Notes Are Released In Human Torch Case

BALTIMORE Md. (AP)—"The most important thing in the world is that our faith becomes living experience and deed of life," Norman R. Morrison wrote Tuesday, hours before he turned himself into a human torch.

The 31-year-old Quaker wrote the words for a Sunday adult class. He died in flames outside the Pentagon in Washington an objector to the Viet Nam war.

His widow said he gave his "life to express his concern over the great loss of life and human suffering caused by the war in Viet Nam."

She has released through other members of a Quaker group called the Stony Run Friends notes written by Morrison for a message to next Sunday's adult class.

Morrison was executive secretary of the Quaker group, a paid, full-time post. At one time he studied to be a Presbyterian minister.

"Quakers seek to begin with life, not with the theory or report," he wrote. "The life is mightier than the book that reports it. The most important thing in the world is that our faith becomes living experience and deed of life."

While she stayed in seclusion home with her three young children, Mrs. Morrison asked a group of the Friends to meet the press.

KEPT IDEA SECRET

The spokesman, Sam Legg, "we don't know" to a question why Morrison immolated himself. "None of us knew anything about it and Norman's wife Anne knew nothing about it. None of us was ware that Norman had such an idea."

Asked whether such an act is in keeping with a Quaker belief, Legg said:

"The Society of Friends has no creed and makes no specific demands on its members.

"Each member is free to act to the measure of demand in his life which he understands."

Mrs. George Webb said Mrs. Morrison had told her the couple discussed Tuesday an article about bombing of a Vietnamese village.

"He was distressed by this, as I am distressed," Mrs. Morrison was quoted.

Mrs. Morrison, a 1957 graduate of Duke University who majored in psychology, told her six-year-old son Ben and five-year-old daughter Tina of their father's death Wednesday morning and sent them to school.

Morrison had his other daughter, one-year-old Emily, in his arms before pouring kerosene on himself and igniting it. He had taken her with him on his drive to Washington while his wife picked up the two other children at school.

New Detergent To Cut Pollution

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian detergent industry will be producing a new type of product aimed at reducing water pollution by the end of next year, John C. Lockwood, president of Lever Brothers Ltd., said here.

He told the Canadian Manufacturers of Chemical Specialties Association the new type of detergent can be treated more easily by sewage plants.

"This will mean that in rivers and streams receiving well-treated sewage effluent there will be no more unslightly foaming caused by detergents," Mr. Lockwood said.

WHAT KIND OF A CANADA?

The majority of Canadians want a land where principle—not expediency—prevails

VOTE FOR RESPONSIBLE DECISIVE ACTION AT OTTAWA

1. A UNITED CANADA UNDER A GOVERNMENT OF INTEGRITY AND PURPOSE.
We will call a Confederation Conference to draw up a new blueprint of our destiny, based on our unique union of provinces and cultures. We will restore integrity and direction to Canada's affairs.

2. NATIONAL PLAN FOR EDUCATION—CANADA'S FIRST.
We will more than double university grants to lower tuition fees, add funds for expansion and for research in medicine, science and the humanities, expand vocational school development and agricultural schooling.

3. DEDUCTION UP TO $500 OF MUNICIPAL PROPERTY TAX FOR FEDERAL TAX PURPOSES.
Rising school costs have put an unfair tax burden on the homeowner—almost to the breaking point. We will act at once to relieve this double taxation and encourage home ownership.

4. OLD AGE PENSIONS INCREASED IMMEDIATELY TO $100 PER MONTH.
Our senior citizens will not be left to suffer under the spiralling cost of living. We will pay them $100 per month without a means test. We owe this to those who built our country.

5. NATIONAL PLAN FOR HEALTH—INCLUDING MEDICARE.
We will extend hospital insurance to cover mental illness and tuberculosis, and bring in a universal Medicare plan.

6. LOWER RATES ON INSTALMENT BUYING.
We will help the young family through a Consumer Loans Act so that they will not be the victims of excessive rates of interest that now add 20% and more to the cost of necessary and basic purchases bought on credit.

7. PROSPERITY FOR ALL OUR FARMERS.
We opened wheat markets for the Western farmer. Now we will expand ports, start livestock programs. We will bring $4 per cwt. for industrial milk, an eastern feed grain board and extend crop insurance to cover livestock.
