

The Ideal Woman.

Here is the picture of the ideal woman of the future, drawn by one who pretends to know all about it. The ideal woman of the future must be a woman of grand and strong physique. Baker says: "The match for beauty is a man, not a woman's best." Equally true is it that the match for the ideal man, the coming twentieth century man, is a woman, not a man's best and pains. And we may not have gone far in her search for health before she will have discovered that her dress is a letter, self-imposed, which she must not, under any circumstances, break. She will cast off her slavery to the fashion plate, and go to freedom and grace of the old Greek. Health and mind in the deep bosom of Jones and the stately, well-proportioned, and the stately, with their dresses and dresses of drapery, her models in dress. She must be strong and many-sided, mentally. All art, all culture, all those mighty principles of physical and mental power, of which an ancient Greek has said that "the divinity is mighty within them and growth not old" - minister to her intellectual wants, for how shall she give life who knows not the principles of life? Last, and best of all, she must be grand in that freedom and purity of soul which shall make her love a royal boon, a guardian worthy of all knightly and chivalrous homage to the man who shall call her - wife.

PLASTER - I never saw anything more complete than the way land plaster acts as an absorbent and preservative of manure. I use about two barrels of this plaster per winter, which costs me $1.60 per barrel, and I would not be without it if it cost me $5. Every time my man takes two or three quarts of it, and as he passes along scatters it in the gutters behind the cattle and the horses in the stables. So completely does it absorb everything, that if you go into the stables in the morn'g, you would scarcely know that there were any animals there, any more than you would in a parlor. The principle of this absorbent power of land plaster is, that it requires about 500 times as much of water to dissolve it. W. D. Hoard, of Ontario Veterinarian's Convention.

The above mentioned Plaster (Ground Land Plaster) should be used in every Stable, especially in large ones where many animals are kept together. It purifies the air, thus promoting the health of the animals, while it by retaining the ammonia, the most valuable element in it. The heaps of manure in the field and farmyard often become white or fire-faded by overheating; a sprinkling of Plaster over the heap will prevent this.

Greatly Increases the Value of the Manure,

Price of the Plaster in Barrels of about 330 lbs. each, $1.60 per Barrel, or $1.50 in lots of Five Barrels or upwards.

We deliver free of charge to any part of the city or to railway or steamers.

"Untold Ages," from Catarrh."

Prof. W. HAUSSNER, the famous mesmerist, of Ithaca, N. Y., writes: "Some ten years ago I suffered untold agony from chronic nasal catarrh. My family physician gave me up as incurable, and said I must die. My case was such a bad one, that every day, towards evening, my voice would become hoarse, and I could barely speak above a whisper. In the morning my coughing and clearing of my throat would almost strangle me. By the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, in three months, I was a well man, and the cure has been permanent."

"Constantly Hacking and Spitting."

THOMAS J. HUNTING, Esq., 507 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was a great sufferer from catarrh for three years. At times I could hardly breathe, and was constantly hacking and spitting, and for the last eight months could not breathe through the nostrils. I thought nothing could be done for me. Luckily, I was advised to try Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I am now a well man. I believe it to be the only sure remedy for catarrh now manufactured, and one that only to give it a fair trial to experience astounding results and a permanent cure."

Three Bottles Cure Catarrh.

ELI ROBBINS, Rungun P. O., Columbia Co., Pa., says: "My daughter had catarrh when she was five years old, very badly. I saw Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy in a paper, and purchased a bottle for her, and soon saw that it helped her; a third bottle effected a permanent cure. She is now nineteen years old and sound and well."
