Vatican Council Has Brisk Debate

CP from Reuters-AP

VATICAN CITY — The ecumenical council has held a brisk debate over a secret draft decree on proposed changes in the liturgy of the Roman Catholic church.

A Vatican announcement said 21 cardinals and bishops spoke during the three-hour discussion in which some of the prelates "attacked" and others "defended" the secret decree on public worship, which took a Vatican commission two years to draw up.

The announcement did not disclose which of the church fathers favored or opposed the decree. It covers the mass, administration of the sacraments, sacred art and music, liturgical books as well as the extent to which Latin should be replaced by modern languages in public forms of devotion.

Details of the plan were not disclosed, but preparatory reports have indicated it would include a considerable overhauling of ritual and worship practices.

Steps to encourage greater congregational participation, to bring the altar and people closer together and to substitute national tongues for part of the Latin mass have been discussed, among other measures. Internal renewal of the church is their avowed aim.

But some of the proposed changes are also viewed by church leaders as an aid to helping close the schism between Rome and other denominations.

GIVEN STATUS

Efforts in this direction got another major boost Monday when the Vatican's secretariat for Christian unity was accorded official status on a par with the other 10 proposal-drafting commissions. Headed by Augustin Cardinal Bea, a renowned Biblical scholar, it will draw up and present specific measures to the council for bringing closer ties with other church bodies.

Joseph Cardinal Frings, archbishop of Cologne, opened the general liturgy debate. He is believed to support the views of the German bishops, who have asked for greater use of modern languages instead of Latin in church ceremonies.

Ernesto Cardinal Ruffini, archbishop of Palermo, was the next speaker. He is generally regarded as one of the most conservative Italian cardinals.

Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, also took part.

The liturgical debate, held behind closed doors, will continue Tuesday with a further exchange of views by the 2,500 bishops and cardinals attending the 21st ecumenical council.

Retired Officer Slain In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Paul Joachim, 50, a retired rear admiral, was slain Monday by a gunman who pumped four bullets into his body in an apparent holdup attempt.

Police said Joachim, a Chicago art dealer since his retirement from the U.S. Navy, was gunned down when he gave battle to a lone gunman who accosted him as he walked along a street.

Two witnesses said the gunman, about 18 to 20 years old, shot Joachim when he resisted, then fired three more shots into his prostrate body before fleeing.

Naval authorities said Joachim, a captain in the Second World War, served as executive officer on the battleship New Jersey. He retired in July, 1954, with the rank of rear admiral.

BBG Offers Conference On Sport TV

OTTAWA (CP) — The Board of Broadcast Governors has offered to call a meeting of all interested parties to seek a permanent solution to the problem of television rights to sports events.

The offer was made as the board stood firm in its intention to impose a settlement between the rival CBC and CTV networks in their Grey Cup TV dispute unless they can reach agreement on their own to enable all TV stations to broadcast the Dec. 1 Canadian football classic in Toronto.

Meanwhile, the governors announced in a statement that they will hold an in - camera board meeting Nov. 7 to review the Grey Cup TV dispute "and determine what action, if any, is required to protect the public interest."

However, the board did not spell out Monday how it would compel all TV stations in Canada to carry the football telecast. Last-August, it proposed a regulation which, in effect, would oblige the 120 stations on the publicly - owned CBC network to carry the privately-owned CTV telecast complete with CTV advertising.

The BBG said it has been informed of progress in continuing discussions between the two networks, who have said only that they are close to agreement.

MAY CALL MEETING

On the question of settling the problem of TV sports rights in general, the governors said they would call a meeting of all parties if there was evidence that it "might prove fruitful."

The governors said they prefer that a voluntary settlement be reached in the Grey Cup dispute.

If a regulation was to take effect in time for the Dec. 1 contest, it would have to be published in the Canada Gazette by Nov. 1, the board said.

The CTV network now owns exclusively the Grey Cup TV rights. It serves stations in Halifax, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg, Moose Jaw, Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver.

The CBC objected to the board's proposed regulation concerning national coverage on the grounds that it would be tantamount to having city "sell" the CBC network to CTV sponsors. It was willing to carry the telecast with its own sponsors or without commercials at all.

At an Aug. 18 public hearing here, the CBC argued it had justice department advice that the proposed regulation was beyond the BBG's authority. The board and the CTV said they had independent legal advice was to the contrary.

OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

MONTREAL (CP) — The Black Watch of Canada boys' pipe and drum band celebrated its 10th anniversary Monday night. At a dinner marking the band's founding, Pipe Sgt. Donald MacFarlane was presented with a shield for being "the best performer on the great highland bagpipe."

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
3 ♠	Dble.	Pass	4 ♠
Pass	4 ♥	Dble.

Opening lead— ten of diamonds.

The chief purpose of a preemptive bid is to make things tough for the opponents. There is no expectation of making a game (witness East's three diamond bid), but only the hope that the opponents, who presumably have the better cards, will get fouled up and end in the wrong contract.

This hand occurred in a rubber bridge game. The players were all of top class. East opened three diamonds and South doubled for takeout. He was hoping for a major suit response from North, in which case he planned to bid game.

West passed and North responded four clubs. South naturally went to four hearts, which West just as naturally doubled. West led the ten of diamonds.

Declarer took it with the ace and led the queen of hearts. West grabbed the ace and led another diamond. East won and returned the eight of spades. West took the jack with the queen, cashed the ace, and played a spade which East ruffed. It was the fifth trick for the defense.

East returned a club and West cashed the ace and later also scored the jack of hearts to defeat the contract four tricks—1,100 points! East- West could have made four diamonds.

If you examine the matter objectively, you find that South didn't do anything terribly wrong in the bidding. He might possibly have overcalled with three hearts instead of doubling, but that was the only practical alternative he had. A pass of three diamonds with South's hand was out of the question.

Of course, if West's cards had been held by North, South's double would have worked out fine. In that case, South might have arrived at a grand slam in spades, which could be defeated.

The hand dramatizes the advantages that can flow from a preemptive bid. Players who pass up the opportunity for preemptive bids with weak hands lose the chance of creating favorable swings. No one would think, looking at East's hand, that his three diamond bid would bring him a bonus of 1,100 points.
