

ELLEN'S DIARY

The Children's Happiness Is Very Contagious

"We're going over now to see if Millie's filly still knows her" Peter said, leading off this afternoon happily with Alex and his sister to the stables. It has been interesting for us to note the friendship which exists between the man and the girl, who has carried treats of a piece and sugar to the animal ever since she was a foal. Even after an absence of weeks, the filly responds to the sound of her voice with a pleased neigh of welcome.

Marshfield WI Arranges For Xmas Program

Mrs. Hector Jenkins was hostess to the Marshfield WI members in the community hall for their December meeting with Mrs. Cecil Sissons presiding. Roll call was accompanied by a gift from each member for a patient at Riverside Hospital. The president was asked to attend the next Safety Council meeting in Charlottetown and present the council with a cheque for $25.00, the proceeds from a card party held recently in Marshfield. All members were asked to save Canada Packers labels, which can be exchanged for premiums.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD A. MADER Halliwell-Mader Wedding Is Solemnized In Halifax

The marriage of Sharon Hope Halliwell and Richard Alfred Mader took place recently in St. Catherine's Church, Halifax. Rev. Charles Freacher officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. F. Mazer was organist. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Halliwell of Halifax, formerly of Charlottetown, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Alfred Z. Mader, Waverley, formerly of Guysborough and the late Mr. Mader. The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of ligoda crepe designed with hal-sun necklines and long sleeves tapering to points over the hands. The empire waist was accented with a fitted waistband of gypure lace tied with a tiny satin bow and repeated in sprays down the sides of the lightly bell-shaped skirt. The gown had fullness at back falling to a chapel train. A headpiece of clustered flowers held her bouffant veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and asasta daisies.

Girl Pays Dating Costs Despite Mother's Veto

I would like your opinion on a matter which I consider highly improper, but can't seem to do anything about. It is my daughter, who is so crazy over a fellow that she pays all his fares, wherever they go, and she also furnishes the car, as he doesn't have a car, and isn't ambitious enough to earn one. I feel she has no pride and dignity. I also feel for sure that he is no man. Please state your opinion. They need to be told the truth outright. Thank you; E. G. DEAR E. G.: In the language of our pioneer granddads, you expect me to give your daughter "what for". I take it. That is, talk turkey, read the riot act tell her how far off the beam of good sense she is.

Advent Service Held By Alberton UCW

An open Bible before a manger scene, lighted candles, poinsettias and holly in artistic arrangement, formed the setting in the Alberton Church Hall for the December meeting of United Church Women. Mrs. Wendell Weeks presided over the brief business period during which it was reported that two large boxes of good used clothing had been sent to Brunswick Street Mission in Halifax, and plans were made for the Christmas sale and for treats to be sent to shut-in folk. A service of worship suited to the Advent season was led by Mrs. Charles Johnson, assisted by Mrs. Reginald Travers and Mrs. Reginald Eldershaw who read portions of scripture, and Mrs. Ronald Pocklington who led in prayer. The offering was received by Mrs. Perley Hardy. The pianist was Mrs. Cedric Hunter.

"Gifts That Money Can't Buy" was the theme of a very meaningful playlet presented by Mrs. Fred Leard, Mrs. Gordon Warren, Mrs. Charles Johnston, Mrs. Wesley Hardy, Mrs. Francis Crane, Mrs. Wendell Weeks and Mrs. James MacNeill. They portrayed a UCW meeting at which there was an unscheduled discussion of the way people prepare for Christmas, expending themselves so that often the real meaning of the season is lost. Out of their discussion comes the conclusion that the hectic struggle of the season is really an effort to make up for things people have neglected to do through the year, and that if Love, the Gift God gave at Christmas were expressed through a day-to-day, year-round life, the mad rush would disappear and at the Christmas Season there would be time to come to the manger for re-creation, renewal, and contemplation of God's Perfect Gift.
