Advertise well! though business be wanted; those who spend the freest must win in the end, Up and be doing! no need for complaining, act for yourself and be your own friend.

A Few Hens for Profit.

One of the most successful men with a few hens that we know is Mr. A. F. Hunter, who conducts a small but very profitable poultry farm near Boston. It has been well said of him, "he writes sound common sense for his readers and he evidently knows what he is talking about."

Odds and Ends.

If you want trade To secure it! ADVERTISE To retain it? First newspaper man—Did you do any literary work on your voyage across? Second Newspaper man—Yes, I contributed extensively to the Atlantic—Peck's Sm.

Mrs. Fondwife—"Yes, I have a secret for making my husband happy. I add something to his cares and that diminishes them. Mrs. Giggles—"O, do tell me what it is." Mrs. Fondwife—"I add an 's.' Bridget—Shall I leave the lamp burning, ma'am? Mistress—No, I'm pretty sure Mr. Jones won't be home until daylight. He kissed me three times before he left, and gave me twenty dollars for a new spring bonnet.

Author—I want you to give my book a good notice. I want to see it in the hands of every mother, wife and daughter in the country. Editor—I can fix that. In criticising the book I'll say that it is not a proper book for any self-respecting lady to read, and then they all will buy it.

Miss Cutwell—Papa, you are real stingy to refuse me that bracelet. Did you see Sadie Shoddy's jewelry at the ball? Cutwell (an honest clothier)—My dear, Sadie's father is a very rich man. Why, papa, how can you say so? Have you not seen poor Mr. Shoddy's advertisement, headed "Awful Sacrifices?" He says he is selling at half the cost of manufacture. What has made him richer than you, then? Those "awful sacrifices," my dear.

At the Wrong House—Servant, answering bell: My master isn't in sir; you may leave the bill, if you wish. Caller, in surprise: Bill! I have no bill. I wish to— Servant, in surprise: No bill? Then you must have called at the wrong house.

Father, asked the young son of Deacon Squibbs, what is the difference between a man who dyes wool on lambs and a New York editor? Well, now, really, my son (beaming benignly on his offspring), I am not prepared to state. What is the difference? Why, pa, one is a lamb dyer, and the other a— What! what! my son! New York editor, continued the youth, rolling his tongue around in his cheek. Young wife—"You are not going out tonight, are you?" Husband—"Yes, my dear, I must go back to the office and post my books. I'm afraid I'll be kept late." Y. W.—"Not going anywhere except to the office?" H.—"No, no." Y. W.—"Well, then, step into Strong, Small & Co's. around the corner from your office, on your way down. They'll be open until eight o'clock. Get a couple of mackerel, and bring them home with you when you come." H.—"Ye-es, my dear. Good night." Wife—(to herself, as her husband departs)—"He won't do much theatre going with those mackerel in his pocket."

$500 REWARD

is offered by the manufacturer of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of Chronic Nasal Catarrh which they cannot cure. SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.—Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; the eyes are weak, watery, and inflamed; there is itching in the ears, deafness, sticking or crawling in the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the voice is changed and has a nasal twang; the breath is offensive, and the taste is impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility. Only a few of the above-named symptoms are likely to be present in any one case. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood by physicians. By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of Catarrh, "cold in the head," Coryza, and Catarrh of the sinuses. Sold by druggists everywhere; 50 cents.

"Untold Agony" from Catarrh.

Prof. W. HADNER, the famous mesmerist, of Dhaca, N. Y., writes: "Some 15 years ago I suffered untold agony from chronic nasal catarrh. My family physician gave me up as incurable, and said I must die. I saw such a case, and every day, towards sunset, my voice would become so hoarse I could barely speak above a whisper. In the morning my coughing and clearing of my throat would almost strangle me. By the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, in three months, I was a well man, and the cure has been permanent."

"Constantly Hawking and Spitting." THOMAS J. HERRING, Esq., 2509 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was a great sufferer from catarrh for three years. I could hardly breathe, and was constantly hawking and spitting, and for the last eight months I could not breathe through the nostrils. I thought nothing could be done for me. Luckily, I was advised to try Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I am now a well man. I believe it to be the only cure remedy for catarrh now sold by druggists everywhere; 50 cents."

Three Bottles Cure Catarrh. ELI ROBBINS, Rutland P. O., Columbia Co., Pa., says: "My daughter had catarrh when she was five years old, very badly. I saw Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy advertised, and procured a bottle for her, and soon saw that it cured a bottle; and one had cured a second helped her; a third bottle effected a permanent cure. She is now eleven years old and next cure."
