CONSERVATIVE SURPLUSES.

The Toronto Globe, which the Patriot quotes at large, makes much of the fact that in the three last years of Mr. Foster's regime, there were deficits aggregating $5,694,759. But the Globe forgets to remind its readers—and the Patriot is equally forgetful—that these were years of world-wide commercial depression, in which every government dependent upon trade for its revenue,—was minus many millions of money. The United States Government, if we mistake not, suffered deficits to the extent of hundreds of millions of dollars. Nor does the Globe of the Patriot make any mention of the long series of surpluses obtained under Conservative management. The surplus was in

1881.....	$4,132,744
1882.....	6,316,352
1883.....	7,064,493
1884.....	754,256
1887.....	96,313
1889.....	2,064,375
1890.....	3,885,894
1891.....	2,235,743
1892.....	155,974
1893.....	1,354,556

In sixteen years, from 1881 to 1896, the Conservatives had surpluses aggregating $28,063,700 and deficits aggregating $14,779,528. When it is remembered that the Conservatives provided for the Riel Rebellion expenses out of revenue, and that Mr. Foster took $3,000,000 off the sugar duties, we do not think that this record is one of which the Conservatives need be ashamed.

Fortunately for them, the Liberals came in upon the crest of a great world-wide wave of commercial activity, and they have enjoyed greatly increased revenues. If they had but kept their expenditures down to the Conservative standard of about $37,000,000 a year out of the Consolidated Fund, they would have had tens of millions more money to their good than they have. But "this is a growing time" has been their motto, and "wait till you see us next year," their watchword.

—A cool wave has passed along the whole coast.

—Aguinaldo says that he will not be caught by the amnesty proclamation issued by the United States Government.

—Only ten of the invalided Canadians are on board the Parisian. About 120 others are coming by the Lake Ontario.

—A second detachment of the First Canadian contingent has been invalided to England; but we do not notice in the list published the name of any one from P. E. Island.

WOULD YOU HAVE SUPPORTED THIS?

Suppose that in 1896 Laurier had made a speech like this to the electorate, would you have voted for his candidates:

"Gentlemen,—We propose to make great reforms. Your taxes are too light; we shall increase them by $12,500,000.

"The Tupper Government have spent but $40,730,853 this year; we shall gradually add to the expenditures until they reach $51,542,635 in 1899.

"The debt is altogether too small; we shall add $3,000,000 to it.

"We have too many markets; we shall refuse a preference in the British market; we shall give the Yankees all they want in our market so that their tariff against us may be kept up, and we shall induce the Germans to put a discriminating tariff upon Canadian products, that the United States may have that market exclusively.

"You are paying far too little for your coal oil; we shall sell out our oil industry to the Standard oil monopoly, and will thus raise the price by from six to ten cents a gallon.

"The idea of standing by Great Britain in periods of crisis is absurd; if trouble arise, and the Empire is threatened, we shall refuse to help in Imperial defence until we are forced to act, and, if we do act, we shall notify the Queen not to look upon our action as a precedent.

"The Tories gave too little to railway corporations; we shall double the bonuses, and shall subsidize parallel lines all over the country.

"Too small are the amounts paid for public works; we shall introduce 'go-betweens' to take contracts and pocket the difference between the amount the contractor charges and the larger amount that we shall pay.

"The elections give too much anxiety to the people; we shall see that the ballot-boxes are duly stuffed, thus relieving you of the necessity of forming a judgment on public affairs.

"Our friends have been long out" in the cold; we shall warm them with boodle, according to their deserts; the Toronto Globe shall be granted a coal mine it does not earn, and faithful political shall make money, even out of the food of our soldiers."

If this had been the announced programme, would you have supported it?—Toronto Mail and Empire.

ANOTHER LIBERAL SPEAKS.

THE EASTERN ONTARIO REVIEW has "no use for Tupper or any of the present Conservative party leaders." It is still stalwart upon that point. But nevertheless it has been constrained to vigorously condemn the Liberals holding office. It says:—

"The present Liberal Government was elected on a definitely stated platform, which met with the views of honest men in both political parties. They made great promises. Here are a few of them:—

"They promised us a tariff for revenue only. They have not given it to us.

"They promised to reduce the expenditure of the Government by several millions of dollars. They have increased it by many millions.

"They promised to enormously reduce the national debt. They have enormously increased it.

"They promised to clean this country of corrupt practices in elections. They have not done so, but in many cases have brought disgrace upon the party whose name they bear.

"They promised to stop the practice of appointing members of Parliament to positions in the Government. They have followed this same practice in a most shameful manner.

"They promised to bring railway corporations to their proper place and to have full control over them. They have given millions of dollars for wildcat railway schemes and are practically at the mercy of the great railway corporations.

"These are only a few promises, but enough to show that the Government, as it is today, has played false with the men who put them where they are.

"No party ever started out with better prospects or had a better chance to carry out its promises than the Liberal party did in 1896.

"They had a big majority in the House and the country was on the eve of the brightest commercial period in its history.

"The leaders appeared to go mad with delight upon assuming office and forgot entirely the professed principles upon which they were elected. The men who elected them have not forgotten those principles and they still stand on those principles.

"No wonder the Gleaner or any other honest Liberal paper or supporter would feel disgusted and disappointed with the failure of their leaders to act honestly as they were elected and expected to do. The Liberal party today is honest, as it ever was, and will not stand dishonestly in its leaders.

"The Review, an independent Liberal paper, has repeatedly protested against the mistakes of the leaders. We do so again and in this we are not alone in this constituency.

"During the past month scores of old time Liberals here have stated positively that they would use neither their influence nor their votes to return their party to power with its present false leaders.

"One leading Liberal went so far as to state that he would certainly vote against the party at the first opportunity."

This is the way the real Liberals of Ontario are writing and talking. Honest and independent Liberal newspapers and honest and independent Liberal men everywhere, are thoroughly disgusted with the Government.
