

Local and Other Items.

LORD DUNMORE is in Ottawa. LAND LEAGUE meeting to-night. No crossing at the Capes to day. LADY MACDONALD is indisposed. THEY are having warm weather in Manitoba. The New Brunswick Legislature opened on the 16th. THE mails via Cape Traverse arrived late last evening. A SOLDIER in Halifax has been sent to Ireland on a charge of fraud. A RECRUITING OFFICE for the North-West mounted police is to be opened at Toronto. THE Charlottetown Land League intends giving an entertainment on St. Patrick's Night. ONE case of drunkenness and another of assault at the Stipendiary Magistrate's Court this forenoon. An American exchange says that Kenick Vennor, is getting too disagreeably accurate in these weather matters. THE disease among horses known as pink-eye has appeared in Montreal, and prevails to an alarming extent in nearly every stable. THE person who found the buffalo on Sydney or Pownall Street, on Monday evening 18th Jan., will return the same to this office and avoid prosecution. WE learn that the Directors of the Bank of P. E. Island, have paid in the $75,000 promised by them; and that a number of the stockholders have also answered to the call recently made. This looks encouraging. THE Treasurer of the Charlottetown Hospital thankfully acknowledges the receipt of one hundred and ninety-one dollars and thirty cents being the proceeds of the Hospital concert held on the 19th inst., in the Market Hall. MR. TAILLON, member of the Quebec Provincial Parliament, is now being sued for $1,000 a day for the fifteen days he sat in the Legislature of Quebec, for having been appointed to the position of Commissioner of the Municipal Loan Fund. "WHILE playing a star engagement through New England," writes Mr. Wm. Davidge, "I contracted severe rheumatism. St. Jacob's Oil was recommended. I used it as ordered, and was cured in four days, and have had no return of the ailment."

POSITIVE.—J. H. Fletcher, Esq., lectures to-night in the Second Methodist Church. Subject: "The Ideal Boy." This is one of Mr. Fletcher's latest and best lectures, and we can promise all who attend, an interesting and profitable time. Admits on $10 cents Chair taken at 8 o'clock. THE proceeds of the concert in aid of the Hospital amounted to $191.30—we believe the largest sum ever realized at an amateur concert in Charlottetown. Its promoters beg to acknowledge with thanks the assistance so readily rendered by our local press, and others, whose services have materially contributed to the attainment of so desirable a result. THE Treasurer of the Hospital fund acknowledges the receipt of the following contributions—Mrs. L. C. Owen, $2; Mrs. Alex. Brown, $1; Mrs. Sloggett, $1; Mrs. Welsh, $1; Judge Hensley, $5; Collection of Miss DesBrisay, $10; Mrs. Peters, $12; Miss Peters, $3; Mrs. E. Bayfield, $5—Collection of Miss Palmer, $20. Collected by Mrs. Hughes from Captain Mutch, $1—In all the sum of $31.

NATIVE POTTERY.—We have seen a tobacco box made by the P. E. I. Pottery Co., for a gentleman at the West, from clay found on his farm. It represents the stump of a hollow tree, really artistic in design and execution, and equal to the best of Berlin ware. At the Pottery show room are specimens of flower vases of Etruscan and Etruscan shape, b-sides crockery of all kinds. This native pottery ought to be encouraged.

THE railway, with the exception of Sonris branch, is now open. The train which left here for Tignish this morning, arrived at Summerside at 4 o'clock. A special, which left for Summerside at 6.10 a. m., arrived at 3.25. A special left Charlottetown for Georgetown at 7.10 a. m., and arrived at 12.40, and is now returning, and will leave again about 6 o'clock. Another train will leave this city for Summerside about 8 o'clock this evening. The train from Tignish will arrive to-night at 11 o'clock.

THE City Council met this forenoon for the purpose of appointing a Finance Committee, instructing the assessors, and receiving the report of the Union Bank. The Chair was taken by Mayor Hooper at 11.30. Councillor Davy tabled his resignation as a member of the Finance Committee. It was neither accepted nor rejected. An irrelevant debate then followed, and when the hands on the dial reached 1.30, the order of the day remained unaltered—nothing was done. However, before closing, the following resolution was carried unanimously. Resolved, That the assessors be instructed to assess according to law on income and poll tax. The meeting then adjourned sine die. We shall publish a fuller report to-morrow.

TO DAY a boy named Whitlock, twelve years old, appeared before the Stipendiary Magistrate, charged with stealing goods from Mr. Daniel Read (blind) and obtaining money under false pretences. The youth entered the store of Messrs. Beer & Goff a few days ago, and presented a money order which he represented to be from Mr. Reid. Mr. Beer declined to cash the order, but said if Mr. R. had required money to send a number of brushes and he (Mr. Beer) would pay for them in cash. The boy left the shop and shortly returned with three dozen brushes for which he promptly received the money. The fraud was shortly discovered. The lad fogged the order on, and stole the brushes from Mr. Reid. He confessed his offense at Court this forenoon, and said he was told to commit the fraud by a boy named Kinsman, who is under arrest. The case was adjourned until to-morrow.

CORRESPONDENCE.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions or statements of our correspondents. To the Editor of the Examiner.

SIR,—I must again trouble you for space to refute some statements put forth by "Sufferer," in a letter published in your issue of the 11th inst. He insinuates that "Veritas" is prepared to make another haul should the Bank of P. E. Island resume. Permit me to inform "Sufferer," that he labors under a profound misapprehension. "Veritas" never made a haul from the Bank of P. E. Island, and never intends to; therefore "Sufferer" may relieve his mind from at least that source of anxiety. Further, "Veritas" is no apologist for any class; simply stated facts known in regard to many, who, without any dishonest intentions, procured advances from the Bank, and who, it seems to me, are much more stung against than sinning. Those of the Bank's debtors who are disposed to do what is right, and to help the Bank out of its difficulties, would appear to have a thankless task before them, if compelled to submit to the taunts and insults of "Sufferer" and his fellow scribblers. Who are the thieves and robbers who infest the city? Let "those wretches" who anonymously and surreptitiously, have been casting their envenomed darts over the length and breadth of the land, striking indiscriminately at all, whether guilty or innocent, come out openly and manfully over their true signatures, and name those "thieves and robbers." Do they refer to the favored few, whose accounts at the bank, being in no more satisfactory condition than others, yet are screened from publicity held sacred from the vulgar herd—while all the sin and all the shame are saddled on the backs of the scape-goats? This is not justice. All should be treated alike, without fear or favor. Let me remind "those wretches" that in their blind fury they are doing themselves and the Bank of P. E. Island an incalculable injury, now and hereafter. Again, no sneers were meant to be cast at "Depositors," for whom, and all connected with the Bank in this unfortunate matter, the sincerest sympathy and respect are entertained. But it is not those who have the real interest of the Bank at heart who have made the loudest outcry, as recent events have proved. Yours, etc., VERITAS.

Bread.

To the Editor of the Examiner. SIR.—Last week a letter appeared in an issue of this paper, the subject of which was "Bread," one which seems greatly to trouble the ill-balanced mind of the writer, J. McM. At first, I did not deem it necessary to reply to the ravings of this mad leucine "Jack of all trades" and "master of none," as I thought no sensible person would pay any attention to anything from that worthy's pen. But a few have credited his statements, and for the benefit of these I will show where it is wrong. In the first place, he says: "a barrel of ordinary flour costs $6.00. He is astray $1.25 in this alone, as the lowest grade of flour cannot be bought for less than $7.25. Then he says with this barrel of flour a baker turns out 300 pounds bread 150 loaves. I am sure any baker would be only too happy to have this individual in their employ, and give him handsome wages, if he can turn out from 24 to 30 loaves more from a barrel of flour, than has heretofore been done by any other person. The outside figure is 126 loaves to a barrel of flour; this puts him astray 24 loaves at 8 cents per loaf, which is equal to $1.92. Again he says this 150 loaves, sold at 8 cents per loaf, nets $12.00 to the baker; but he is wrong in this, as the bulk of this bread is wholesaled to storekeepers in the City, at 7 cents per loaf. We'll say 100 of the 150 loaves goes to these parties, this reduces his figure another dollar. But the principal feature which I notice in your correspondent's letter, is that he makes no provision for fuel, wages, etc., as well as incidental expenses in connection with the baking business. Fuel alone is a heavy item. Wages amounts to about 75 cents per barrel of flour. All these things, as every business man knows, materially effect the profits of a business. Now to sum it up. He says a barrel of flour produces in bread, $12.00 Less cost of flour (his cost), $6.00 " error in cost, 1.25 " error in number of loaves, 1.92 " difference in price of that whole-saled to stores, " 100 loaves at 1 cent, 1.00 " Wages, 0.75 10.92 Net profit, $1.08 This constitutes the profit for the baker, which, with the keen competition for trade in this Province, is, it must be admitted, not a large margin, and exactly $4.92 less than "J. McM.'s" figures. As for the latter part of your correspondent's letter, the readers of your paper know it to be false, as no baker could do business in any city and practice the low trick which he accuses them of. Yours truly, CRUST. Charlottetown, Feb. 20th, 1882.

To the Editor of the Examiner. DEAR SIR,—Your issue of the 18th instant contains a letter under the heading of "Stray Shots at Councillor Chappelle," and "Citizen" given as a name to the author. The man who wrote in such Billingsgate style is no citizen of Charlottetown. If he was, I should exclaim: woe unto my country, that brings into existence such beings. But no greater compliment can a man get than to be abused under cover of anonymous correspondence, especially after Councillor Chappelle had positively stated that he would not recognize any anonymous writer; and "Citizen" dare not append his signature to the production of his diseased brain, ashamed of it at its conception, and wanting to make it appear respectable, he hits on the name of "Citizen." In any statement of Councillor Chappelle refused? No. Nothing but a little would be sarcasm. Editors, like other men, often make mistakes, and sometimes change their minds; and the man who is abused one year may be lauded to the skies the next. In fact all the good men we have in the country have been abused in their time, and have been always shining marks for would-be newspaper correspondents. If the editor of the Patriot has changed his mind, that shows his good sense and love of fair play. He has seen how Councillor Chappelle has striven to do his duty, and how, during his term at the Civic Board, he has acquitted himself creditably and well. "Citizen," if you want to cross swords with Councillor Chappelle, sign your name to your productions, and you will find country orders executed nearly and with despatch at the Diamond Bookstore.
