FINDS $1,000, REMAINS BROKE

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — James Barton says he is selling his car because he does not have $30 to fix it.

He has a $1,000 bill, but the sheriff's office will not let him break it.

Barton, 20, who does odd jobs, found the bill on a Rockford street Friday night.

"It was just lying there big as life," he reported. "I felt better after I turned it in."

Sheriff's officers told Barton he would have to advertise three weeks, wait a year, and the bill would be his—if nobody claimed it.

"It'll come in handy in my old age," said Barton sadly.

Thompson Hopes For Release Of Canadians

TRONTO (CP)—The Globe and Mail quotes Robert N. Thompson as saying he believes the release of foreign missionaries held by rebel Congolese troops can be negotiated.

But the paper, reporting on a telephone interview with Mr. Thompson, in Nairobi seeking the release of Canadian hostages being held in Stanleyville, said the national leader of Canada's Social Credit party believes the situation is becoming increasingly critical.

Reports from The Congo indicate about 1,000 foreign missionaries, including about 33 Canadians, are being held by the rebels.

"The crucial meeting on the situation will be Thursday or Friday in Addis Ababa," said Mr. Thompson, who was sent to Africa last week by the Canadian government. We will know more at that time.

"In The Congo today there is complete collapse. As the government forces are moving northwards the rebels are going more and more out of the control of their leaders."

Mr. Thompson said he has been in constant touch with Western and African diplomats in Nairobi and has had direct word from Stanleyville, "but on a classified basis only and it would not be in the best interest of the hostages to say how contract was established or disclose what we have learned."

Mr. Thompson said he was to leave Nairobi for Addis Ababa today. The Ethiopian capital is the headquarters of the Organization for African Unity, whose tasks include restoring peace among warring tribes.

U.S. Icebreaker Has Tough Trip To Arctic Area

NEW YORK (AP)—The U.S Coast Guard icebreaker Westwind has sailed into New York harbor after six months spent battling the worst Arctic ice in her history.

The vessel also was credited with helping to save some 65 inhabitants of an Eskimo village from starvation.

The 6,000 - ton Westwind had just about finished her job of escorting supply ships through the ice to Thule and other bases when she learned a Danish freighter carrying food was unable to reach the village of Savigssivik

The icebreaker escorted the Danish ship to Thule, where the supplies were reloaded onto a larger vessel. Then the second ship was escorted by the Westwind to within 500 yards of the Eskimo village.

Bishops Claim Nuclear Arms Okay In Defence

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Auxiliary Bishop Philip Hannan of Washington, D.C., told the Vatican Ecumenical Council here a nation has a right to defend itself with nuclear weapons.

He argued there were mistakes in a council document that would place the Roman Catholic Church on record as saying that all nuclear arms are "an enormous crime" and should be "utterly destroyed and banned."

A British prelate, Archbishop George Andrew Beck of Liverpool, backed Bishop Hannan's view. He said it was possible in a just defensive war to use nuclear weapons "even of vast force" against certain targets. He defended the balance of power concept in maintaining world peace.

The two spoke in St. Peter's Basilica during the second and final day of debate on a 750-word section, about war and peace, in the council's schema on modern world problems.

Many cardinals, archbishops and bishops had spoken for a strong council condemnation of all nuclear armaments and had endorsed a plea in the schema that nuclear arms and other arms of like destructive force be destroyed and banned.

"Certainly we hold war in horror," Bishop Hannan told the 2,000 council fathers, "but we must state with precision what is prohibited in waging war to those who justly and laudably defend liberty."

He said the schema contained "a grave mistake of fact," and reached "a false conclusion" in stating that the effect of nuclear arms are beyond imagination and cannot be reasonably regulated by man.
