The Care of One's Self.

What the good man may do for his thin wife is, first, to give her three months' rest.
Not to take her forcibly away from her cares, to live in a crowded resort and worry over the home left behind, but to see that things are set right and to her mind before she goes. Many a woman never knows what it is to have anything her own way from girlhood to funeral, and this constant denial of preferences drives the nails in her virtues' coffin. If she wants particular saitary arrangements about the house, or a new garden, or some unpleasant inmate provided for, let her have it if she is worth keeping alive. Then with household affairs to her mind, let her go where she can wear a plain dress all day, and lie on a lawn cot which is safer and easier than a hammock, which has a trick of coming down and breaking women's backs. It would be the greatest earthly luxury for a great many worn women to be able to go to bed at sundown, and sleep enough to make up for years of watching and strain. There is sense in early rest and rising in spite of smart sayings about the stimulation of artificial light and company evenings, and "wanting the world well aired before one goes into it." It is proved by long experiment with people out of health, that sleep before midnight rests far more than after, and the first morning light has a stimulus that does not belong to any other time.
Gardeners know that plants derive more benefit from the first hour of sun after its rising than all the rest of the day, and human beings share the stimulus—provided a long night's rest precedes. The rest and the early sun have specially good effect in failure of the heart and nervous depression.
Massage, or an hour's gentle rubbing daily, helps to restore tone. But few recognize the value of electricity in restoring beauty. The trouble is that when its effects are seen, people always think they cannot have too much of it, and stimulate themselves to dangerous injury. People differ so greatly in the degree they can bear, that one delicate woman, will take a current which overcomes a stronger but more sensitive one. Some persons cannot come near an electrical machine when it is working without disagreeable sensations not at all imaginary. But a very gentle current daily applied with other care of the health rallies the forces, and adds flesh and color like magic. I write this for sensible women, not those who, aware of its aid to beauty, rush off to buy a battery as they would a box of face powder, and use it without restraint, as they do chloral and champagne. Electricity is no tame cat, but an able fool killer, or a strong agent for good as it is rightly or wrongly used.

The Emperor's Disease.

A dissection of the neck, larynx and lungs of the late Emperor of Germany was held. In the larynx, which was found to have been destroyed by supuration, was a cavity about the size of a clenched fist.
Dr. Mackenzie says in his report:— "In my opinion the disease from which the Emperor died was cancer. The morbid process probably commenced in the deepest tissues of the cartilaginous structures of the larynx, and they became affected at a very early date. The small growth which was present when I first made an examination was removed by me by several operations, and all the portions removed were submitted to Professor Virchow. He was unable to detect any evidence of the existence of cancer. The examinations made in the beginning of March by Professor Waldeyer led to the belief that cancer was then present. Whether the disease was originally cancerous, or assumed a malignant character some months after its first appearance, it is impossible to state. The fact that perichondritis and caries of the cartil-ages played an active and important part in the development of the disease doubtless largely contributed to make it impossible to form a decided opinion as to its nature till quite a recent date."
To Dr. Mackenzie's report Dr. Hovell adds the following:—
"In so far as my observations since last August permit me to form an opinion, I concur entirely in Dr. Mackenzie's view."

A Living Necklace.

A SERPENT SUDDENLY ENCIRES THE THROAT OF A SCHOOL TEACHER.

Miss Mollie Dinsmore, teacher of the public school of Seymour, Ind., is suffering from the shock occasioned by a recent encounter with a snake. The reptile caused a scare among the pupils on the playground at recess, and Miss Dinsmore hastened to the rescue, when the snake turned upon her, ran up her back and entwined itself around her neck so tightly that but for the timely assistance of a young gentleman who was passing and promptly responded to the frightened calls of the little ones she would have strangled. The snake, when killed, measured over four feet in length. It was a black racer, a variety that is usually considered harmless, and this is the first instance in which one of its kind has been known here to attack any person.

Imperial Address to the Prussian People.

The Emperor's proclamation was published on the 18th inst. It was as follows:—
"The grave had scarcely closed over William before Frederick was called away.
Frederick bore his hard fate with heroic Christian resignation, and remained faithful to his kingly duties. In the few months allotted to him to rule he exhibited all the noble qualities of his mind and heart. His virtues, his victories in the battlefield, will be remembered as long as German hearts continue to beat. I have taken the Government upon myself, looking up to the king of kings for aid. I pray God that, like my father, I may be a just and clement Prince; that I may foster piety and the fear of God; that I may guard the peace and promote the welfare of our land; that I may be the helper of the poor and distressed; the firm guardian of the right, and that I may ever thrive in the execution of my kingly duties, in union with my people, who in good and in evil days, have stood true to their King. I count upon the fidelity of my people, in the consciousness that I shall return it heartily, as a true prince to a true people, both equally ready to make sacrifices for the Fatherland. I derive confidence from the belief. I pray God to lend to me strength and wisdom to discharge my kingly office for the welfare of the Fatherland."

Politics in Cumberland.

An Amherst despatch to the Halifax Herald says:—Election matters are apparently quiet. Criticism is no doubt as dead as Julius Caesar in this county, and no opposition to Dickey is as yet spoken of from that quarter. Casey and his satellites are, however, prosecuting a sort of guerilla warfare on the wild-cat line, but there is no indication but that it will be a repetition of the Bulmer fiasco of November last. In the meantime Mr. Dickey is holding very successful meetings in the eastern part of the county and everything indicates his election by a rousing majority.

The crop reports received from all parts of the Northwest indicate magnificent prospects.

The social life of London is for a while at a standstill, out of respect to the German Emperor.

CHANDLER, City Collector. juns 22 tf

The Mormons are reported to have completed their negotiations for the purchase of four hundred thousand acres of land in the State of Chihuahua, in Mexico, with a view to establish a Mormon settlement in that state. If they undertake to carry polygamy with them, they are likely to get into some serious difficulties with the government of that state.

The decrease in the population of Ireland by over three millions and a half, during the last 47 years, has frequently been remarked upon. It derives additional force from a contrast mentioned by the New York Epoch. In 1801 there were as many people in Ireland as in the whole of the United States. Now New York State alone contains at least 1,000,000 more people than all Ireland.

New York is justly alarmed, on learning through the columns of the World that no fewer than 154 persons were either killed or seriously injured during the past five months by reckless drivers in the streets of that city. Of these 21 were killed outright, and 133 badly hurt. This would represent 50 killed and 300 injured in a year. Probably there is no city in the world where a larger number of fatalities arise from this cause.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain; and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind. [April 1 '88

Mr. Mowat's Free Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park, which was inaugurated with so much ado on the Queen's Birthday, is not, it appears, so free as its name implies. Each and every pedestrian who enters it has to pay a fee of ten cents, carriages being charged an additional fifty cents each. Western papers have taken the matter up, and the Government and the commissioners are subjected to a good deal of banter, criticism and pressure combined, over what all recognize as a small piece of business in connection with so proudly named an institution. There is a consensus of opinion that there should be another grand opening—a free opening this time—and that the 1st of July would be a good date therefore.
