WHAT WE ADVERTISE WE HAVE

Men's and Boys' Clothing

Isn't

Ordinary

Values that we wish you to see when we ask you to look at our Ready-to-Wear Clothing. Ordinary values you can see anywhere, but it's a saving of at least 35 per cent. on your purchase. How can we do this? Because we bought the goods that much less, at the Doull and Gibson great retiring sale, and we give our customers the benefit of the low price paid for the goods. We always make it a rule when we bought at a bargain to sell at a bargain.

Manitoba's Crop.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 14.—The June crop bulletin, the first of the year, has been issued by the Manitoba Department of Agriculture. The information it contains regarding the crops is of quite a satisfactory nature. The cultivated area has increased considerably, compared with last year's figures, and the growing grain is in a well advanced and healthy condition. The wheat area is estimated at 1,629,995 acres; barley, 575,136; oats, 182,912 and this, with other cereals and root crops brings the total area under cultivation up to 2,449,078, compared with 2,210,942 last year and 1,958,026 in 1897. The wheat area last year was 1,488,232, making the increase this year 141,662 acres.

EXTENDING THE LOBSTER SEASON

Sir-Louis Davies Warned About it

HOUSE IN SUPPLY ON SUPPLEMENTARY ESTIMATES.

The Season to be Extended in Certain Localities.

[SPECIAL TO THE EXAMINER.]

OTTAWA, June 15.—After routine, the House went into supply on the supplementary estimates.

On fishery, McDougall brought up the subject the extension of the lobster season. Sir Louis Davies is still rather vague.

He stated that there would probably be an extension of 15 days or more in certain localities where the lobster commissioners recommend longer extension.

McDougall, of Cape Breton, warned the Minister of the danger of these extensions and spoke of the peril of extinction of the lobster.

The Boers Claims.

LONDON, June 12.—A blue book has been issued giving the correspondence with the Transvaal regarding its claims against Great Britain growing out of the Jameson raid. Apart from the well-remembered demand for £1,000,000 for moral and intellectual damages, the British Government disputed several of the items of material damage, and asked for particulars. Colonial Secretary Chamberlain wrote that he could hardly suppose that the Transvaal was serious in claiming the enormous sum of £600,000. Mr. Reitz, the Transvaal Secretary of State, replied that there could be no question as to the justice of the claim, which was reckoned not only on material loss, but also on abstract insult. He submitted details which included £39,480 for clothing and £2,422 for shoeing horses, while only £234 was claimed for the relatives of the killed and wounded Boers.

The accounts were sent to the British South Africa Company, which severely criticised them, contending that they were in the main unjustifiable, and suggesting arbitration.

Mr. Chamberlain declared that the suggestion was reasonable, and is awaiting the Transvaal acceptance of it.

LIGHT HOUSE KEEPER McMILLAN.

Why He Was Dismissed :

HE WOULDN'T GIVE "A SHOVE" TO ATTORNEY-GENERAL McDONALD.

Mr. Martin Ventilates the the Matter in Parliament.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

OTTAWA, June 13.—Some days ago, in reply to a question, Sir Louis Davies explained that Wm. D. McMillan, light-keeper at Wood Island, P. E. Island, had been dismissed for offensive partisanship; and when asked who recommended his dismissal Sir Louis stated that he did it on his own responsibility. Yesterday in moving for papers on the subject Mr. Martin explained that Mr. McMillan's father had been appointed light keeper by the McKenzie Government in 1876. The late Government had passed on the appointment to his son who was the support of his widowed mother. This young man had never been an offensive partisan. He had not even voted; and according to Mr. Martin he was dismissed because he would not submit to coercion by heeleders who wanted him to vote in support of the Local Government.

Mr. Martin had information from a friend of the dismissed officer. This gentleman stated that he had been instructed by one of the party workers to tell Mr. McMillan "that if his office was worth anything to him he had better come to the polls on election day and give the local Government candidate a shove." The gentleman replied that Mr. McMillan had no vote. This was nothing to the campaigner who said "it would be made all right." However, Mr. McMillan did not go to the polls and give a "shove" to the Attorney-General of Prince Edward Island who was a candidate. Since then he had been dismissed and Mr. Martin was quite sure that it was all for want of the "shove."

An investigation was held into the conduct of young McMillan a year and a half before, but nothing came out of it. If he had been guilty of partisanship or any other offence he would have been dismissed then. If he had allowed himself to be made a partisan on the Government side in the local election he would not have been dismissed yet. As it is the young man, and his mother were turned out at the approach of winter, and left without a home or a means of support. Sir Louis Davies should say, if he liked, that he did it on his own responsibility; but Mr. Martin knew and could prove, if Sir Louis Davies would allow him to read his own private letter explaining the circumstances, that he did it on the request and at the dictation of Provincial Ministers.

Two, or three members laughingly suggested that Martin should read the letter; but he said he would not do so unless Sir Louis would consent.

The Minister gave no sign of consent and the letters were not read, though Mills, of Annapolis suggested that Mr. Martin might send them over to the Postmaster General to be published with the next batch of private and confidential letters that Mr. Mulock should print in his blue book. Mr. Martin stated that he knew of the request from the Local Minister that Mr. McMillan would be dismissed and that it was done on account of his refusal to give the Ministers a "shove."

Then he went on to say that a successor had been appointed who was over the age that the law provided and who therefore could not be legally appointed. Mr. Martin asked Sir Louis Davies if he had not evidence in his department that the new lighthouse keeper was more than 60 year old.

Sir Louis could not remember whether he had or not. It might be so; but he would bring down all the correspondence.

Mr. Martin offered some observations about other dismissals in Prince Edward Island including one made to provide a position for the man who protested Mr. Hackett's election.

Mr. Martin was going on to explain about some election whiskey proceedings, with this appointee, when the Speaker ruled out the discussion and it was deferred until Mr. Davies should ask for another vote in his department.
