DIES IN B. C.—Mrs. W. H. Calbeck has received news of the death of Charles Calbeck in Nelson, B. C., on November 26, in his 65th year. Mr. Calbeck was a son of the late Wellington Calbeck and Millicent Clark of Tryon. Surviving relatives in addition to his wife, the former Annie MacLean formerly of Argyle Shore, and their three children, are two sisters, Mrs. Alfred Canfield (Janie) Westmoreland, and Mrs. Smith (Ella) living in Boston, also brothers Walter in Summerside and Percy residing in Tryon.

INVESTIGATING LABOR SITUATION—Mr. G. H. McGeer, an investigator attached to special services branch of the Federal Department of Labour, who arrived in Charlottetown on Wednesday evening, was occupied most of yesterday afternoon with the local labour situation, dealing particularly with defence contracts. His visit is a result of a resolution passed by the Charlottetown Branch, Canadian Legion, at their September meeting calling for the preference of veterans in securing employment as described in the Veteran's Act. Reference was made to the resolution against alleged discrimination against veterans. Mr. McGeer will make his report to the Department of Labour immediately on his return to Ottawa.

SORORITY FORMAL—The Beta Phi Sorority held a Snowball Formal in the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening. The gymnasium was attractively decorated in accordance with the season. During the evening a number of specialties were presented. Mary Campbell sang a couple of popular songs and Peggy Daniels charmed the guests with her tap dancing. The highlight of the evening was the locating of a mystery man and mystery lady who were Leith Stetson and Joan Beairto. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gay were the lucky couple. The music was provided by Al Blumhard and his orchestra. The dance was such a success that it was felt that it ought to be made an annual event.

NEWMAN NEWS—The regular meeting of the Charlottetown Newman Club was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall, last Wednesday evening. The meeting was presided over by the vice-president Edward Mullins. The meeting was addressed by the moderator Father Francis Bolger, who continued a series of lectures on the commandments. After this the business part of the meeting was held. The discussion centered around plans for the movement to bring Christ back to Christmas. It was decided the last meeting of the club before Christmas will be held next week which will be followed at a later date by a Christmas party.

Fine Modern Quarters For Potato Growers Ass'n

The large office and warehouse building at the approach of Prince Street wharf recently acquired by the P. E. Island Potato Growers Association has been completely renovated, enlarged and modernized in order to bring the offices and warehouse under one roof in a convenient location for their expanding business.

The building, which has a length of 140 feet and a width of 40 feet, makes provision for spacious offices on the upper floor, with ample provision for clients immediately at the head of the stairs and at once in touch with the clerical staff. The room here is thirty by twenty feet and is fitted with a large dividing counter, with chairs and tables outside for the public and accommodation for the office staff with the necessary equipment in the same area.

This room is well lighted and modernized with light blue and gray plastic floor squares, the walls and woodwork being treated to harmonize. The manager's office adjoining is 16 by 18 feet carrying a different treatment with large pattern tiles for a floor finish in two tones of brown.

A miniature cafeteria and cloak room takes up the remaining portion of the finished rooms, leaving storage space in the rear of this upper floor for various purposes. Provision has been made on the ground floor for quick and efficient handling of potatoes by the exterior installation of an escalator capable of being used at either ground or first floor level. The Association now has fifteen carloads of potatoes on hand, bagged and ready for shipment by steamer which is expected daily. The warehouse has a capacity of 20 carloads. Outward orders are handled by chute direct to the vehicle being loaded.

The new location permits of easy access to steamers loading at the Railway wharf and will enable loading or unloading with equal efficiency, shipments by railway cars or trucks. Mr. Wilfrid Butler is warehouse manager. Mr. Fred Bell, manager of the Association, expects to move with his office staff from the uptown office to the new location early in week. Mrs. Barbara Jenkins is next in charge of the general office staff of five clerks and stenographers.

QUEBEC, Nov. 27—(CP)—A. O. Dufresne, Quebec deputy minister of mines, said today production of titanium in Quebec now is 150,000 tons of processed ore annually and will reach 300,000 tons when a new refinery is completed at Sorel, near Montreal.

Commenting on a London dispatch which told of proposed experiments for use of metal in warships, he said deposits of titanium in the north shore of the St. Lawrence River, 430 miles east of here, are thought to be the world's largest.

Principal quality of the metal is that it is non-corrosive and as light as steel. Like aluminum, it does not fracture in a brittle manner. Canada is experimenting with use of titanium in jet and other aircraft where lightness and strength are necessary.

OTTAWA, Nov. 27—(CP)—Highlights of a Kellogg consultation board on railway wages: Majority recommendations: 1. An average wage increase of 16 cents an hour, made up of a combination of percentage and cents per hour. (Unions asked 45 cents an hour.) 2. The check-off of union dues by the railways.

3. Removal of a 1950 contract clause restricting employees' overtime pay in the event of a declared national emergency. 4. No union shop. 5. No escalator wage clause. 6. Effective date of one-year contract when final agreement is reached.

Minority recommendations: 1. An average wage increase of 26 cents an hour, also a combination of percentage and cents per hour. 2. An escalator clause to give employees further increase of one cent per hour for each point rise in the cost-of-living index. 3. The union shop, which would compel employees covered by it to contracts to belong to one or another of the unions involved. 4. The check-off.

Later, Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto) Eglington said that Prime Minister St. Laurent recently told the House more neckties might have been ordered than if the minister or deputy had seen the contract first.

Mr. Claxton earlier had defended the number of neckties bought, and said none were for mobilization. He said all orders had been viewed by himself or his deputy either before they were placed with the Defence Production Department or later.

He said thousands of items of stores are bought for the armed forces for four reasons—to recruit, to replace what servicemen wear out, to have a reserve for varying sizes and for unexpected requirements, and finally for mobilization.

Reviews Strides Made In Hospitalization

MONCTON, Nov. 27—The strides that have been made in hospitalization in the last several years were outlined last evening in an address by Dr. J. A. McMillan, Charlottetown, president of the Maritime Hospital Association accounting institute in session here, by the Blue Cross organization.

The banquet was held in the Brunswick Hotel with Ald. Ambrose Wheeler, a senior member of the Blue Cross executive in the chair. He introduced the speaker who told of the early days of Blue Cross in the Maritime Provinces in 1943 when the slogan was "One in 10 will be in hospital next year." This has been revised now, the speaker continued, to increase the ration to one in six. Paradoxically, he said, this does not mean that more people are sick, but that there is more in the line of hospital service to offer a larger public.

In 1940, 10,000,000 persons were insured against the cost of illness. Last year, he continued, the Life Insurance Association of America reported that 87,000,000, well over half the population of the United States, had hospital protection in some type. There is every reason to expect that within the next decade more than 80 per cent of all people in the United States and Canada will be covered through health insurance of some kind.

He stressed at this point that health insurance was a far cry from the compulsory government-sponsored health insurance with which it is sometimes confused. With the large number of persons insured against the cost of hospital care, Dr. McMillan continued, greater prosperity is in store for the hospitals. Every insured person is one more potential patient who cannot become a bad debt. Blue Cross in North America this year will pay more than $500,000,000 in hospital bills, and the Maritime plan itself will pay bills amounting to almost $3,500,000.

Little Theatre Guild Executive Meeting

The Charlottetown Little Theatre Guild executive met last evening to plan a "Try-out Party" for the active members of the Guild to be held on November 6. This is an opportunity for members, new and old, to meet, and is the opportunity the Casting Committee is looking for.

In the unavoidable absence of the President, Mrs. B. H. Hughes, through illness, the Vice-President, Arthur MacLean occupied the chair.

Plans were also made for the third Studio Night, scheduled for December 9. Three one-act plays will be presented: "The Devil and Miss Apple" directed by J. A. Lawson; "The End of a Fairy Tale" directed by Elizabeth Willett; and by special request a repeat performance of "Eros at Breakfast" co-directed by George Anderson and Sterling Walkers.

A new committee was formed with Mrs. E. S. Giddings as committee chairman to take charge of entertainment.

Copy Of Letter From John Wesley To Benj. Chappell

In the rear of Trinity United Church in Charlottetown, on the west wall, is a tablet to the memory of Benjamin Chappell. It carries the name, and dates 1739-1825, also a reference to Hebrews II:3-10. The text quoted reads: "By faith Abraham when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed, and he went out, not knowing whither he went. By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, dwelling in tabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise." In point of age this bronze tablet is the oldest one in the Church.

It came to the knowledge of members of Trinity United Church Board recently that there was a letter, still extant within the Chappell family connection, written by John Wesley to Benjamin Chappell, who was a disciple of his, and then living in a young man in Bristol, England. Since then an endeavour has been made to secure this original letter, and have it placed in the church under the tablet, thus showing the close and early connection of Benjamin Chappell with the Wesleyan Society of that day. This was found impossible to do, on account of family sentiment and tradition, but a photostat copy of the original letter has been secured. With the authority of the Session of Trinity the letter has been framed and placed under the tablet.

The following is a copy of the original letter, with appropriate comment, in a foot note, regarding Benjamin Chappell. "To Benjamin Chappell, Bristol, Sept. 5, 1772. "My Dear Brother: "I see no harm in what you propose. The removing the Prayer Meeting to Friday evening, but I judge your Brethren would be the best judges. It is in you. I am, "Your Affectionate Brother, "J. Wesley."

"As a young man in Bristol, England, Benjamin Chappell was associated with John Wesley in his work there. He later came to Canada, and Prince Edward Island, and in time settled in Charlottetown and was the first Post Master here from 1800-1825. A zealous worker in the early life of the Wesleyan Society of his day."

As Trinity United Church is observing its anniversary on Sunday, Nov. 30, it is quite appropriate that Benjamin Chappell's name should be recalled, since he was one of the founders of the present day Church.

Anniversary Observance At Trinity United Church

On Sunday next, Nov. 30, the anniversary of Trinity United Church will be celebrated with special services. The preacher for the day will be the Rev. John B. Hardie, M.A., B.D., Ph.D., of Pine Hill Divinity Hall and Miss Audrey Farnell will be the guest soloist.

These anniversary services, which are an annual event at Trinity Church, not only recall to mind the train of events, which have through the years led up to this present church with its large congregation, but they are also a reminder of what this present generation owes to those who will follow after.

This year marks the 89th anniversary of the building of the present church and the 146th anniversary of the first Wesleyan Chapel which was opened for public worship in 1816.

It is worthy of note that the first Sunday School of any denomination in Prince Edward Island was organized in 1817 under the pastorate of the Rev. J. B. Strong, the third minister of the Wesleyan congregation.

The beginning of the church itself, dates back to 1801, when Thomas Dawson, a lay preacher, who came to the island from Cool Hill, Ireland, and Benjamin Chappell, the post-master at Charlottetown, began a series of cottage prayer meetings. Six years later, the Rev. James Bulpitt was sent to the colony by the London Missionary Society to the island, followed by the Rev. John Hick in 1815, who, after two years was sent to Upper Canada, and he, in turn, was followed by the Rev. J. B. Strong.

Earliest Sunday School So to Mr. Strong belongs the honor of forming Prince Edward Island's earliest Sunday School. It consisted of only 20 members including the superintendent and teachers. So from this very small beginning, the present splendid Sunday School of some 600 members, under the capable leadership of Dr. Lloyd Shaw, has grown.

From November 13th, 1864, when the First Methodist Church was dedicated, until 1925, when it became Trinity United Church, many notable men have been called to its ministry. Such
