CADRE POETRY ISSUE

Have you forgotten about the Cadre Poetry Issue already? Well, don't! We need submissions. From you. Deadline is March 29th. Send them to mdorrell@upei.ca or drop them off at the Cadre office (Main 06).

JANE URQUHART AT UPEI

Internationally acclaimed and award-winning author Jane Urquhart will present this spring's Confederation Lecture on Thursday, March 21, at 7:30 p.m. in the Duffy Building amphitheatre on the UPEI campus.

Her presentation is entitled "The Characters I Have Been, or Why the Lost Boys Are Annoying." Her talk will include reflections on L.M. Montgomery's influence on her writing, including Urquhart's latest novel, The Stone Carvers.

Jane Urquhart has been one of the most popular fiction writers in Canada since the 1980s. In the past decade, Urquhart has joined other celebrated Canadian authors in making Canadian fiction immensely successful internationally.

Her fiction has won such awards and honours as the Trillium Book Award, The Marian Engel Prize, and France's Le Prix de Meilleur Livre Etranger (Best Foreign Book Award). Her previous novel, The Underpainter, won the Governor-General's Award for Fiction. Another novel, Away, was shortlisted for the prestigious IMPAC Dublin Literary Award, and The Stone Carvers was a finalist for the Giller Prize.

One reviewer writes that "Readers unfamiliar with Urquhart's work will discover novels that display her ability to weave rich narrative tapestries which shift between the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, between real and imagined worlds, and between characters, their settings and their stories."

Urquhart, who lives in southern Ontario and spends part of each summer in Ireland, is also a warm, witty, dynamic, and much-loved speaker and reader.

The Confederation Lectures, featuring distinguished speakers renowned in their fields, are jointly sponsored by the University of Prince Edward Island and the Confederation Centre of the Arts. On this occasion, the Lucy Maud Montgomery Institute is a co-sponsor, and Urquhart's presentation is also a prelude to this year's L.M. Montgomery international conference on the UPEI campus, June 20-23, with the theme of "L.M. Montgomery and Life Writing."

There will be a book signing and reception after her presentation. Admission is free. For further information contact the L.M. Montgomery Institute at 628-4346.

LIBRARY WELLNESS

Is your body sluggish, overweight, in need of a tuneup - is your mind overloaded with the day to day stresses of daily life? If you are nodding your head in agreement, circle March 20th, 2002 on your calendar as the day to begin the journey to better health and a happier mind set.

Under the auspice of a University wellness theme, the staff of Robertson Library at the University of Prince Edward Island have invited practitioners of complementary and integrative medicines to provide information and promote awareness of non-traditional forms of medicine. Our list of presenters includes naturopaths, reflexologists, spiritualists, counselors, homeopaths, and many more.

The sessions, which will take place in the ITEC theatre (Robertson Library) will run from 11:00 am - 4:00 pm. For specific times, please have a look at our website www.upei.ca/library/wellness.html or call the Circulation Desk at 566-0583.

Admission is free and all are welcome.

THERE IS STILL TIME TO BECOME A SUCCESSOR

As stated in the previous issue, a majority of the Cadre staff is graduating, moving on, fleeing UPEI. Next year's Cadre needs new staff — reporters, sports/new/A&E/copy editors, production/distribution/advertising folks, you name it. Impress your parents, friends and future employers! Apply for the swanky newspaper position of your choice today, and you could be telling people where to get off—in print! See page 8 for more details, or stop by The Cadre for more information.

Ask the Sexy Religious Studies Majors

by George and John

No column this week; instead, we present The End of Semester Trivia Question. Be the first to correctly answer and you can be the proud owner of a "I Went To Oxford And You Did Not" t-shirt.

The question is:

"In ancient Greece, the city of Eleusis was the centre of worship for what two goddesses?"

Email your answers to sexyreligiousmajors@hotmail.com or drop them off at the Cadre office (Main 06).
