

A Prayer and Its Answer.

Father the way is dark, Wildly the billows roar, And my frail storm-toss'd barque May never gain the shore.

The waves are in Thy hand, And though fierce tempests lower, They own their sovereign Lord's command, My child, fear not their power.

Fear not—Lead the way, The path, now dark, shall shine Of glorious light divine, Lean on my strong right arm— My power to bless thee prove; To shield thee from all earthly harm, To guard thee by my love.

Father, the path is rough, And weary are my feet in Thee, Will thou not say enough, He now thy joy replete, Ah! no, not yet faint one, Wouldst thou to glory rise Ere half thy life's short race is run, Or thou hast won the prize.

Labor still bravely on, Trust in thy risen Lord; So shalt thou gain a crown, Thy patient heart to pray, Labor, and watch, and pray, Be bold and firm, and strong, Look for the coming promised day, The night will pass ere long.

Father, Thy will be done, My heart doth rest in Thee, Through the Eternal Son, Who fought the fight for me, I shall the victory gain, Shall conquer every sin; And ne'er of earthly loss complain, If I may Jesus win.

Then on the other side, Beyond the pearly gate, Safe from the swelling tide, Where sainted loved ones wait, I'll higher raise the song, Of rapture glad and free, Honor and praise and power belong To Him who died for me.

He Careth. What can it mean! Is it aught to Him, That the nights are long and the days are dim! Can He be touched by the griefs I bear, Which sadden the heart, and whiten the hair!

And yet I want Him to care for me, While I live in this world where the sorrows be! When the light die down from the path I take, When strength is feeble, and friends forsake, When love and music that once did bless Have left me to silence and loneliness!

Oh, wonderful story of deathless love, Each child I dear to that Heart above, Lie lights for me when I cannot fight; He comforts and helps me through the night; He lifts the burden, for He is strong; He stills the sigh, and awakens the song; The sorrows that bowed me down He bears, And lives, and pardons, because He cares.

Let all who are sad take heart again, And my spirit is bowed with shame and wrong, When I am not good and the deeper shade Of conscious sin make the heart afraid, And the busy world has too much to do, To stay in its course and help me through, And I long for a Saviour—can it be That the God of the universe care for me.
