MacMillan To Toronto?

BILLY MacMILLAN, star centreman with St. Dunstan's University Saints in the Maritime Intercollegiate Hockey League last season, indicated Saturday that he will probably attend the Toronto Maple Leafs' training camp this fall in an attempt to nail down a position with one of the Leaf's top affiliate clubs.

MacMillan, who came back to Inland to play with St. Dunstan's after his junior eligibility had ran out, dropped the hint of his possible return to the Leafs' chain while speaking at the annual banquet of the Charlottetown Minor Hockey Association, at the Basilio Recreation Centre Saturday night.

A standout St. Michael's Majors winger two seasons ago, MacMillan is engaged to be married June 6. He will probably meet with Bob Davidson, Maple Leafs' chief scout, to discuss a possible contract and training camp plans for the coming season while on his honeymoon in Ontario next month.

The 22-year-old Charlottetown native, rated highly as a winger by the Leafs' organization, was by far the outstanding player in the Intercollegiate circuit last season. He was named the league's Most Valuable Player, won the scoring championship with 25 goals and 11 assists and was named centreman on the first All-Star team.

On numerous occasions last season it was MacMillan who came up with the big goal to keep St. Dunstan's in contention for the league championship SDU gave up the league title however, to the University of New Brunswick on a home-and-home goal spread ruling.

American League Prospect

IT WAS FIRST believed the Maple Leafs were interested in MacMillan to have him play with their proposed entry in the Central Professional League. (The other five NHL clubs have farm teams in the Central Pro Loop and the Leaf's are scheduled to enter a team this fall.)

'Spy' Ready however. Maple Leafs' scout on the Island, who arranged for MacMillan's initial tryout with St. Mike's, says; "No. The Leafs have bigger hopes than the Central Pro loop for Billy." He indicated if MacMillan decided to stay with the Toronto organization, he would have the chance to play in the American Hockey League, just one jump away from the NHL.

Last season MacMillan played centre because St. Dunstan's coach Al Kaan felt he had no one else who could do as well from such an important position. Ready says MacMillan was at a disadvantage playing centre because he wasn't used to patrolling the middle lane. And it's not the same as shooting from a winger's position.

"If Billy had played the wing in the collegiate league, and had had a good centre to work with him, he would have filled the net," said Ready.

Billy MacMillan, the shy Islander with the quick shot, returned to his home town last year because he knew education was more important than a possible second rate hockey career. He'll get another crack at the big time this fall. If he sticks, it will be a colorful pro hockey career. If he fails, it will be more of that good ol' education. Any way you look at it, Billy will be a winner.

Off The Cuff

FOLK DANCER, an uncle to Canada's great Northern Dancer, also through along the inside rail to win the $12,025 Swynford Stakes at Toronto's Greenwood track Saturday. RON TURCOTTE was chalking up his third of four victories aboard Folk Dancer, a rejuvenated claimer who popped up to beat the best handicap horse to date — HANS-JOACHIM KLEIN of Germany, who spent last year in the U.S.A. training with Don Schollander, bettered Schollander's 200-meter free-style world swim record Sunday. The 22-year-old German student was timed in 1:59.2 during the nation's championships. Schollander's listed record is 1:58.4, made last year . . . AVERY BRUNDAGE, president of the International Olympic Committee, in South Africa is still barred from the Tokyo Games in October because the Olympic committee of that country has not declared a policy of opposing race restrictions . . . Jockey BILL SHOEMAKER moved Saturday into undisputed second place in the all-time winners in horse racing behind world leader JOHNNY LONGDEN. Shoemaker guided the favored Fleet Son to victory in the third race at Hollywood Park. This ran his list of victories to 4,871. The day before Shoemaker tied the now-retired Sir Gordon Richards of England at 4,870.

Softball Action At Summerside

SUMMERSIDE — George Kinch struck out 16 batters in hurling Costal Movers to a lopsided 22-3 win over Inman Plumbing in one of two games in the opening of the Prince County Softball league.

Kinch virtually coasted to the win giving up only 2 hits.

The Movers only picked up eight hits but three of them were home runs by: shortstop Gerry Bernard, left fielder Doug Tucker and a long grand slam blast by Harold 'Marty' Martin. Besides the bases loaded clout Martin addes a double and a triple.

Edgar MacDonald, not a pitcher, started for Inman Plumbing and turned in a very good showing until he was relieved by Vic Cameron.

LINESCORE

Inman Plumbing runs 3, hits 2, errors 10.

Costal Movers Runs 22 hits 8, errors 2.

INMAN DOWN RCAF

In the other opening game of the Prince County Softball league at the RCAF station Summerside base, Pete Devana of Enmans and John Sandiland of the RCAF hooked up in a pitchers duel; but two errors in the top of the 7th inning were the big miscues that gave Devana and Enmans a 3-2 win.

Devana displaying excellent control didn't issue a base on balls and struck out seven batters. Sandiland got two on strikes and gave up two walks in the fast moving game that was played in a little over an hour.

Enmans Pharmacy started the scoring in the 4th inning when "Coke" Grady singled and was brought home by "Toy Toy" Gallants home run. The Airmen came to within one run in the bottom half when Dave LeBlanc tripled and scored on Mort Onyett's sacrifice fly.

In the 7th and last inning "Coke" Grady reached first base on an error, went to third on an infield error that put Toy Gallant on first base and then scored what proved to be the winning run when 'Spider' Ford singled.

Jacques Legendre tripled and scored on a wild pitch as the RCAF picked up their second run.

Mount 'A' Varsity Coach Feels New Era Is Coming

By IAN DONALDSON

SACKVILLE, N.B. (CP)—Gus MacFarlane believes the day is coming when athletic directors will no longer coach varsity teams even in small universities.

MacFarlane, athletic director of Mount Allison University here, recently took a step himself that reflects this trend.

The cigar-smoking native of Verdun, Que., now in his seventh year at Mount A., decided to give up coaching the varsity basketball team—the Hawks—which plays in the Maritime Intercollegiate League.

MacFarlane will remain as coach of Mount Allison Mounties, always strong contenders in the Atlantic Football Conference.

Gus, known on the campus as No Fuss because of his calm demeanor on the football field and basketball court, says athletic directors will swing more and more toward administrative and intramural duties.

This has already happened at many large universities. Even in smaller colleges, he expects part-time staff or junior athletic personnel will take over coaching the varsity teams in hockey, basketball and football.

CHANCE TO SHINE

MacFarlane says there are two main reasons for the trend —athletic directors are finding more and more of their time is needed for the general athletic program; and staff members below the director level should share in "whatever limelight" athletics produce.

"Most people who coach really enjoy it—even those who lose. I regret having to give up basketball, but staff members have to feel wanted and of value, not just to be 'Gus's little boy.' Everyone is finding they are losing staff if you don't give them a chance to play a major role."

Even without basketball, MacFarlane will be in or around the $2,500,000 athletic centre here from early morning until late at night. That's fine with him, he says, and that's the way it has to be "if you're truly running an athletic program."

The organization of intramural sports is a big part of the job. MacFarlane will have six track meets next term, golf tournaments, bonspiels, 12 touch football teams, 12 volleyball teams, 12 basketball teams and six hockey squads, drawn from a student body of less than 1,500.

But he figures that for the present, at least, it's a good idea that he retain one varsity coaching job. In the eyes of the students generally you have to be "more than a guy behind a desk—you must be part of the university community."

Big Weekend Planned For Road-e-o Entrants

SUMMERSIDE — Plans have been completed and all is ready for the Atlantic Provinces Teenage Safe Driving Championships, being staged here next Saturday, sponsored by Imperial Oil and the Summerside unit of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, last night's meeting of the Summerside Jaycees was told.

Top drivers from across the Maritimes, Road-e-o Queen contestants and their chaperones will arrive here Friday evening and will register at the Linkletter Motel.

Following registration the local unit will host a coke and do-nut party for the visitors.

Saturday morning will see a parade at 10 o'clock followed at 11.30 by a written drivers' quiz.

At one o'clock the skill tests begin with the contestants showing their driving ability in actual traffic conditions as well as on a tough course laid out on the parking lot of the Prince County Vocational High School.

STADIUM IF IT RAINS

In the event it rains the tests will be conducted at Civic Stadium.

During the afternoon the Summerside unit of the Jaycettes will sponsor a tea for the Road-e-o Queen contestants and later in the afternoon the lucky lady will be crowned.

A dinner at the Summerside Golf and Country Club to be followed by a dance will round off the weekend's events.

Awards will be presented at this dinner to the winner and runners-up by the Maritime representative of Imperial Oil.

This is the biggest event of this year for the Summerside unit of the Jaycees and Road-e-o chairman John Walker and his committee are hoping for a large tour

INCIDENT SPARKS RIOT

Three policemen and a dog subdue, a spectator who ran out of grandstand to field at a sports stadium in Lima, Peru, yesterday, to protest a referee's decision in soccer match between Argentina and Peru. The incident touched off a riot of fans during which an estimated 400 to 500 persons died in a frantic rush to the exists. Hundreds of others were injured in the surge of 35,000 spectators. Teams were playing for right to represent their countries in the Olympic games in Tokyo this summer.

The 'Boomer' Has Retired To Coach Quebec Aces

QUEBEC (CP) — Bernard Geoffrion, a hard-shooting right wing for 13 seasons with Montreal Canadiens, brought his National Hockey League career up an abrupt end Monday by signing to coach Quebec Aces of the American Hockey League.

Geoffrion, known as "Boom Boom" or "The Boomer" be cause of his powerful shot, scored 371 goals in regular-season play during his NHL career, —third only to Gordie Howe of Detroit and Maurice (Rocket) Richard of Montreal. Howe has 566, Richard had 544.

During the season just ended the 33-year-old Geoffrion scored 21 goals although he missed 18 games because of injuries. They included the winning goal in a 2-1 game against New York Rangers on the last night of the schedule, when Canadiens eased into first place by one point over Chicago Black Hawks.

Often hobbled by injuries, nearly killed in the 1957-58 season, Geoffrion had a career of peaks and valleys.

He hit the top in 1960-61, scoring 50 goals to equal a one-season record set 16 years earlier by Richard, winning his second scoring title with 95 points, and capturing the Hart Trophy for the league's most valuable player.

BERNIE GEOFFRION

SCORED 30 GOALS

His rookie season, 1951-52 was one of his most brilliant. He scored 30 goals and won the Calder Trophy.

His first scoring title came in 1955, when he collected 75 points to nose out teammates Richard by one point and Jean Beliveau by two.

As coach of Quebec Aces, Geoffrion succeeds Floyd (Busher) Curry, another former Canadiens player who plans to devote his time to an oil business in Montreal.

Curry resigned earlier this month after five seasons with the Aces.

The Quebec club finished first in the AHL's Eastern Division and reached the Calder Cup finals this season after failing to make the playoffs in its first four years in the league.

Geoffrion said he will definitely not play again. He told a press conference here Monday he has placed himself on the NHL's voluntary retirement list.

Sam Pollock, new general manager of Canadiens, who also attended the press conference, said Geoffrion's old club will do everything possible to help him in his new job. Canadiens have a working agreement with the Aces.

Geoffrion's move did not come completely as a surprise. There had been some speculation during the weekend, heightened when he came here during the weekend for the wedding of Montreal teammate Gilles Tremblay.

Geoffrion returned to his Montreal home Sunday but came back here Monday and signed a one-year contract with Aces general manager Robert Martineau.

He said he suffered "so many injuries" during his NHL career that he welcomes the chance to take a coaching job.

GIVEN LAST RITES

He has broken at various times his legs, ankles, arms and jaw. During a practice session in January 1958 he suffered a bowel rupture and was given last rites in hospital.

He has managed to get through only one full 70-game season—1954-55, when he won his first scoring title. The year he scored 30 goals, he missed six games.

His 30 points in the season just ended equalled the low mark of his career, his sophomore season. He did score often enough, however, to displace Ted Lindsay, an old Detroit and Chicago warrior, as third man on the all-time goal scoring list.

Geoffrion scored 30 goals or more in four seasons and passed the 20-goal mark 12 times, missing it only in the 1956-57 season.

A native of Montreal who moved into the NHL from junior A hockey, he retires from the NHL with a lifetime record of 759 points on 371 goals and 388 assists. Only Howe and Beliveau among active players have better totals.

Geoffrion played for six Stanley Cup winners in Montreal, the 1953 club and the clubs that set a record of five consecutive cups from 1956 to 1960.

Ch'town Softball Meeting

The Charlottetown Softball League held a meeting at the Charlottetown branch of the Main Brace to discuss league operations for the coming season last night.

Last year's president, Charlie MacKenzie chaired the meeting, which had representatives of four of last year's teams in attendance.

The BIS Shamrocks, the National Park team, Barry's Lions and the Main Brace were the four teams who stated they would definitely enter the league.

Those present decided to register as Senior 'B' in Maritime competition although the possibility of a senior 'A' team was discussed but the general feeling was that there isn't a sufficient number of Senior 'A' ballplayers for such a venture, without ruining the league.

It was decided, by Mr. MacKenzie, to call another meeting at the Main Brace for next Monday night. At this time all teams in Charlottetown and area that are going to play softball this year are asked to be present in order to register for Maritime playdowns; and teams interested in entering the City League are asked to send a representative. The tentative date for the opening of the City League was set at June 8th.

Track Star Is Threatened

BARNSLEY (Reuters)— The life of a British woman track star has been threatened if she takes part in the coming Olympic Games in Tokyo, police said today.

Police in this English city were investigating the mystery threat to Dorothy Hyman, 23, one of the fastest woman sprinters in the world.

Miss Hyman is captain of the British women's Olympic team and one of Britain's gold medal hopes.

The threat to her came from an anonymous letter writer. Her widowed mother also received a letter saying another daughter, Susan, 7, may suffer if her sister runs in the Olympics.

A silver medallist in the 1960 Olympic Games, Miss Hyman was the fastest girl in the world over 100 metres in 1963 and the second-fastest over 200 metres.

SPY RING SMASHED

ADEN (Reuters)—Yemeni radio in Sanaa said Monday a "spy and sabotage" ring working for British authorities in Aden and for the deposed imam (king) of Yemen had been smashed by the Yemeni Republic. The radio, quoting a statement by the republic's information minister, Ahmed Al Marwani, said all but the ring leader, Ali Mohammed Sart, were summarily executed "in accordance with Mohammedan law."

Game Time Is Changed

The game scheduled to be held in the Montague House League baseball loop between Yeo's Theatre and the Wightman's Supermarket squad has been changed from Thursday evening until Wednesday evening at the regular time. The change is due to the approaching exams and the league executive has authorized the change.
