PINEAU IN THE SENATE.

He is Not So Well Known by Ministers As Formerly.

In his latest letter from Ottawa Mr. S. D. Scott says: "The Senate had an interesting afternoon over Mr. Pineau. The Minister of Justice does not know Pineau. Nobody here knows him any longer. A few months ago, when he was in this city, and thought he was going to Paris, he had lots of friends on the government side. Now the ministers and their supporters do not even know that he was here, though Mr. Ferguson professed an affinity of the proprietor of the Brunswick House where Mr. Pineau stayed during the ten days of his negotiations. The member from a Tignish left Ottawa on the same day with Mr. Tarte, whose acquaintance he seems to have made, and whom he hoped to accompany.

"It turned out afterward that the departure of Mr. Pineau was not enough to save Premier Farquharson. Mr. Wise could no longer be regarded as a supporter and therefore it was necessary to have another vote. Accordingly Mr. Pineau was not sent to Paris, but was induced to return to Prince Edward Island and vote in favor of the government which he was elected to oppose. Senator Ferguson read the affidavit of William Callaghan, who swears that Mr. Pineau told him that he was approached by Dr. Wickham, of Tignish, and was offered an appointment to go to Paris as commissioner at $5 a day. Also the affidavit of Jerome Perry, who swears that Mr. Pineau told him the same story. The senator told the story of the successful efforts of Sir Louis Davies' friends in Prince Edward Island to bring financial ruin on Mr. Pineau and thus get him to some extent in their power. Sir McKenzie Bowell described the whole proceeding as a foul blot on the record of the Government.

"But Mr. Mills and Mr. Scott know nothing about it, and Mr. Mills expressed a lofty disregard for local governments in general and the local government of Prince Edward Island in particular. He talked as if he did not think the Farquharson government was worth saving, and scouted the idea that the government at Ottawa would take any trouble about so trifling a matter as the Farquharson ministry."

FALSE PROMISES.

SIR,—Amongst the many false promises made by the Farquharson Government is the "new road humbug." Previous to the last election a farmer, not many miles from Tracadie had bought a piece of wood land to which there was no road in summer, and to secure votes a nice glib-talking chap was sent to the house of the poor innocent farmer to say that if he and his friends would vote for the party the surveys would be out the next day to open the road. Innocent enough, he was caught in the trap and next day he was on the road, cold and disagreeable as it was, laughing at those older than he in election dodges. The same humbugging party promised to open a road from Curtis' Mills to the North Milton Road, coming out at Milton Corner; and now that another election is on they are trying to fool the people again. And still another: At Clyde River they promised to open a road (this time, as is always the case, if you vote right) leading from Clyde River Corner, continuing the Baltic Road to the Colville Road. They secured votes once on these bogus promises, but the people are determined that they will not have anything more to do with the humbugs. MILTON.

FARQUHARSON—PINEAU SOOTHING SYRUP.

SIR,—The people of New Haven of all parties are orderly and well-behaved, as was shown at the meeting. But Premier Farquharson's howlers who go from meeting to meeting, to shout and interrupt Liberal-Congervative speakers, were there with the whiskey bottle. Farquharson thought to create the same rowdiness as at the last election, but although beckoning some of them, plucking at their sleeves, they would not accept of him and his whiskey.

Our vigilance committee is doing good work, and the names of the howlers, whiskey bootlers, etc., after Afton Hall meeting, will be duly sent to the press for publication, and they will be rewarded according to their works. Their conduct is making votes for Mr. Wise whose election now is a matter ofifer ainty.

Murray Harbor Celebrates

A grand display of fire works was given by Messrs Prowse & Sons, at Murray Harbor South, on Monday evening, July 2nd, in celebration of the victory of British arms in South Africa, and in honor of Dominion Day. About 200 people assembled to witness the display. The rockets, etc., were ignited on the roof of their store by Messrs W H Prowse and Brent Fraser, who performed their work most creditably. The explosives, as they ascended upward, emitting their brilliant hues, rendered a sight beautiful to behold and were enjoyed by all,—and especially by the boys, who cheered heartily each volley. The entertainment, which began at 9 o'clock and lasted an hour and a half, afforded a splendid evening's enjoyment.

Belfast and Murray Harbor Railway

In the House of Commons a few days ago Mr. Martin asked:

1. Has the government decided to proceed with the survey and construction of a cross section of the Belfast and Murray Harbor Railway from some point not far from Caledonia, passing at or near Montague Bridge to Cardigan Station or New Perth, on the Prince Edward Island Railway, as proposed by notice of resolution on the 21st day of April, 1896, by the late Minister of Railways?
2. Has the government received any petitions asking for the survey or construction of this cross section? If so, how many, including the number of names thereto attached?
3. Has the government decided to call for tenders for the construction of section of the Belfast and Murray Harbor Railway from Village Green to the terminus or any intervening points?
4. Has the government definitely decided as to route, where loop lines have been surveyed? If so, state, with particulars, the route decided upon?

The Minister of Railways and Canals (Mr. Blair) replied—1. The government has not yet decided to build the cross section or branch line referred to in the question, but the minister hopes to be able to make a personal examination of the locality this summer with a view of reporting to his colleagues thereon. 2. Yes, petitions have been received asking for the survey or construction of this cross section. Four petitions were received. One

Yes, tenders will be called at an early day, but the minister hopes first to make a personal examination of the localities as rival routes are being pressed upon the department for adoption. 4. No, answered by preceding question.

GOLD MINING IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The first authenticated discovery of gold in British Columbia, according to Dr. G. M. Dawson, occurred at Mitchell or Gold Harbour, on the West Coast of Queen Charlotte Island, in 1851, a nugget weighing several ounces having been accidentally picked up by an Indian woman on the sea-shore. This nugget was brought to Fort Simpson and coming into the possession of the officer in charge of the Hudson Bay Company's post at that place, was forwarded by him to the company's headquarters at Victoria. An expedition was at once fitted out and, proceeding to the spot, succeeded in locating a quartz vein 7 inches wide, reported to contain 25 per cent. gold in some places. The find was worked for some months and then abandoned, the narrow vein entirely giving out; other indications of mineral were ever found on the island, notwithstanding that this extraordinary little seam of quartz had yielded in the few weeks it was worked, a value of $20,000 on the word of one authority, or $75,000 on that of another. About the same time coal, which had been discovered on Vancouver Island as far back as 1835, began to be mined in earnest at Nanaimo.—H. Mortimer Lamb, in The Engineering Magazine for July.

It is funny to listen to the theories of unmarried men regarding the management of women.

Emyvale Echoes.

I see that our friend Mr. Quinn has again paid us a friendly visit, assisted by his friend, Mr. P. McKenna, from Kelly's Cross. They are two of the cleverest men that ever travelled around here. They will fetch in a bottle and after treating us and taking a small sup themselves they will leave the remainder, and if the boss is not home they will leave another for him and tell him not to forget Donald and the Doctor.
