Nova Scotia Names Team

HALIFAX (CP) — Fifteen players from colleges, high schools and senior "A" leagues throughout the province have been named to the Nova Scotia Women's Basketball Team competing in the First Canadian Winter Games at Quebec City Feb. 11-19.

Hugh A. Noble, provincial director of physical education and recreation and head of Nova Scotia's athletic contingent in the games, announced Monday the squad was selected following an elimination training camp at Dalhousie University last week.

Three of the 15 players will later be named as alternates on the team, coached by James H. MacVicar, physical education teacher in neighboring Dartmouth.

Team members are Anthea Allen of Wolfville; Ann MacVicar, Bedford; Pat Martin, Halifax; Charmaine Murray, Bridgewater; Joanne Fabis, Halifax; Alicia Anderson, Halifax; Jo-Ann Byrne, Armdale; Marie White, Halifax; Bernice Murphy, Antigonish; Pat Danphinee, Bridgewater; Judy Wile, Bridgewater; Sandra Carter, Ixford; Roxanne Lagan, Halifax; Charlotte Doyle and Margie Muir, both of Truro.

BUILDS SHIPS FOR 1987
KELOWNA, B.C. (CP) — Gordon Jennings, who says his ancestors crossed the North Sea with King Canute in 1015, is building two full-scale replicas of historic ships as a personal centennial project. His 60-foot Viking vessel will be completed early in 1967 and a 115-foot copy of Columbus' Santa Maria the following year.

SEIZE TICKETS
MONTREAL (CP) — About 500,000 lottery tickets on the National Hockey League were seized in three police raids in Montreal and suburban Jacques Cartier Monday. Biggest haul was 140,000 tickets found in two private houses.
