NOTES AND COMMENTS

A stitch in time will save nine in the Yukon district as elsewhere. The prompt measures of organization the government is taking now, before the rush fully sets in, are worth much more elaborate efforts at a later stage. If the Yukon miners get started in orderly ways, there will be far less likelihood of trouble as their numbers increase.

The St. John Sun commenting upon the decision of the Crown Law officers concerning the operation of the "Reciprocal clause" says: "Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. Foster told the ministers that they were willing to leave the condition to the verdict of time and the test of experience. Less than three months time and experience has shown that the 'not altogether undistinguished lawyers' were all wrong and that the opposition speakers were exactly right in their interpretation. The law officers of the British crown have had the advantage of hearing Sir Louis Davies repeat before them the argument which he addressed to the house of commons. Within a few days after the hearing they declared that there was nothing in it."

LATEST NEWS BY WIRE AND MAIL

TORONTO, Aug. 14.—Evidently Hon. Mr. Hardy is awake to the importance of imposing lumber regulations that will protect the laborers in as well as the holders of timber limits. The Globe makes a statement which is an official intimation that the government has practically decided to prohibit the employment of aliens in the lumber camps of the province. The Liberal organ says that a meeting of the cabinet was held yesterday and it continues:—

"There is reason to believe that the government had under consideration a very important movement in the interests of labor, and that new timber regulations were considered which provide that timber license holders shall not in future employ in or about cutting pine timber on the lands of the Crown non-resident laborer, or, in other words, that laborers whose homes are outside of Canada shall not be employed by American or Canadian lumbermen to work in the lumber camps, or in and about the cutting, hauling or handling of timber on the lands of the Crown, as many American and some Canadian lumbermen have heretofore employed large numbers of men from the other side. This new regulation, if brought into force, will effect a considerable change from past conditions."

MONTREAL, Aug. 13.—Edgar Judge, president of the Montreal Corn Exchange Association, suspended payment today. The liabilities are probably about $10,000 Judge is in the grain business.

OTTAWA, Aug. 14.—Each member of the Northwest mounted police going to Klondyke has to take special oaths, and to enter into special engagements. Today Supt. Howe, commanding, administered the oaths. The first one of allegiance is as follows: "I do sincerely promise and swear that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to Her Majesty, Queen Victoria, as lawful sovereign of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of this Dominion of Canada, dependent upon and belonging to the said kingdom; and that I will defend her to the utmost of my power against all traitorous conspiracies or attempts whatever which shall be made against her person, crown or dignity, and I will do my utmost to endeavor to disclose and make known to Her Majesty, her heirs and assigns, all treasons and traitorous conspiracies and attempts that I know to be made; and all this I swear, without equivocation, or mental reservation whatever. So help me God."

The special form of oath is: "I sincerely swear to faithfully, diligently and impartially execute and perform the duties required of me as a member of the Northwest Mounted Police of the Dominion of Canada, and will well and truly obey and perform all lawful orders and instructions which I shall receive as such without fear, favor or equivocation, towards any person or party whomsoever. So help me God."

The special agreement is as follows: "I hereby promise and agree with the commissioner of the Northwest mounted police, constituted by law in and for the Northwest Territories, to serve with the detachment of police doing duty in the Yukon country, and to remain in the said country for two years from the 1st of September, 1897." Commissioner Herchmer is flooded with letters from all parts from persons desirous of joining the force and going to Yukon.

VIGILANT DETECTIVES.

When a crime is committed, no matter in what corner of the earth the criminal tries to hide, he knows that probably somewhere or other on the look-out is a detective waiting to lay his hand on him.

When any disease attacks mankind and hides itself in the human system, no matter how obscure or complicated the disease may be, Nature among her great force of detective remedies has one that will eventually hunt down and arrest that particular disease.

Lung and bronchial diseases are among the most baffling complaints which doctors have to deal with; because it isn't the lungs or bronchial tubes alone which are affected, but every corner of the system furnishes a lurking place for these elusive maladies.

They change and reappear and dodge about the system under numberless disguises. They are almost always complicated with liver or stomach troubles, nervousness, neuralgia, or "general debility."

The best detective remedy which Nature has provided to search out and arrest these perplexing ailments is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It lays an arresting hand directly upon the poisonous, paralyzing elements hiding in the liver and digestive organs.

It gives the blood-making glands power to manufacture an abundant supply of pure, red, highly vitalized blood which reinforces the lungs with healthy tissue; feeds the nerve-centers with power, and builds up solid muscular flesh and active energy.

For weak lungs, spitting of blood, shortness of breath, nasal catarrh, bronchitis, severe coughs, asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. While it promptly cures the severest cough it strengthens the system and purifies the blood.

"I feel very grateful for the home-treatment given me by the World's Dispensary Medical Association," writes Mr. T. J. F. Brown, of Sands, Watauga Co., N. C. "I had catarrh for several years, then took grip, also had hemorrhage from the lungs. I had the best of medical attention but only to bring partial relief. I got up for a few months but had more hemorrhages. I took Dr. Pierce's Discovery, (twenty-five or thirty bottles) but in a few months I had more spells of bleeding. I wrote to Dr. Pierce and received directions what kind of medicine to use; I commenced taking his 'Golden Medical Discovery' and Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. I had only taken one bottle when I could see I was improving. I used three bottles of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and five bottles of the 'Discovery.' I have been able to do any kind of labor for more than twelve months. Well I just simply owe my life to the World's Dispensary Medical Association."

"I was first taken (nearly two years ago) with choking and itching in my throat, and I suffered dreadfully," writes Mrs. D. Z. Moore, of Deming, Grant Co., N. Mex. "I took everything I could think of, and spent a great deal of money. Had three doctors treating me. My throat ulcerated, and I lost my voice. Could scarcely talk so a person could understand me. The doctors called the trouble bronchial affection; said the larynx was badly affected. I was almost dead when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. My neighbors thought I would not live a month. I was almost in consumption, but thought I would try the 'Discovery.' From the first I commenced to improve. I have taken it right along and with a few more bottles think I will have as good health as ever. I owe my life to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I have been the cause of several in this town being cured by it."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is a book of 1,008 pages and over three hundred illustrations, some of them colored, all fully explained. This book is free. It has been selling for $1.50. Now you may have it in all its usefulness, and in strong paper covers, for 31 one-cent stamps, which pays the cost of customs and mailing only, or in cloth binding for 50 stamps. It is a veritable medical library all contained in a single volume.

A HORSE'S SHAME.—That the wheel is superseding the horse, or rather that the horse is being placed in the background by the wheel, was made plain to a number of pedestrians who happened to be on Bay street about 9.30 last evening. At that time a man, perched upon a bicycle, was seen leading a horse down the street. The animal was sleek and fat, so there was no excuse on the score of a sharp backbone why it should not be ridden. Whether it was ashamed or not of being ignominiously dragged behind its rival, of course could not be ascertained, but it evidently did not relish its position, for it kept as far behind the wheel as the length of the halter shaft would allow. It had to go, however, for the bicyclist was an expert rider, and was soon lost to sight, dragging the unwilling steed behind him.—Toronto Globe.

The Grand Duchess Sophia, of Saxe-Weimer, left a fortune of $20,000,000, beside her large estate in Silesia and Holland, which brings in a huge income every year. She bequeathed $10,000,000 to her husband, the Grand Duke Charles; $2,500,000 to her daughter, the Princess of Reusa, and the remainder is to be divided between her two grandsons, the Princes William and Bernard, sons of the late hereditary grand duke.

To the Rescue.

"Don't be nervous. There'd be 50 jackles over the side after the youngster before he'd have time to strike the water." So said a naval officer once in my hearing to the anxious mother of two little chaps who, visiting one of our men-o'-war in the harbor, had gone for'ard among the crew in company with half a score of kindly big-hearted bluejackets. And what he said—allowing for some sailorlike picturesqueness of language—was largely true, for when did one ever hear of man-o'-war's men—at least of those that speak English—failing to take any risk short of absolute impossibilities to save life or to go to the rescue of those in peril and distress on the "mighty deep?"

I think it is in one of Clark Russell's stories that the hero, storm tossed on sinking wreck, breathes forth a prayer that the sail he has just sighted may fly English or American colors, confident of rescue at all hazards at sturdy Saxon hands. On the Trenton, dragging, with colors flying, slowly to destruction on the wind-torn waters of Samoa bay, generous hearts yet found means of rescuing comrades from the masts of the already submerged Vandalia. Only the other day the telegraph flashed from faroff China curt news of the foundering of a steamship with its load of passengers and the prompt response of the crews of our warships near by to the cry for help. Over and over again the heroic story has been told, and it will be told again and again as long as men "go down to the sea in ships."—Harper's Weekly.

Names of Dishes.

The names bestowed upon certain dishes have often an origin entirely distinct from technical consideration. This is true of the well known epigrams d'agneau a la Michelet or a la Toulouse, as it is more frequently called. Michelet was the cook of a young French marquis of the last century, who was noted for her lack of education. On a certain occasion she gave a dinner to the officers of the regiment Choiseul-Cavalerie. During the function her guests spoke of a banquet that they had attended on the previous evening, at which the host had entertained them with many new and brilliant epigrams. The marquis supposed that "epigrams" referred to culinary surprises. Consequently she summoned Michelet, her cook, and ordered him to prepare some epigrams for dinner on the following day. Michelet was greatly troubled as to how he was to obey the order. He recollected, however, that he had in the larder some very superior lamb. He braised the breast, removed the bones, cut the meat into pieces and bread crumbed and fried them. He then cooked the cutlets, arranged them on a dish alternately with the braised breast and served them with a suitable garnish under the name of epigrams d'agneau a la Michelet, by which name, or a la Toulouse, the concoction has ever since been known.—New York Sun.

At a comparatively recent period, geologically speaking, all that portion of the United States south of the Black hills was under from 500 to 900 feet of water, according to Lyell, the geologist.

She Had a Reason.

"I don't believe Sallie can know that rich old Brown or she'd never marry him in spite of all his money."
"Why not?"
"He has such a violent temper."
"Oh, that's all right. That's why she has been giving so much time to gymnasium work lately."—Chicago Post.

Strikes occurred centuries ago, and their outcome was just as disastrous as is that of the present day work struggles. In the year 1329, says an old paper, a strike of brassworkers was initiated in Breslau, Silesia, which lasted a year.

The Czar's Ring.

The czar of Russia is said to be very superstitious and to have great confidence in relics. He wears a ring in which he believes is embedded a piece of the true cross. It was originally one of the treasures of the Vatican, and was presented to an ancestor of the czar by diplomatic reasons. The value which the czar sets upon the ring, with its embedded relic, is shown by the following fact: Some years ago the czar was traveling from St. Petersburg to Moscow. He suddenly discovered that he had forgotten the ring. The train was stopped immediately and a special messenger sent flying back on an express engine for it. Nor would the czar allow the train to move until, several hours afterward, the messenger returned with the ring.

Dog and Alligator.

That a dog may best an alligator appears by the experience of the Hon. D. B. Stuart of Victoria, Fla. His dog was swimming in a lake there, when Mr. Stuart, seeing an alligator coming, called to the dog to come ashore. The dog started, but the alligator was gaining when the dog turned and seized it. Both went down, but the dog came up unharmed and the alligator with a lacerated lower jaw.

The hardest of all cements is that known as Portland cement, which, when hardened, attains the appearance and properties of the celebrated Portland stone, from which the most magnificent structures in England have been erected. It was invented in 1824 by Joseph Aspdin, a mason of Leeds.
