

MRS. WILLIAM J. PAYNTER

Truly a host of friends mourn the passing to higher service of Mrs. William J. Paynter, for her exceptional talent for friendship was coupled with an undaunted spirit and strong constitution and she was able to carry on the activities of earlier life well into the later years. Her death occurred at her home in Burlington, where she had been ill for several months, on September 17 in her 84th year.

She "looked well to the ways of her household" and was a lover of good works, serving her Lord in regular worship, in unstinted service to church and community, and in missionary endeavour. She was one of these instrumental in organizing the first New London branch of the Women's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church, now grown to four groups. She was a Diocesan Life member, and was Diocesan Thankoffering Secretary for many years and up to the time of her death.

Born Margaret MacKay, and familiarly known as "Maggie", she married William J. Paynter, who predeceased her 18 years ago, and settled in the Paynter Homestead, where the tradition of hospitality has been continuous, and to which hundreds of friends came to pay their last respects, as the body lay amid a profusion of beautiful floral tributes.

"Her children rise up and call her blessed" for family ties are strong here, the mother's love knitting a close fellowship in the family of two sons and two daughters, Elmer, Kensington, Leigh at home, Mattie, Mrs. Austin Rogers, Freetown, Hazel, Mrs. John Moore, Kensington. Eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren also remember her with affection, as well as two sisters who are all now surviving in a large family.

The funeral which was very largely attended, was held from the home on Monday, where a short service was held, and the solo, "Going Down the Valley" was beautifully rendered by Mr. Richard Dickleson of New Glasgow, accompanied by Mrs. Ernest Dunning, Long River. The burial service was at St. Stephen's Anglican Church, Burlington, and the adjoining cemetery. All services were conducted by her minister, Rev. W. Eric Ingraham, B.A. The hymns chosen were, "O For a Closer Walk With God", and "The Sands of Time are Sinking", with Mrs. H. B. MacLeod as organist.

The pallbearers were neighbors and lifelong friends of the family, Messrs. William B. Doughart, William J. Proffitt, Halsey Proffitt, Ernest W. Johnstone, Nelson Paynter and Ellis Proffitt.

Syrians Chose Two Communist Deputies

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Syrian voters have chosen two Communist deputies, the first elected in the country's history in parliamentary elections, it was announced Sunday. One of the Communists elected was Khalid Gakdash, leader of the Syrian party.

Casualties in the two-day voting Friday and Saturday mounted to three killed and 80 injured. Two persons were killed and 27 wounded in the city of Maara when 1,000 henchmen of Kikmat Kikaki, a former deputy who lost his seat to a socialist, attacked government house. The henchmen carried away a number of voting boxes, reports said.

With results from 97 of the 142 seats complete, it appeared that independents, under the leadership of former premier Khalid El Adem, would form the largest bloc in the new Parliament.

The Nationalists led the parties with 25 deputies, and the Populists trailed with 14, the Socialists 12 and the Syrian social Nationalists 4.

The trackers were so terrified at their finding that they kept it quiet. But eventually the tale leaked out and the "panther man," named Taboulobela, was arrested.

In police custody, Taboulobela told how he had been hired by Eadongo, the master of the slave owner's pygmies had been running away and he wanted an example made of one of them.

Evidence was carefully gathered from trackers and others who knew the background of the case, but when the trial opened many of the witnesses went back on their testimony out of fear of the "men with claws," another name for the panther cult.

But there was enough evidence for the court to sentence Badzongo to prison Tuesday for 15 years.

The "panther man" himself escaped justice. He died in prison while waiting trial.
