23rd April following. The Editor of the Islander may, if he pleases, endeavor to throw doubts on the veracity of my assertion; it is nevertheless perfectly true, and the same game is, in my opinion, still being played, but for another object. We all know the Colonial Secretary is, what he has been of late termed, "a red hot Unionist," and he and his supporters know very well that if agrarian disturbances are created in consequence of the Tenant League movement, in all probability the Island will be forcibly united to Canada, and in such an event the increased taxation will, in all probability, exceed the rent now paid for land, while the chances of the tenantry becoming freeholders will be much lessened.

I am asked what game was played by myself and my colleagues when we authorized Sir D. Daly to urge the Colonial Minister to assent to the Rent Roll Tax Bill and Tenant Compensation Bill? I am quite prepared to answer the question. The tenantry had been so long harrassed by the Proprietors, that the Liberal party were anxious to do all in their power to serve them. They passed the Tenant Compensation Bill, which provided that tenants, when ejected from their farms, should have them valued, and that after deducting the rent due to the Proprietor, the balance should be paid over to the tenant. Through the influence of the Proprietors and some members of the present Government this measure was not only disallowed, but it was stigmatized by the Colonial Minister as "an undisguised act of spoliation;" thus showing what little influence the Island Legislature had when the interests of the Proprietors, supported by the Tory party, were affected. They passed the Rent Roll Tax Bill for the the purpose of supporting a small body of armed pensioners (about 20), and the Government of the day, of which I was a member, used every argument within reach to have the Bill passed; amongst others, that it was necessary to have some force on the Island (when the troops were removed) to put down any disturbances that might arise from whatever cause. They thought it was better to have a small force on the Island than that the people should be compelled to pay for large bodies of troops to put down disturbances caused by the inveterate hostility of the proprietary faction to the tenantry, as fully evidenced in the celebrated constitution which I have already mentioned. And I tell the Editor of the Islander, for his special benefit, that no country is fit to live in unless the law is upheld, and the upholders of it encouraged in the good work. And as he has alluded to my efforts to maintain order in this country, I will tell him what little encouragement I received at the hands of the Government for my pains. I will tell him, at the same time, that should such an occasion unfortunately again present itself, I may not be found one of the most zealous supporters of a Government that has done more to injure the cause of the tenantry than all former Governments put together.

During the Tignish disturbances, I was put to a great deal of extra trouble and expense. The trial of Hiscox for the murder of George Tanton took place while I was Sheriff, which also caused me considerable expense. I sent my bills to the Executive for liquidation, but they refused to pay me a shilling. The House of Assembly, however, seeing how unjustly I was treated, voted me part of the money. Had I been a Delegate to England, to bamboozle the tenantry on the Land Question, no doubt the present Government would pay me well for it.

Since I last addressed you on the Tenant League movement, I understand there has been a riot and serious resistance to the Sheriff, and that some of the persons implicated have been arrested and committed to jail. This I regret extremely. I would again advise the tenantry, as a sincere friend, whatever they do not to place themselves within the grasp of the law. God knows their lot is hard enough. The man who clears the forest alone can tell how hard it is. The law, however, must be upheld, whether it be by a ragged regiment or by troops brought from Halifax; and if the latter are placed under the orders of a Lieut Governor, who, in his place in Parliament, recommended the British Government to disperse the gatherings in London at the cannon's mouth—stating that nothing terrified the mob more than the trailing of a six-pounder on the pavement—can they expect any mercy to be shown them should they violate the law, and the troops be sent here to put them down?

I tell the tenantry, moreover, that they are working into the hands of the Government which betrayed them. An election will take place next summer. In all probability Tenant Union candidates will be in the field in opposition to Liberal ones; and friends of the present Government will slip in to enact such heartless farces as the Land Commission and the 15 Years Purchase Bill. I may be one of the rejected, but whatever may happen to myself individually, I cannot conscientiously support the Tenant League under its present organization.

I hope I have answered the questions put to me by the Islander to the satisfaction of its editor. Should he require any further information, I shall cheerfully give it—that is, if I have any to give.

I remain, my dear Sir
Yours very truly,
J. WARBURTON.

HON. E. WHELAN.

DEATH OF SIR E. P. TACHE.

We learn with much regret that the venerable Premier of Canada, Colonel Sir ETIENNE P. TACHE, died at his residence near Quebec on Sunday week. The Ministry will miss him very much, on account of the great influence which his long services in public life, and his eminent character in every respect, enabled him to exercise over the French population of Lower Canada. He had been the recipient of many honors from his Sovereign and his country—he was a most guileless politician—an accomplished gentleman, and a noble type of the French Canadian character. Peace to his memory!

THE DETROIT CONVENTION.

The Boston Advertiser graphically sums up the work of the Convention. It says:—

"It has taken a stand in favor of the protection of American industry, adopting the resolutions indorsing that policy without a dissenting vote from even the great importing city of New York. It has declared as the sense of the commercial community that the question of time should enter into all contracts with railways for the transportation of freight—a principle of no small importance to the Western public. It has announced in the most positive manner the determination of the capital of the country that the national debt is to be paid; that no whisper of repudiation shall be tolerated; that the burdens occasioned by it will be borne cheerfully, and the tariff and internal revenue systems should be so regulated that the vices and luxuries of the community shall be the main subjects of taxation. It has called upon the government for the construction of a ship canal around Niagara Falls, as a commercial measure, disdaining to appeal to political prejudices by pronouncing such a work at this time a military necessity. It has given utterance and weight to the urgent demands of the teeming West for every possible outlet to the ocean for her products. It has inaugurated a movement for a uniform and decimal system of weights and measures, and laid the corner stone for the national board of trade. It has given its voice in favor of the assistance by the general government of coast and foreign steamship lines. And finally, it has approved the action of the government in abrogating the old Reciprocity Treaty, but at the same time has respectfully asked for the formation of a new treaty which shall be genuinely reciprocal, and shall avoid the features which were found objectionable in the former one.

"Such is the catalogue of the business on the records of the Convention. But it has accomplished more than these things. It has brought the business men of the country closer together, and in a measure opened the eyes of the commercial community to the fact that the interests of the different sections of the country are not, as they sometimes appear, diverse, but one and identical. It has created a cordiality and mutual personal respect between the representatives of the East and of the West, which no circumstances should be permitted to impair. And in a still greater degree it has made an acquaintance and a friendship between the merchants of the neighboring provinces owing allegiance to the British crown, which cannot help being lasting, and can be productive of working but good.

"The appearance and conduct of the Canadian delegations created a universal impression in their favor. Bearing themselves most modestly, declining to accept votes in the convention, but ever ready to explain their views and their wishes on any question which concerned them, ever calm in debate and frank in explanation, sensibly taking no offence at the occasional ill-considered flings and taunts of over-zealous opponents of the Reciprocity Treaty, every delegate soon learned to appreciate and to esteem them. Not a single nasty or unkind word was uttered on the Canadian side of the hall. The United States delegates discovered also that their neighbors were men of ability as well as of discretion; and it is not too much to say that in an assembly of six hundred men, nearly all speakers of marked culture and merit, the best elaborate argument was that of Joseph Howe, of Halifax, and the best off-hand extemporaneous speech that of Malcolm Cameron, of Quebec.

"The circumstances attending the assembling of the convention were most agreeable, and every delegate and journalist present will remember the hospitality of Detroit with gratitude and pleasure. So large an accession of strangers in so small a city of course taxed heavily its accommodations; and it is not surprising that there were some crowding and discomfort at the hotels. Certainly every thing possible was done for the comfort and entertainment of the visitors, and none of them can reasonably complain of their treatment in any particular. The grand excursion on the St. Clair River on Thursday evening, fifteen hundred merry people gathered and amply accommodated on three large steamers lashed together side by side, was a most delightful affair—and the commercial guests learned then, if not before, that the ladies of Detroit are as fair and their society as charming as the city is prosperous and its hospitality magnificent."

FIRE.—On the forenoon of Tuesday last the workship occupied by Mr. Walter Lowe, house-carpenter, on Euston Street, was consumed by fire with all its contents. The shop was owned by the editor of this paper, and it was with some difficulty that his dwelling house and other houses adjoining were saved. This difficulty was solely owing to the scarcity of water supplied by the city authorities in that part of the town, no public wells being nearer than at the remote corners of the block opposite, and these very poorly provided with either water or pumps. Wells should be made of a sufficient depth, and then not kept filled with rotten pumps. Had it not been for the water obtained at the wells of Hon. Dr. Young and Hon. T. Heath Haviland, the adjoining buildings, including the Free Church and Manse, could scarcely have been saved. We return our sincere thanks to the fire companies and others who so kindly aided us on the occasion. Mr. Lowe's loss, we understand, is about £70, and as he is an industrious young man of sober and careful habits, who is just beginning in the world, we commend his case to the sympathy of his fellow-citizens. We cannot condemn too severely the ruffian conduct of some who tore the interior of the cottage in which he resides to pieces, and broke his furniture in a shameful manner, we suppose with the laudable intention of saving it.—Patriot.

We direct attention to the advertisement in another column of a Tea at Summerside. The occasion will be one of great interest, as we understand it will be the last public appearance which Rev. Mr. Geddie will make on the Island, prior to his return to the New Hebrides.—Ib.

MURRAY HARBOR PRESBYTERIAN TEA, NORTH SIDE.—According to previons appointment, the above Tea took place on Wednesday, the 27th ultimo. Though the time for giving notice had been short, the attendance notwithstanding was numerous and respectable. The ladies, it is unnecessary to state, did their part creditably. The viands prepared were such as might satisfy the most fastidious taste. Much credit is also due to the young men for the handsome manner in which they decorated the grounds for the occasion. There were no addresses given, as was intended, owing to occasional showers of rain, which dispersed the company at an early hour. The sum realized was £25 1s. 6d.—Com.

CIVIC ELECTIONS.—The election of Mayor and five City Councillors, on Tuesday last, was, if possible, a more tame affair than any of its predecessors, indeed few of our citizens seemed to be aware that anything of the kind was going on. The following is the result of the election:—

Mayor:

Hon. T. H. Haviland, re-elected.

Common Councillors:

Ward No. 1,—John Morris, Esq., re-elected.
2,—James Reddin, Esq., do.
3,—Richard Heartz, Esq.
4,—George R. Beer, Esq.
5,—Alex. Brown, Esq., re-elected.

Mon.

Angus E. Gillis, supposed to belong to Prince Edward Island, was lost overboard from on board the schooner Prince of Wales, on the 7th of May, on her passage to Surinam. A man named Thomas E. Ladd was also lost.

ONE BOTTLE DID IT.—That is the expression of many who have had their grey hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of MRS S. A. ALLEN'S World's Hair Restorer and Hair Dressing. It is not a dye, it can do no harm. Every one who has used these preparations speak, loud in their praise. If you wish to restore your hair as in youth and retain it through life, without delay procure these preparations. All Druggists keep them.—W. R. Watson, Agent for P. E. Island.

COUGHS.—The administration of medicinal preparations in the form of a lozenge, is, of all modes, the most eligible and convenient, more especially as regards a Cough Remedy. "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Cough Lozenges, allay irritation which induces coughing, giving instant relief in Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Influenza, and Consumptive and Asthmatic complaints.
