Russians Unveil Huge Missiles As Nazi Surrender Is Observed

MOSCOW (Reuters) — The Soviet Union Sunday unveiled two huge "orbital" missiles during the biggest military show in its history, an hour-long parade marking the 20th anniversary of the surrender of Nazi Germany.

The cigar-shaped missiles, 117 feet long with 40-45 inch nose cones, were trundled through Red Square by eight-wheeled trailers at the end of the parade.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the huge rockets can carry warheads of "fantastic" power and are practically invulnerable because they can find their targets from any direction.

It said the missiles are similar to the ones that put the Vostok and Voskhod spacehips into orbit. The booster rocket that launched the latest Voskhod in March was said to have a 1,000,000-pound thrust.

Western military experts said later the missiles are capable of carrying nuclear warheads, have "obviously tremendous range," and are "possibly superior" to the American Saturn V rocket.

U.S. IS ABSENT
U.S. Ambassador Foy Kohler stayed away from the parade and from a Kremlin reception following the British, Italian and West German envoys also stayed away from the parade, but the British and Italian ambassadors attended the reception.

Lord Caithness Dies In Scotland

BALMORAL, Scotland (AP) — The Earl of Caithness, 58, resident manager of the Queen's Balmoral and Birkhall estate, died Saturday after a long illness.

Two years ago a thrombosis forced the amputation of the earl's right leg.

Lord Caithness served in the British Army with the Gordon Highlanders and fought with the regiment during the Second World War.

After the war, he was appointed military adviser to the Burmese government with the task of reshaping the Burma Army on British lines. Two years later, he became military adviser to Ceylon.

Surviving are Lady Caithness, his second wife; one son, and four daughters.

His one son and heir is Lord Bervardale, born in 1948.

Divorce Law Suggestion Sparks Debate In Britain

The AP world spotlight this week surveys a British divorce controversy, takes a look at a depressed area in West Germany, reports on oil-rich Libya and tells about a tickling South African development.

A. P. Herbert, then a member of the House of Commons, almost a decade to persuade Parliament to allow such grounds as incurable insanity. That was just before the Second World War.

SEEK REFORMS
Ever since, reformers have been trying to broaden the doctrine beyond its present basis of "matrimonial offence." Divorce lawyers and judges privately admit that proving such an offence—adultery or cruelty—has become something of a charade.

A weekend in a hotel with a Miss X is common.

Leo Abse, a Labour member of Parliament, has been trying to introduce divorce by consent for years but his bills have been shelved down under House of Commons procedure that permits by mutual consent.

But, he said, married couples with young children should not be divorced under any circumstances. He defined young children as those under 16 or 17.

British divorce laws of a generation ago made adultery the only ground. It took author

Soviet Embassy Members Are Expelled From Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — Two members of the Soviet embassy staff who paid "thousands of dollars" in a bid to obtain secret defence and industrial data have been expelled from Canada, the government announced Saturday.

The external affairs department said the money was paid to a Canadian government employee and a naturalized Canadian citizen by A. E. Bytchkov, a commercial attaché, and V. N. Poluchkin, a chancery clerk. Neither Canadian was identified.

Admiral Grant Dies At Age 66

OTTAWA (CP) — Vice-Admiral T. W. Grant, a battle-scarred veteran of two world wars who rose to become chief of the Canadian naval staff, died suddenly Saturday at his home in suburban Rockcliffe Park. He was 66.

Admiral Grant was appointed chief of the naval staff in September, 1947, and held the post until his retirement at the end of 1950.

A native of Halifax, he was the son of the late MacCallum Grant, a former lieutenant-governor of Nova Scotia.

Admiral Grant was given command of the Canadian destroyer Skeena in 1938 and a year later that ship was assigned to take King George VI and Queen Elizabeth to and from Prince Edward Island during their royal tour of Canada.

Following his retirement he was president of Home Steamship Lines at Montreal and headed the Royal Canadian Navy Benevolent fund from 1956 to 1963.

His wife, a son and two daughters survive.

Soviets Aim Lunik V At Moon

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union aimed a 3,254-pound electronic instrument package called Lunik V at the moon Sunday in a space spectacular on the 20th anniversary of the defeat of Nazi Germany.

The payload, carrying various scientific measuring apparatus, was hoisted aloft by a multi-stage rocket, the official news agency Tass announced.

Soviet ground stations said Lunik V is functioning normally and close to its planned course for a collision with the moon. Tass said it was about 20,000 miles from earth at 10 p.m. (6 p.m. ADT) in the 250-60 mile space trip.

The announcement said Lunik V was fitted with measuring instruments for scientific research. This apparently meant no attempt would be made to send back pictures of the moon's surfaces.

An earlier Soviet Lunik took pictures of the dark side of the moon, but other Luniks have failed to perform as planned.

Boy, Girl Killed At Truro Heights

TRURO (CP) — Gail Giles and Paul Hansen, both 15, died Saturday night after they were struck by a car near their homes at nearby Truro Heights.

The girl died on the scene and the boy died in hospitals shortly after. Both were pedestrians.

Summerside Fire Chief Stricken After Blaze

SUMMERSIDE — Town Fire Chief Leo Wood is resting comfortably in Prince County Hospital following a heart attack after the town fire department battled a lengthy fire here yesterday afternoon.

The attack is believed to have occurred when the chief was putting the fire equipment away after firemen had fought a three-hour blaze that completely destroyed a warehouse in the area of Lisdone wharf. Mr. Wood was the only casualty. His attending physician is Dr. Henry Morse.

The fire, well advanced when firemen arrived, broke out at two p.m. and was extinguished three hours later. No surrounding property was damaged. Cause and total amount of damage was not known.

Mrs. Milton Bagliole of Summerside and owner of the warehouse, had been planning to sell it.

Violations Of Cease Fire Charged In Santo Domingo

SANTO DOMINGO (Reuters) — The United States made formal charges Sunday of cease-fire violations by rebel forces as diplomatic sources forecast an almost certain intensification of the fighting in this war-shattered Dominican capital.

The charges against the rebel regime led by Col. Francisco Caamaño Duenas were made in a note from American Ambassador William Tapley Bennett to the secretary-general of the Organization of American States, Jose Mora.

The note charged seven violations of the cease-fire agreement negotiated by the OAS between the rebels and the forces loyal to the military junta.

The rebels resigned to make way for a five-man military and civilian government of national reconstruction.

The ambassador also protested about "irresponsible charges" by the rebel-controlled radio Santo Domingo. He claimed broadcasts of denunciations of U.S. troops as "invaders" constitute an "invitation to violence."

Although it now has 21,000 soldiers, marines and airmen in Santo Domingo, the United States is not a signatory to the truce. But it has said it will respect its conditions.

Informed sources said the United States was hesitant to appear as a party to the truce, since it did not take part in the original fighting between the rebels and the forces loyal to the military junta after the initial uprising against the junta, headed by Donald Reid Cabral.

Matter Concerns All Provinces

By STEWART MacLEOD
MONTREAL (CP) — Prime Minister Pearson and Quebec Premier Jean Lesage met for almost six hours during the weekend in an attempt to settle the ticklish treaty-making controversy, but no firm conclusions were reached.

"Very satisfactory progress," was the way Mr. Pearson described the talks.

Mr. Lesage said, "we've reached a point where we have to discuss it with our respective cabinets."

No details were disclosed by the two men, but the tone of the post-meeting comments indicated that, with cabinet support, the two governments may be close to a clear definition of the provincial position.

While a number of subjects came up at the Saturday night and Sunday morning sessions, the question of whether Quebec has the right to conclude international agreements was the main issue.

The two leaders met for nearly four hours on the question last Monday night in Ottawa.

There are no agreements to be mentioned, nor did we come here for the purpose of making any," the prime minister said Sunday.

The treaty question, he said, was discussed "from our respective points of view and we tried to reconcile the legitimate provincial interests with the constitutional position of the federal government for its jurisdiction and control of foreign policy."

"While we haven't finished, we have made a good deal of progress."

Former Austrian Chancellor Dies

VIENNA (Reuters) — Leopold Figl, 62, who survived Nazi floggings to become Austria's first chancellor after the Second World War and signed the treaty that restored its independence, died here Sunday after a long illness.

Later this week Figl was to have taken part with leading foreign ministers in celebrations of the 10th anniversary of the Austrian state treaty which cleared the way for withdrawal of occupation troops in 1955 and gave Austria independence for the first time since 1938, when it was annexed to Hitler's Third Reich.

Fire Destroys Potato Building

FLORENCEVILLE, N.S. (CP) — Fire of unknown origin here early Saturday destroyed a potato storage house owned by the McCain Produce Company Ltd. Loss was estimated at $60,000.

Company president Harrison McCain said the blaze would cause a major setback in his company's plans for the 1965 potato season.

Mr. Harrison said the two-story structure contained about 3,000 barrels of foundation seed potatoes owned by McCain Foods Ltd. "A lot of the seed lost will be impossible to replace at this time."

He said youth has problems with the church "which simply fails to put across its teachings in any palatable way."

Mr. Smith said when the church understands the needs of youth, knows what it wants to say to meet those needs and says it in a clear and convincing manner, youth will listen and respond."

Wyman Waddell of Albany, P.E.I., was named the Maritime region's new president, succeeding William Graham of Windsor, N.S.

Showers Ease Fears In Brush Fire Areas

HALIFAX (CP) — Showers Sunday and a forecast of more during the night for the entire Maritime Provinces eased the concern of foresters after a busy weekend of fighting brush fires, particularly in Nova Scotia.

After about 30 fires in Nova Scotia during the weekend, including extensive blazes in the southwestern and valley regions, the forestry department fire danger index dropped to low for the three provinces today.

Patrols and mopping up operations were in progress Sunday along the fringes of several outbreaks in the western part of the province. RCMP were investigating the origin of 12 fires in the Preston area of Halifax County. Large fires near Albany, in Kings County and Mill Village, Queens County, were reported "contained."

Equipment was dropped by parachute to men fighting a blaze in the Lake Michichie area of Yarmouth County after burning an estimated 400 to 500 acres in two days. The fire was under control Sunday. The men had been flown in by amphibious planes, prevented from landing later with equipment by fog.

The fires, including one Saturday which threatened several homes in the Jordan Falls area, near Shelburne, burned mostly through scrub spruce and brush. RCMP said the down fires in the Preston area broke out in a "relatively confined" area and there were no buildings in the immediate vicinity. Another small fire in Hants County was being investigated.
