St. Bridget's Mission, Township Eleven

The earliest settlers in this mission were exclusively Protestant with the exception of a family of English Catholics named Gain.

Not long after the settlement of these persons in Township Eleven, they were joined by John Callaghan from Wexford, Ireland, and Patrick Murphy, from the same place. At a somewhat later date, arrived John Large, an Irish Protestant, with instructions from the proprietor, an Irish officer in the English Army, Colonel Sir E. H. Walsh, to settle the property. Mr. Large established himself near the ferry called Walshtown Ferry, and commenced to farm. He sent back to Ireland encouraging accounts of his new home, expatiating on the advantages held out to those who would follow his example and emigrate. The result of Mr. Large's correspondence was that on April 1st, 1823, a ship with a number of emigrants on board, left Ireland for Prince Edward Island. After a dreary passage of seven weeks, she arrived at her destination and a number of passengers who landed from her proceeded to Township Eleven and took up farms.

In the year 1834 Hon. James Warburton arrived from Ireland as agent for Sir E. H. Walsh and gave leases to the settlers on that gentleman's estate. These leases were issued on the usual terms, nine hundred and ninety-nine years at a shilling per acre, per annum. Mr. Warburton did much to improve the township and was held in high esteem by the dwellers therein.

The church of St. Bridget was commenced in 1868. Previous to that period, the Catholic settlers heard Mass at Casumpec. The church did not progress very rapidly but on Christmas eve, 1870, it was so far advanced as to allow of midnight Mass being offered in it upon a temporary altar. The church measures sixty feet in length by thirty in width, and twenty-two feet in height of wall.

The exterior was finished by Mr. Jeremiah Dalton, the interior, including the altar, which is a handsome one and richly gilt, was completed by the architect, Mr. John McLellan. The church was painted by Mr. R. M. Gibson and is very neat and pretty. The trustees of this church at the time of its erection were James Kilbride, and the Hon. Joseph Murphy.

The first pastor of St. Bridget's mission was Rev. James Aeneas MacDonald. When he was removed from Casumpec to DeSable, (now Kelly's Cross), St. Bridget's was annexed to Grand River parish and was served first, by Rev. M. J. McMillan, next by Rev. Angus McDonald, and then Rev. Laughlin J. MacDonald.

The early parishioners of Township Eleven recollecting the tedious crossing at Walshtown ferry, and the long drive of nine miles to St. Anthony's Church, Casumpec, had a very warm feeling of gratitude to their Right Rev. Bishop and their indefatigable pastor, the Rev. James Aeneas MacDonald, for their exertions in providing the neat little church of St. Bridget.

First Catholic Settlers of the Mission of St. Bridget, Township Eleven: The Widow Gain, William Gain, John Callaghan, from Wexford; Patrick Murphy, John Kilbride, John Bulger, Richard Kelly, Thomas Roberts, all from Queen's County; Michael Aylesworth and Martin Lynch from Kilkenny; John Barry, from Waterford.

Regardless of the rapid changes in methods of harvesting, storing and feeding farm crops, the average farmer seems to have figured things out to his own satisfaction as evidenced by the many new barns under construction throughout the country. In the Kensington area, Mr. Elmer Moore, New Annan, erected a barn 75 feet long by 32 in width with a hip roof, which he feels will, with the storage space previously available, take care of his needs efficiently. Mr. MacDougall of Grand River is in charge of the job, and good neighbors lent a hand to speed completion of the building which is now roofed and sided all ready for the hay crop.

At Kelvin Grove, Mr. Leaman Caseley is putting up a building known as a pole barn, and in addition an upright silo. Mr. Ralph Thompson is head carpenter here. A couple of miles further up the 19 Road at Norboro Mr. Everett Glover is having a large barn built on his farm formerly owned by Mr. Stanford Glover. Among others building barns this season are Mr. Charles Dennis, Margate, and Mr. Bruce Clark, Clinton.

While at Kensington as weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Moore, Rev. G. T. Spriggs of LaChute P. Q., and Mrs. Moore were guests of Mrs. Austin Rogers, Free-town on a motor tour of New London Parish, when Mr. Spriggs made 20 calls on former parishioners and old friends.

Burleigh, Ellerslie, Mr. Vernon Matthews and Mr. T. A. Carruthers, Summerside, enjoyed a two day visit in Montreal, on the return trip from Ottawa.

"ANNE OF THE INDIES" AT CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE

In the best Hollywood traditions of lavish picture-making "Anne of the Indies", which opens today at the Capitol, Summerside, is alive with action, studded with spectacle and tantalizing in Technicolor. Recounting the legendary exploits of Captain Providence, last of the colorful corsairs to prow the Caribbean in search of fat merchantmen prizes, it gains its real distinction from the fact its "pirate king" is a woman. To put it bluntly, this Anne of the Indies, otherwise Captain Providence, is no lady, a figure to be set with Long John Silver, Henry Morgan and Jean La Fitte — only far prettier, as enacted by Jean Peters

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR
is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
