An elderly female, on being examined before the magistrates at Bungay, as to her place in legal proceedings...

"SPEAKING OF DOGS," says Thayer to his friend Warren, "can you tell me how many dog-days there are in a year?"

"Yes, about fifteen or sixteen I suppose." "You are wrong; there are more than that in any year. They are more than that in any year."

"BONNETS are very small, and are more worn about the neck than on the head." We suppose shoes will be tied round the ankles before long.

WALKING STICKS.—Walking-sticks were first introduced into fashion by the effeminate Henry II. of France, but did not become a requisite appendage to the gentlemen of fashion in England till the year 1655.
