Iron Lung By Airforce Plane From Montreal

The co-operation of the National Polio Foundation with the local Polio Chapter was emphasized yesterday when, three hours after an urgent call had been sent from the Department of Health and Welfare, an iron lung was loaded on a plane at Montreal and was on its way to this city. The R.C.A.F. plane bearing the lung set down at Summerside last evening and was met by an Army transport which took it to Charlottetown.

This is the first time that an iron lung has been urgently needed in the last 45 days and although three new ones have been ordered from an American firm it is expected that at least two weeks will have elapsed before their arrival here. The ordering of these three iron lungs has been made possible through the generous response made by the citizens of this Province to the appeal for funds through the recent polio campaign.

Veteran Doctor Reports Hope In Cancer Fight; City Campaign Opens

"In this cancer fight there is hope and we are endeavoring to foster this hope in the Canadian Cancer Socitey," declared Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, O.B.E., President, speaking at the opening meeting of the General City Cancer Campaign last night.

"I've been fighting cancer for 46 years and of all the organizations of my professional life I find none more comforting than the Cancer Society. Looking back I can recall many who have died from cancer who could be cured today, things have advanced so.

"The patient who goes to the doctor early is saving his or her own life. That is why we have a cancer educational program in order that everyone who can read, or hear, may read or hear something that may save lives. All the cobalt bombs and all the radium in the world are no good unless the patient gets to the doctor in time. If our people respond to our educational program (and they are responding) we have the facilities for effective treatment in this Province. We have an adequate supply of radium, we have a good x-ray man and we have good surgeons. I am proud of our Cancer Education Program and I know it is saving lives. We are trying

One fishing shanty was blown down and one had the roof blown off. Three barns were also blown down. The relative light

Describes Experience As Service Hostess

"Because of our boys in the Services we still breathe the pure and invigorating air of liberty and the flag of freedom is still unfurled," Miss Lena McLure told Rotarians in addressing the weekly luncheon assembly of the club at the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday.

Miss McLure was speaking of her experience with the troops in London where she was hostess at the Nuffield Centre for more than two years.

After describing the origin of the Centre and the pleasure the Canadian men of the forces derive in meeting other Canadians there, Miss McLure dwelt on her personal satisfaction at being associated with the splendid work being done in this Service Club for the forces of the Crown. She also expressed her appreciation of the kindness shown her by visiting Islanders.

"My work was chiefly with the Canadian troops who were on leave in London from Germany," Miss McLure said. "I always watched from my desk as troops came in the door, for the red flash on the arm, which identified the Canadians."

Among those who visited the Centre were Lieutenant Governor T. W. L. Prowse and Mrs. Prowse, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Parent, Mr. and Mrs. Arnett, Miss Ruth Vinnicombe and her sister Mrs. Davies, Mrs. Clare Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon White, Mr. and Mrs. Raynor, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cullen, Wing Commander Maurice MacKinnon, Dr. Stewart Woolner of Paris and Ottawa, Mr and Mrs. Gander of Brackley Point, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Ross MacDonald.

Guests present were: L. H. Poole, Montague, Chester McLure City, Hugh Boyle, Mimico, Ont., Major Alfred Wilbur and F. D. Mitton of Moncton and Roland E. Brock, Charlottetown.

Gene Autry Is Welcomed To New Brunswick

SAINT JOHN, N. B., (CP) — Cowboy singing star Gene Autry loped into town Monday on his 900-horsepower plane and was met by Lieutenant-Governor D. L. MacLaren. His honor said the visitor is a pretty big man in the hearts of thousands of New Brunswick youngsters and if that didn't rate official welcome nothing much else did.

Before opening a New Brunswick tour at Fredericton, Autry was also greeted here by Mayors E. W. Patterson and Thomas B. Horsler of Saint John and Lancaster. At an orphanage, Mayor Horsler offered best wishes to "Roy Rogers and all his troupe." Autry looked at the mayor, both had a good laugh and the kids thought it the funniest thing they'd ever heard.
