A Poetic Authority

SIR,—In your article on "Women at the School Board" you quote a poet as saying that woman is by nature "made to temper man." Will you kindly let me know the name of the poet, and oblige,

A LITERARY INQUIRER. [The poet is Thomas Otway, who lived from 1651 to 1685. The passage referred to is the following:—

O woman! lovely woman! nature made thee temper man; we had been brute without you. Angels are pain to see to look like you, There's in you all that we believe of Heaven. Amazing richness, poetry and truth, Eternal joy and everlasting love!

"Prudence" Speaks.

SIR,—I see that a bachelor—an old one, I presume—is afraid of giving women a right to sit upon the school board because they answer to Scott's description. Let me tell this old bachelor that women can stand by their principles and adhere to their convictions just as readily as men. History proves it, and also the experience of everyday life. Bachelor had better obtain a wife, if he can get any woman to take him, and then he'll know. If he hasn't any better reason for excluding women from the school board, he had better hold his peace.

PRUDENCE.

NOTABLE INACTION.

MR. EDITOR,—As you have charge of the leading newspaper in the Province, would it not be well to remind the Local Government that while the great province of Ontario, through their local government is looking after the lumber interests of the province at the Washington conference—or rather the Anglo-American Government of this province appear to take things easy, and leave the interests of the agricultural community to their fate British Columbia appears to be alive to its fishing, alien labor, &c. But the Government of P. E. Island seems only bent on squandering the hard-earned money of the farmers, and are apparently oblivious of their duty to the people. Macawber-like, they appear to be waiting for something to "turn up." They do not even appear to have the influence of the proverbial "fly on the wheel." They talk very glib on free trade and reciprocity, but here, when the conference is in session, there is not one word about securing for the farmers of P. E. I. a market (that market which was to be ours when the Liberals got the reins at Ottawa) for our potatoes, eggs, mutton and lamb, horses, etc. Can you not, Mr. Editor, tell us poor farmers what is the matter? Do you know if the Grit Party has lost confidence in reciprocity with the United States—the same way as they have lost confidence in Free Trade as they have it in England. However that may be, whilst all the other Provinces appear to be looking after their own interests—I never yet saw one reference in the Press to show that P. E. I. or its Government made one move. It is a very well to say leave it to Sir Louis H. Davies! but Sir Louis appears to have enough to do to provide for himself and his friends, etc. The poor farmers for whom he used to shed tears can now perhaps shift for themselves. I wish you would write a short article calling the attention of the Government to their great shortcoming in this respect. I know you will have some delicacy, as the Conservative party vowed that they would not in any way thwart the Canadian delegates the same as the Liberals did a few years ago when the Conservatives tried to secure a reciprocity treaty. But you need not fear as to that, for you will be helping the Canada delegates instead of weakening them, thus rendering them good for evil. One thing, however, you must be careful not to say anything by which you might offend the Local Government. They are in a very cross mood. For instance, never say a word, as if you were trying to initiate a new movement or forestall them. Rather say that the idea emanated from the Local Government themselves. Remember how the Patriot thundered at the member for East Queen's about daring to suggest anything new about the Hill-borough Bridge. Again I say, be very, very careful or you may get such a string of adjectives flung at your devoted head as only a briefless lawyer can string together. Of course after doing your duty to the farmers of this Province, meek and lowly, turn around and give the whole credit to the Government. I will anxiously await the result.

Yours truly, FARMER.

We are authorized to offer our readers, prepaid, a free sample of a never-failing cure for catarrh, bronchitis, irritable throat, influenza, and such throat and nasal diseases. There is no mystery about Catarrh, though its effects is magical. Ointments and washes cannot reach the diseased parts, and have thus proved useless. But Catarrh is carried by air directly to the diseased part, and is like a breeze from the pine woods. Write for free sample to N. C. POLSON & Co, Kingston, Ont.

HOW TO KEEP YOUNG.

If we take a little leaf out of the mediocre books we can have physical rejuvenation through a youthful spirit, which must find expression. Cast away sadness—for that is hateful to youth—and cultivate instead a real interest in all that is going on, whether in the world about you or in the great world. Observe a young girl of normal intelligence who has not been "spoiled." Could anything be more striking than her keen voracious interest in contrast to the tired apathy of her elders? Keep your interest alive, feeding it on catholicity of subjects, as you value your youth; for if certain mental muscles are not used they will atrophy and you will be old, no matter what is the date of your birth. Every human being you encounter is the central point of the universe from his or her point of view; now, then, can such a one escape the interests of others? Every life has its life aims just as vital as yours. Interest yourself in other's, and, with no such intent at heart, you will find the spirit refresh-ed.

Away back in nursery days we learn of the little girl who wept in contemplating the bridge she did not have to cross after all; but the lesson did not go very deep, for we keep on worrying until we have lines up and down the forehead and lines across. "The thirty year marks," they call them but that is a mistake. Thirty years of worry would wrinkle a marble forehead, but thirty years of optimism would keep smooth the most delicate skin. Worry spoils the digestion and brings ill health, which in turn ruins beauty. Worry enrups the mental faculties and prevents them from free exercise, hampering judgement and shutting out light. Even those who do it, must know these well, yet still keep on; for not to worry means a condition of spiritual strength and elevation which is only attained by gradual process, and every one has not learned the way. The lines on the face are the expression of "the body's guest." They will come; but who could to a crinkling around the eyes that make a smile the merrier, or lines about the corner of the mouth that, have a kindly meaning? Such lines stamp the face with budding youth. —Harper's Bazar.

Manitoba Schools

WINNIPEG, Feb. 11.—Dr. Blakely superintendent of education, has made a report to the Department of Education on the St. Ann and Lorette schools, it having been alleged by R. B. Kearns, ratepayer in the Lorette district, that the schools were conducted in a way that made them purely separate schools, while at the same time they were drawing the Government and legislature grants as though they were public schools and complying with all conditions provided by the school act. While the report affirms that some of the charges made by Kearns were groundless, Dr. Blakely says: "Father Dufresne visited this (St. Cathbert) school and confessed pupils between the hours of twelve and one o'clock one day towards the end of November. In Lorette East school this same priest confessed the pupils in the morning commencing at about ten o'clock. The father or the teacher put the curtain across the corner of the school room before nine o'clock. The priest was through with the confessions before noon."

ESTEEMED EXCHANGES.

Toronto Star: Mr. Kipling exhorts the Statesers to take up the white man's burden. In the Philippines the white man's burden is the black man's life, and the Statesers are already taking it.

Montreal Gazette: There is a controversy going on in some of the Western papers as to whether Mr. Fisher, minister of agriculture, can farm in kid gloves. The subject is one of ethics rather than of practical agriculture and so may lack interest in these workaday times. Theoretically, though, there seems to be no reason why an able-bodied minister might not farm in kid gloves, white, black, brown or tan, with or without stitched seams up the back. Anything that adds to the grace of farming life is to be commended, even if it makes the oxen laugh.

Montreal Gazette: That pride of Liberalism, Fighting Joe Martin, is reported as saying of the Sifton Yukon railway deal that it was "the craziest scheme ever proposed," adding that if the Dominion Government wishes to retain the support of British Columbia it is absolutely necessary to frown upon such wretched promoting deals. There was a lot "for the boys" in the 3,750,000 acres of Yukon lands the Laurier Government proposed to give for the construction of an unnecessary road; but, not even to make it sure, will the Government venture to reintroduce the project the Senate killed. The more the thing has been thought about the deeper has it sunk into disrepute.
