Dec. 3, 1832.

House of Assembly, Tuesday Jan 29.

Mr. Owen reported from the Special Committee appointed to examine the Public Accounts, and to report thereon—and he read the report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's Table, where it was again read and is as follows:—

Your Committee have carefully examined all the Accounts and Documents submitted to them, and have found the Treasurer's account, as well as those of the different Collectors of import and other duties, correct.

Your Committee are happy to have it in their power to congratulate the House on the increase of the Revenue, which exhibits a considerable surplus beyond the receipts of any former year, and as it has been derived, without any material exception, from the usual sources (no portion of the Land Assessment being included), it can be attributed alone to the decided improvement that has taken place in the commerce and agriculture of the country, which are the elements from whence its prosperity springs.

Your Committee have classified the items of Revenue and Expenditure under distinct and separate heads, as in the statement subjoined, which they humbly beg to submit to the House.
