CHAD ALLAN

Music Carnival

For Winter Carnival this year, the University is bringing in seven bands to provide the entertainment, all coming from various different places and each playing a very distinct type of music. What they all have in common is that almost every one is a show band. Each group puts on an act to go with their music.

The Heartache Razz Band is a five piece band from Vancouver which does nostalgic music from the 30's era. They appear in white face and tuxedos and play honky tonk piano. They try to get people dancing the Charleston and do their own vaudeville that has such things as pie throwing.

Chad Allen is the only one that doesn't fit into the show band classification. Breaking up with the Guess Who years ago, he has since played in some not as well known bands, but more as a single performer. Quite a good guitarist, but better known for the lyrics he writes for his songs.

Liverpool is a group that does an impersonation of the Beatles including costumes. They do a progression of Beatle music from the early 60's through the album Abbey Road.

The Michael Quantro Jam Band from Detroit does a whole variety of music including anything from classic to hard rock, usually heavy on the electric side. The band has a whole act they go through while doing their music. They have numerous costume changes, not to mention such effects as fog, flame throwers, flash-bombs, and an unbelievable amount of electrical equipment.

Brussel Sproute are a kind of jug band that plays a hillbilly rock and roll. One of their most noted acts is doing dueling banjos on a set of washboards.

MacLean and MacLean are originally from Cape Breton Island but have been living in Winnipeg for quite awhile. They do a comedy music act using routines by such people as Chec & Chong and the Smothers Brothers. They are known for doing a dialogue with the audience, and usually drinking as much as anybody else there.

Professor Lett and Study from Virginia features Earl Lett who does some amazing things with his saxophone, such as holding a single note for nearly five minutes. He has organized a few bands for back-up, all of which are noted for their excellent musicians.
