

"You see," she continued, Mr. Toplif has been telling me about China and Japan. He said everybody ought to know about the war, and it was so interesting we never thought how late it was getting. Do you know mamma," added the sweet girl, as she reached the landing, "that in China they—"

"Did Mr. Toplif draw a map of China, on your face, Annabel?" asked Mrs. Garta sternly.

"Why, mamma?" said the daughter in startled tones.

The young girl rushed to a mirror and saw with horror-stricken glance that the left side of her face was streaked and stained with ink.

"Heaven and earth," she screamed, "his fountain pen must have leaked into his waistcoat pocket!" and with a shriek of horror the beautiful girl fell fainting to the floor.

The Bicycle Foot.

"I have heard a great deal of the bicycle face," said an observing member of a local dry goods firm yesterday. "This alleged bicycle face may be a fact and it may not, but what I have observed is the bicycle foot. This is no myth, for I have a practical experience with it every day. I can tell everyone of our employes who is a bicycle rider, as they come into work in the morning. This is particularly noticeable Monday mornings. The wheelmen sometimes forget that they are not pushing the pedals, and in consequence they put down their feet with considerable more force than other men do. When you see a man, in his normal condition, stamping around the floor digging his toes in you can wager he is a wheelman. I have studied the matter carefully, and have won several wagers."—New York Tribune.

An Example.

Father—I hear, my boy, that you are in the habit of telling falsehoods. This grieves me to the heart. Always tell the truth, even though it may bring suffering upon you. Will you promise me?

"Yes, sir."

"Very well. Now go and see who is knocking at the door. If it is Bingly, say I'm not at home."
