T. L. C. Begins Its 71st Year; Policy Unchanged

By John LeBlanc
Canadian Press Staff Writer
REGINA, (CP)—The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, the country's oldest and biggest union body, started its 71st year Sunday with a young new leader but with its policies basically unchanged.

In a week of resolutions that ended late Saturday, the 500,000 member Congress generally reaffirmed its existing views and put 41-year-old Claude Jodoin of Montreal into office as president to administer them.

The burly Jodoin, youngest TLC president and first French-Canadian to hold the office in 45 years, will take over Nov. 1 from 71-year-old Percy R. Bengough who retired and was made "president emeritus" after 12 years in office.

WANT MORE JOBS
At Saturday's session, the 695 delegates adopted a resolution calling on the federal government to start a program of public works and construction of low-rental housing to boost the number of available jobs.

One departure from existing Congress practice Saturday was a demand for a national flag and the designation of "O Canada" as the national anthem. Previously the TLC had steered away from a stand on this question. The resolution came from the Quebec Federation of Labor.

Earlier in the week, the Congress administered more jolts to Communist unions, backed the stand of non-operating railworkers in their contract dispute with the railways and endorsed a historic no-raiding pact with the rival Canadian Congress of Labor with 375,000 members.

REFUSE READMISSION
The anti-Communist actions were a refusal to readmit the Red-influenced British Columbia Fishermen's Union, under suspension for Red domination, and to toughen procedure for such suspended unions getting back in.

The proposed no-raid pact with the CCL—was endorsed by that congress at its convention late in September—is expected to curtail expensive and often rough jurisdictional battles and is regarded by many observers as a forerunner of eventual amalgamation.

In Saturday's unemployment debate—the only major one of a day that saw scores of resolutions rushed through in machine-gun style—the Congress suggested development of the power potential the Fraser and Columbia rivers in British Columbia and the West and the development of a natural gas pipeline to the west coast from the Peace river area, straddling northern Alberta and British Columbia.

SUGGESTS SHORTER WEEK
Jack Bruce of Toronto, Canadian chief of the Plumbers' Union, called unemployment a "terrible problem."

"The only solution is to cut down the number of hours we work, but not the pay," Toronto plumber Harry Lees said. "We need a five-day, 30-hour week, otherwise we are going to have an economic bellyache next winter."

Lees said the development of atomic energy is going to increase unemployment.

Charles Stewart, Vancouver Street Railwayman, said the federal government "betrayed the workers" in "allowing" last winter's post-war unemployment high. He predicted another 750,000 will be unemployed next winter.

SAYS DEPRESSION NEAR
Ken Green of Halifax, president of an association of government workers, said he thinks "Canada is at the doorway of a depression and that temporary measures are no good."

Expect New Phase of Red Diplomatic Offensive Will Be Fairly Spectacular

By William L. Ryan
AP Foreign News Analyst
The next phase of the Soviet diplomatic offensive now being plotted by Moscow leaders, probably to coincide with the opening in New York Sept. 21 of the United Nations General Assembly's ninth session, Russian moves in about three weeks are likely to be fairly spectacular.

The Russians may confidently be expected to centre heavy propaganda on two major drives.

The first will be to prevent West German rearmament with a West-European security framework. The UN probably will afford the platform from which the Russians launch their alternative proposals, whose ultimate aim will be to isolate the United States from its allies.

This drive is likely to involve an offer of mutual security arrangements to European states plus the broadening of East-West trade relations. The price will be the abandonment of what Moscow calls "aggressive blocs."

The second objective will be to defeat the purposes of the Southeast Asia defence meeting scheduled aimed at a basic solution rather than trying an aspirin tablet cure like trying to fix up a hangover," he said.

In the long string of other resolutions passed Saturday almost without debate the congress:

1—Asked for the "nationalization" of public utilities. The exact meaning of this was not explained in an undated resolution submitted by the Quebec Federation of Labor.

2—Called for the establishment of a public works advisory committee and for a federal natural gas conservation and planning commission.

3—Protested "double taxation" in Quebec income taxes.

4—Asked action to prevent the imposition of embargoes by the United States on Canadian fish products.

5—Favored trade with all countries willing to accept Canadian goods and the acceptance of importation from such countries provided adequate protection was given against dumping.

6—Asked that the Canadian and U. S. government use their prestige to help bring about prohibition of the hydrogen and atomic bombs.

7—Proposed establishment of a price spreads committee.

8—Urged improvements in unemployment insurance coverage.

9—Decided to have a committee study the question of a guaranteed annual wage, sought by some big labor bodies, but refused to accede to a resolution calling for a guaranteed annual wage base on $2,500 a year net income for a family of four.

10—Asked federal legislation for equal pay for the same work done by men and women.

11—Asked for a national bill of rights that would include Indians without requiring them to give up their reservation privileges.

12—Proposed increased old age pensions.

13—Asked increased grants from the federal government for post-graduate university students.

2nd B-36 Crash Within 24 Hours

EL PASO, Tex. (CP)—A giant 10-engine B-36 bomber crash-landed here Saturday night, killing one man and injuring 15.

It was the second B-36 crash within 24 hours. Twenty-four men, including a Canadian, were killed and three injured when a B-36 crashed and burned Friday night near Rapid City, S.D.

The U. S. Air Force Saturday listed AC Theodore M. Herbert of Montreal as one of the 24 crew members killed when the B-36 smashed into a knoll short of Ellsworth air force base.

Both planes, largest propeller-driven craft in the U. S. Air Force, crashed during training flights.

Moncton Boy Drowned in Ont.

BELLEVILLE (CP) — Allan Larracey, 16, a native of Moncton, N.B., was drowned Sunday while swimming about 150 feet off shore in the Bay of Quinte just west of here. He was believed to have become entangled in thick weeds.

Michael Perry, five-year-old deaf mute, was playing on the shore at the time and didn't hear Larracey's cries for help.

Allan had been visiting his sister Mrs. W. R. Miller, at the RCAF housing unit at Trenton, 12 miles west of here. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Larracey, live in Moncton.

DIDN'T LIKE SCHOOL
TORONTO (CP)—Three youngsters caused more than $500 damage to a west-end public school, it was revealed Wednesday. A school trustee said the boys, aged 7, 8 and 9, started fires in several classrooms and used ink to extinguish them, daubed paste over desks and chairs, emptied a fire extinguisher in the principal's office, emptied cans of soup taken from the canteen in the nurse's office and tore fire alarms off the walls.

MEETING WAS SUCCESS
The Russians proposed a four-power meeting asking only that Red Chinese "interests also be discussed. The West accepted. From the Soviet view the Jan. 25 Berlin meeting was a success. While it blocked settlement in Europe, it Geneva meeting at which Red China would be present to discuss Asian problems, including the Indo-Chinese and Korean war.

The Indo-China war was ended profitably for the Communist cause in several respects, not least of which was the impact of the settlement on France and the effect it in Western defence plans.

It looks now as if the world is in for a long, hard political battle.

CANINE HELPER
MONTREAL (CP) — Reggie Kenoy, blind since the age of three, finds it easier now to earn his living as a piano tuner. His new seeing-eye dog Wakana guides him on his calls and sits quietly by while Kenoy works on the pianos.
