THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JANUARY 5, 1894.

ELECTION IN CHARLOTTETOWN.

THERE will be a civic election on Wednesday, the 14th day of February. On that day there will be elected a Mayor, eight councillors, and a Water Commissioner to take the part of Mr. Alexander McKinnon. The term for which the Mayor and Councillors will be elected is two years; that of the Water Commissioner three years. For the Mayor and Councillors rate-payers throughout the entire city have the right to vote; for the Councillors, only ratepayers in the respective wards have the right to vote. Three Councillors will be elected for Ward Five, two for Ward Four, and one each for Wards Three, Two and One. These are the main facts to be borne in mind. It is to be hoped that, in any case, only fit men will be elected—capable and judicious men of business, men who will continuously support the Stipendiary Magistrate and the police in their effort to enforce the laws as to liquor selling, Sunday observance and everything else that pertains to the peace sobriety, health and good government of the town; active and progressive men who will prudently, and consistently with the means at their disposal, promote civic improvements. Apart from one or two particularly discreditable scenes in the Council, and the silly game of hide and seek which was played at the beginning of last year, the members of the retiring Council have, on the whole, done well for the city. The repair of Grafton Street, north of Queen Square, under the supervision of Mr. Douglass, was well done; and if it shall appear, when the accounts are published, that the work was not too costly, our citizens will be ready to give the credit to whom it was due. Taxpayers will not object to pay taxes which are economically expended in the permanent improvement of streets and sidewalks. On the contrary, they will commend the Councillors who thus use the money entrusted to their care. But they will protest against the wasteful practice of throwing dirt upon the streets and laying shaky hemlock plankways.

Several questions will, we presume, be discussed in the interval previous to the civic elections. Many citizens object to the redistribution of wards which was made two years ago, and desire that for which THE EXAMINER has all along contended, viz., the abolition of the ward system and the election of all the councillors by all the rate-payers, as in Summerside and St. John, and as our Mayor and Water Commissioners are elected. But whether these persons are ready to make the question an issue in the coming election, we know not. Too frequent changes are not good; the Legislature would probably object to so soon again amending our Incorporation Act; and it may be that the rottenness and unfairness of our old ward system have not yet been made sufficiently manifest to the rate-payers to make them vote it out. The question likely to absorb most of the attention of rate-payers is that which Mr. Charles Heartz so vigorously discusses in the letter which we publish to-day. If the promoters of the sewerage system "mean business" they ought soon to be heard upon the other side. Citizens must have time to consider a matter of such importance; and if sewerage be not promptly and vigorously advocated, they will, of course, postpone their decision. The Sanitary Association ought to be heard from without delay. If they hope to see the City Council of the next two years authorized to deal with the sewerage matter, the time has arrived in which to convince the rate payers that sewerage is needed. If needed in the interests of health and human life, as well as for the convenience of the people, then we should at once seriously consider the ways and means of procuring sewerage, so that the rate payers may be ready to vote for it on the 14th of February.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—Those who are in favor of prohibition should begin now to prepare for it by total abstinence.

—The St. John Telegraph says: "If the use of liquor with all the evils involved in it, could be at once banished from Canada by a single legislative act every man would hold up both hands in favor of prohibition. But if, on the other hand, a prohibitory law deprived us of the revenue now derived from liquor, and did not decrease drinking, then it is clear that the people of Canada would be paying a high price for something which they were not receiving, and the situation would speedily become intolerable. A bald vote, yes or no, in favor of prohibition will be of little value, in a moral sense, even if followed by legislation, unless the people have made up their minds that the law must be enforced at all hazards, and liquor drinking stamped out in Canada."

—Sir William Dawson, president of the Geological Society of America, in a paper read in Boston a few days ago, said "that evidence had been found that a continental plateau once connected North America with Asia. The western part of Behring Sea, it was said, had as yet been very imperfectly explored with the deep sea lead, but the available evidence went to show that the submarine plateau and the flat land of western Alaska were covered by a shallow sea during the Miocene period, and that the plateau probably stood out as land when the mammoth reached the Pribylof islands. There was, the writer said, an entire absence of general glaciation in the land ice in the regions surrounding the Behring sea, and only evidences of a recent slight uplift of from 10 to 30 feet were observable."

—The civic estimates of New York city (population 1,600,000) for the current year reach the enormous total of over 38½ million dollars. This is a larger total than the expenditure of the Dominion of Canada, which includes the cost of operating 1200 miles of railway and the great canal systems of the country, the expense of all the post offices and mail routes in the country, the maintenance of steamers and mail and other subsidies to steamship lines, the payment of all the customs, inland revenue and other government officials in the country, the maintenance and police supervision of the Indian population, and interest on the debt, the subsidies to the provinces, the promotion of immigration and the other great public services of the country. New York's civic government costs more than $20 per head of the population, which if applied to Charlottetown would mean an annual expenditure of something like $240,000 a year.

D. M. JONSSON, Esq., M. D., Port Hawkesbury, certified: "I have used Puttner's Emulsion with great satisfaction where Cod Liver Oil is called for. I recommend it as so disguising the oil that patients never refuse to take it."

NEWS OF THE WORLD.

A thousand deaths from cholera have occurred at Teneriffe, one of the Canary Islands, since the beginning of the outbreak. At present the epidemic is subsiding rapidly. Trade has been paralyzed.

Prince Maximilian, nephew of the King of Saxony, was lately ordained a Catholic priest. He is the fifth child and next to the youngest son of Prince George, brother of the King of Saxony, and the late Maria Anna, Infanta, of Portugal.

A Jacksonville, Fla., despatch says: Mitchell, this afternoon signed an agreement to fight Corbett on the twenty-fifth instant, at any place in Duval or St. John's county, Fla., selected by the Duval athelete club. This makes the fight a sure thing. Corbett will sign to-night.

Miss Lizzie Everett, of Lebanon, Alabama, awoke on Sunday from a sleep of a week's duration. During that time she never opened her eyes, and subsisted on milk that was poured down her throat. She had a similar sleep lasting two weeks some time ago.

The hard times have forced Harvard college to restrench. Two professors and four instructors have been notified that their services will not be required after the close of the current academic year. Last year there was a deficit of $25,000 in the college accounts, due to increased expenses and the world's fair exhibit.

Thomas Payne King, a rich old miser, dropped dead on the street at Wichita, Kan., on the 2nd inst. He was an officer in the British army and one of the famous 600 who stormed the Heights of Balaklava. Though a man of superior education and attainments, and possessed of much property, he lived in squalor, dressed in rags, and ate refuse from hotel and restaurant kitchens.

According to a late despatch from St. John, Nfld., the condition of things at Red Island, Placentia is pitiable beyond description. Typhoid fever is raging and people are in a fearful state. Fever is in fifteen houses and ten deaths have occurred. In one house the two parents are dead, and children lay around on the floor, stricken with the same disease, with no one to help them.

While the family of Jerome Kironac were at dinner at Quebec on New Year's Day, a child, 17 months old, began to cry, and to quiet her they gave her a teaspoonful of rye whiskey. As soon as the child had swallowed the liquor it began to suffocate, its face turned blue, and in a moment it lay dead in its mother's arms. An inquest was held, and a verdict of death from suffocation caused by rye whiskey was returned.

The recent revival of the agitation for a new trial of Mrs. Maybrick, confined in Woking prison because convicted of having poisoned her husband, has ended in a fizzle. The home office denies that it has received the important new evidence which Mrs. Maybrick's friend was said to have produced. Mrs. Maybrick is now employed in the kitchen of Woking prison when she is not in the hospital. She will have no chance of being released until after serving the tenth year of her term.

Drs. Glassco and Roger, of Hamilton, Ont., are suffering from mild attacks of small pox. Some time ago Dr. Roger was in attendance on a man named Jackson, who was found suffering from small pox in a tenement. He contracted the disease, and Dr. Glassco attended him. Then Dr. Glassco came down with the disease, and now both doctors are laid up. Four people resident in the tenement in which Jackson was taken ill are suffering from the disease. The house has been thoroughly isolated and no further danger is apprehended. All the cases are of a very mild type.

A Vienna despatch to the London Times says the pastoral letter of the Hungarian bishops is calculated to place a powerful weapon against the government in the hands of the lower clergy. It invokes the authority of the apostles in contending that obedience is due to God rather than to a man and declares that the government bills in regard to mixed marriages, civil marriages, etc., are breaches of catholic dogma and contradict the fundamental principles of Christianity. It calls upon all Catholics to support their pastors and to jointly defend the rights of their church and says their actions in public affairs must be governed by this object.

Near Rocky Hill, Barren County, Ky., on Saturday night, while William Bishop was giving a party at his grandmother's, his father, who was drinking, wanted to turn the affair into a dance. Willie objected, and the father securing a pistol, went out and fired on his son through the window, wounding him in the shoulder. The son rushed out, and, meeting his father, both began shooting. They emptied their pistols and drew knives, which they plunged into each other until they were separated. The father was shot three times and his throat was cut from ear to ear. Will am received several dangerous cuts.

The number of suicides in New York city during the past year will amount to 315, or about 25 per cent. over 1892, during which only 241 were reported. There has been no such increase as this since 1884, the ratio of suicides to the population being almost invariably uniform. In 1884, says the Press, the increase was ascribed to the financial stringency, and the same cause is believed to account for the increase this year. "Out of work" is believed to be the cause of eight out of every ten of these deaths. The men who committed suicide during the year outnumbered the women by 80 per cent., and the Germans have nearly one-third of the total number.

Mr. W. T. Stead has insulted the fashionable ladies of Chicago by telling them to their faces that they are "lower than the most abandoned women in Fourth Avenue." The leader of Chicago society says: "We have had all sorts of vice, misery and crime in Chicago, but we may be thankful that we had no Stead. I think the man is crazy, and the best thing to do is to drive him out of town." Apparently the ladies are urging their husbands and brothers to avenge the insult by making things hot for Mr. Stead, and it might be well for him to betake himself to some place where outspokenness is more highly appreciated.

It will surprise most people to learn that smallpox is a less fatal disease where there is efficient medical supervision than any of the other prevalent contagious diseases except scarlet fever and measles. Of 433 cases of smallpox reported in New York city last year, only 98, or a fraction over 21 per cent., were fatal; of 481 cases of typhus fever, no less than 190, or nearly 40 per cent., were fatal; of 1013 cases of typhoid fever, 337; or 37 per cent., were fatal, and of 6,346 cases of diphtheria, no less than 1944, or over 30 per cent., were fatal. Scarlet fever cases numbered 5539 in the year, of which about 10 per cent. were fatal, but only about 5 per cent. of the 7,119 cases of measles reported had a fatal termination.

A late despatch from Rome says: A deputation from the Chamber of deputies visited King Humbert on New Years day and offered him new year congratulations. The King in reply said he had full confidence in the accord between the government and the chamber of deputies that was necessary to solve the financial problems confronting the country and to ameliorate the economic situation. King Humbert added that happily he could affirm with certainty that peace would be maintained, thus permitting the government to dedicate its labors completely to internal affairs. Referring to the situation in Sicily, his majesty said he sorrowed because of the recent manifestations there, and hoped that the reforms the government were preparing would appease the people of the island.

Mead will be consecrated Bishop of Cork in succession to Bishop Gregg.

HEALTH MAXIMS.

OUR business men and others might well ponder the following, which originated, we believe in the Chicago Medical Times:

"The true secret of health and long life lies in very simple things:

Don't worry.

Don't hurry. 'Too swift arrives as tardy as too slow.'

Don't overeat. Don't starve. 'Let your moderation be known to all men.'

'Simplify! Simplify! Simplify!

Court the fresh air day and night. 'O, if you knew what was in the air!'

Sleep and rest abundantly. Sleep is nature's benediction.

Spend less nervous energy each day than you make.

Be cheerful. 'A light heart lives long.'

'Work like a man; but don't be worked to death.'

Avoid passion and excitement. A moment's anger may be fatal.

Associate with healthy people. Health is contagious as well as disease.

Don't carry the world on your shoulders, much less the universe. Trust the eternal.

Never despair. 'Lost hope is a fatal disease.'

T. M. Healy, M. P., Dublin, and Francis J. Rafferty, Monaghan, who are conducting the case in conjunction with him in the Irish courts. The estate, we understand, was worth some $40,000, but strange to say was distributed without regard to the claim of Mr. Johnston's client, who has instituted proceedings against the distributees.
