

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JANUARY 31, 1890.

VICTORY AGAIN!

VICTORY is again perched upon the banner of the Liberal-Conservative Party in this Province. Though the majority is a narrow one, the Government has been sustained. The following supporters of the Government have been returned:—

McLEOD, BLAKE, GORDON, A. J. MACDONALD, JOHN McLEAN, UNDERHAY, SULLIVAN, H. L. McDONALD, SHAW, CLOW, McLEOD, McKAY, KELLY, ARSENAULT, BENTLEY, ROGERS.

The election of the following is in doubt: FERGUSON, WRIGHT.

It seems probable that one, if not two, of these will be returned on declaration day; and if so, the Government will have a working majority.

The return to power of the same party for the fourth term, is, we believe, unprecedented in the history of this Province. Narrow as the majority is, it proves that the largest proportion of the people, at least, appreciate and honor men whose public conduct is governed by a consistent desire to save the public money and promote the best interests of the country.

The doubt in which Mr. Ferguson's election is involved is greatly regretted by many of the best men in the community—men who sympathize with him on account of the extraordinary means used to effect his overthrow, and feel that he ought to be hundreds of votes ahead. By the unscrupulous use of money and whiskey, with intimidation and other wrongful practices, superadded to the special pleading of both Mr. L. H. Davies and Mr. Peters, he has been placed eleven votes behind. It is, however, believed that the special votes which were beyond the reach of such influences, will be largely in his favor, and that he will be declared elected on Declaration Day.

Ready to Begin.

Every year a new army of boys enter the business world. Each boy will feel sure that he is going to make a grand success, and if he does not feel that way he is not much of a boy. A great many boys fail, not because they have not ability, but because they want to begin at the top; they are not willing to shovel, but want to make their way in cushioned chairs. The men who fill cushioned chairs with the greatest dignity are those who never hesitated to shoveling helped to make a path upward. The boy who is willing to be a boy and do a boy's part in the world, keeping eyes and ears open for opportunities to learn every detail of the business in which he is engaged, will find his chance to step every year. Do not fear to ask questions. If you do not understand a thing, study until you do find out all there is to know about it. Do not fear to get to your business a little early or stay a little late. Keep your mind on your share of the work; do not try to manage for the whole business firm. I remember a man who used to amuse me very much. He never earned more than fifteen dollars a week until he had passed fifty years of age, and during his married life his wife had earned more than he had. Yet he would grow intensely excited because a large and exceedingly prosperous corporation would not adopt his plans, though his connection with it was paying his fare as passengers on its cars. The firm employing him would, if managed by him, grow wealthy in a year, he insisted. Still the firm dispensed with his valuable services and were able to conduct business. That man had been so busy all his business life planning affairs with which he had no connection that he really had no time to think of his personal work. He was not lazy, but he did not know enough to mind his own business.

Paul, in his writings, often speaks of "the peace of God." This, indeed, is with him a favorite phrase. This peace God imparts to a soul that is reconciled to Him by the death of His Son. One who has this peace is conscious of it. It is to him a matter of experience. He looks upon God as his friend, and rejoices in Him. He is alike willing to obey His laws and to be saved by His grace. He does not propose to have any will of his own that is opposed to that of God. "Thy will be done," is his constant prayer.

The defenses of Gibraltar are not by any means in a satisfactory condition. The 100-ton gun which was displaced from its position some two years ago, owing to the position giving away during practice firing, has not yet been replaced, and the other gun of the same calibre cannot be used, lest a worse accident should happen. The galleries are quite unsuitable for the modern heavy ordnance. Yet new batteries have not been constructed. In fact the benefit the rock has gained from the special fund voted for the defence abroad has been a small battery near the summit.

According to London correspondents Queen Victoria is one of the hardest worked officials in Great Britain. Apart from her labors in caring for her private correspondence she receives daily from every government office, boxes of documents, warrants, and indentures requiring her attention and signature. There is not a question of precedent, etiquette, or change of uniform in the army, or detail of military and civil orders and decorations that does not come under her immediate supervision. The daily Court Circular is carefully edited, revised, and corrected by her own hand, and the punctuality with which she returns documents submitted for her signature is really wonderful.

Odds and Ends.

The easiest way for a good wife to get along pleasantly is to practice what her husband preaches. The man who is shocked to death by electricity should be buried in a volt. It would be an appropriate place for his last ohm since he is sure to dynamo.

The largest horse farm in the world, according to a recent statement, is near Cheyenne, W. T. The horses number 5,000, and require 100 miles of fencing to keep them within bounds on 120,000 acres.

Edwin Arnold is a great correspondent as well as a famous poet. In one of his recent letters to the London Telegraph he located Philadelphia in New Jersey. This, we presume, must be accepted as a poetic license.

A young man in New Jersey who sued his adopted mother for naming him Moses Exodus Matthew Luke Numbers Smith was beaten in the suit, but the court took occasion to tell the woman that lunatic asylums always quartered such as she in the left wing.

The true manner of judging of the worth of amusements is to try them by their effects on the nerves and spirits the day after. True amusement ought to be, as the word indicates, recreation—something that refreshes, turns us out anew, rests the mind and body by change, and gives cheerfulness and alacrity to our return to duty.

A colored dude chanced to be among the seated passengers in a Washington horse-car. A young woman of his own color entered, and he immediately arose and offered her his seat. She gracefully demurred, and said: "I do not like to deprive you, sir, of your seat." "No depravity, miss," was his reply; "no depravity at all; I prefer to stand."

A German settlement was started near Dunmore, on the C. P. R., a few months ago, when 25 families were located by the company and money advanced to them. It is now in a prosperous condition. The colony contains 400 persons of German extraction which will likely be increased to 1,000 before next fall. Land sales this year have been a magnificent success, the sales already having exceeded the amount of last year, and are still going on.

We have in the Maritime Provinces a population of about one million persons, while in Ontario the population is over two millions, and yet we have three Lieut. Governors receiving $25,000 annually together, while the Governor of Ontario receives $10,000 per annum. Maritime union would effect a saving of $150,000 per annum, which would enable us to make a capital expenditure of $2,500,000 upon railways and other public works. The fact is well worthy of consideration.

FREEHOLD FARM FOR SALE AT BAY FORTUNE, LOT 43.

Formerly occupied by Mr. William H. Conobon.

This well-known and desirable property consists of about 80 acres of Land, about one half clear and in a good state of cultivation, the remainder covered with soft wood. The land is all good and dry. There is on the premises a commodious Dwelling House and Barn, and a public wharf and lobster factory attached, and within six or seven chains of the dwelling house. Abundance of sea manure surrounds the farm. It is conveniently situated in the midst of a flourishing settlement near to church and schoolhouse, and is the general camping ground for sportsmen and health-seekers in the summer time. It would make a very desirable residence for a professional man, farmer, mechanic, or trader. For further particulars enquire of Robert Dingwell or J. C. Underhay, Bay Fortune, or to WM. H. CONOBON, East Borton, Mass. July 5, 1889—wky 11

Sorrow and Cheer.

Oh, sad winds, moaning through the brake, Why tell so drear a tale, My heart is faint; I pray you take The sadness from your will: The soft winds answered: "Lo, my song Is full of gentle cheer; I sing that winter is not long, That sunshine hovers near." When sorrow reigns within the heart, Then outward things seem sad; The bird's, the sunshine, cannot start A thrill to make us glad. Oh, if we could cast the gloom aside, And then how sweet the song Which makes the echoes far and wide, And which our hearts prolong.
