A PRISON IN MEXICO.

CURIOUS CUSTOMS THAT PREVAIL IN BELEM JAIL.

Musical Instruments in the Cells and a Concert Almost Every Evening by the Prisoners—Dinner Hour Marked by a Curious Spectacle.

Among the various uses to which Mexico has put some of her old monasteries and convents is that of serving for the incarceration of violators of the law. The Convento de Belen at Mexico City has become, in common parlance, Belen, the city jail and prison, accused and convicted persons, men, women and children alike being confined there in different compartments. The building was put up by the Spanish governor in 1686, as an inscription at the head of the main stairway tells. A casual visit paid it by a reporter of The Mexican Herald reveals a condition of prison management in Mexico worthy of passing attention in the days of prison reform associations and international prison congresses.

The Herald said that Belen had been commonly spoken of as a second Black Hole of Calcutta, but the reporter found that the prison was kept in a state of comparative cleanliness; not so, however, the prisoners. Their condition he described as one of disgusting filthiness. Although there was a hydrant in every cell and general bathing facilities in each compartment, the reporter found only one inmate either at bath or with any indication of having bathed within a year. It was explained to him by the prison authorities that formerly the regulations required prisoners to bathe daily, but that this was regarded as such a hardship that the sufferers managed to have it declared a form of cruel and unusual punishment and so to have the rule abrogated. There are in the prison now 3,451 prisoners, of whom 2,933 are men and 518 are women.

A curious feature found by the reporter was the Spanish regard for the arts, even within prison walls. He found in the south wing the writers of libel, "and the cells reserved for musicians, artists and others of the fine arts." It would seem to be a charitable as well as an incisive provision, that "and others" (besides artists) of the fine arts. The musicians are permitted, apparently, to take their instruments to jail with them, such as mechanics take into the prison workshop their own tools of trade. "The walls of the musicians' cells are decorated with different musical instruments, and the reporter was told that almost every evening there was a concert in one of the patios."

Men sometimes do in Mexico what in this colder clime they content themselves with wishing done, for the reporter came upon one Adams, under sentence of 20 years "for killing a waiter at the Club de la Opera because he did not bring his dinner quick enough." Adams has the freedom of his galley. There are in each galley three trustees who go about with clubs and preserve order, using the club "only when moral suasion will not do as well."

There were stoics among the 57 men condemned to death. One of these, under sentence for assassinating a man, expressed his serene confidence as to his future, but, "if worst comes to worst" —a shrug of the shoulders and palms up. This man and some others under death sentence had the run of the comman's offices, notwithstanding there were on the walls, serving as decorations, confiscated weapons of prisoners. One prisoner, as it would seem in this country, though it wouldn't seem in this strange in the Italy of Machiavelli, there wasn't a gun among these. The nearest to it was a bayonet, and the rest were poignards, scimiters, stilettoes, butcher knives, table knives, penknives, and shoemakers' knives.

The dinner hour was marked by a curious spectacle. The street outside the prison was filled with the "wives, children, dogs and other members of the prisoners' households." These brought baskets of edibles to the prisoners, some of whom were permitted to speak to their relatives through a grating. To the convicts not permitted to come to the grating, their relatives were allowed to send in notes accompanying the dinner baskets. This privilege had given rise to a peculiar way of making a few pennies among persons able to write—"itinerant scribes who for a cent or two wrote messages to the prisoners." One woman bade the scribe to put her message in red ink. She would have none of the "purple stuff."

"Tell him," said she, "that I send him two little tamales and tell him that the perrita died yesterday."

Says the reporter, "And the scribe, leaning under the shade of his umbrella, sitting on a rock, with his bottle of red ink on another rock beside him, worked away assiduously, with an etymology all his own, beginning paragraphs with lower case letters and putting in caps in the most unexpected places, so that it would take an Ignatius Donnelly cryptogram to decipher the meaning of his hieroglyphics."

"CAN'T CHANGE IT."

There's Only One Way to Cure Dyspepsia and Biliousness.

That is by Using Dadd's Dyspepsia Tablets—They Cure by Removing the Cause of the Trouble, and They Always Cure.

If your wife were ill with pneumonia and the doctor gave you a prescription you would not allow the druggist to give medicine different to that called for by the prescription.

If he were to say "I can give you something better than this, for pneumonia," you would answer, "Kindly give me exactly what that prescription asks for. Dr. A.—not you—is treating this case."

When you or any member of your family need a remedy for dyspepsia, indigestion, sour stomach, biliousness, catarrh of the stomach, flatulence, heartburn, hiccup, headache or any other stomach complaint, don't let the druggist, nor anyone else, persuade you to take anything but Dadd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Dadd's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a "patent medicine." They are a specific medicine, made from a special prescription, for the positive and absolute cure of the diseases named.

If you take anything else, you are not getting what your prescription calls for. Dadd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure Dyspepsia, indigestion, etc., by the only possible method of doing so—that is by removing their cause.

If you have a decayed tooth that aches, the dentist pulls it out and cures your toothache.

Similarly, Dadd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure dyspepsia by removing its cause, which is imperfect digestion.

Dadd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure dyspepsia, etc., by digesting the food. This done, Dyspepsia cannot return, for the Tablets put the stomach in shape to do its work thoroughly.

Dadd's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists at fifty cents a box, six boxes $2.50, or sent, on receipt of price, by the Dadd's Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

Watches

THE watch trade has been rather fluctuating of late, first the price went up, after a long period of low prices, now the prices have dropped again, whether because of war or greater variety of production we cannot say, but the fact remains that you can buy from us a reliable timekeeper cheaper than ever before, in fact that there is no need to buy shoddy goods at all.

If you want a good and also the cheapest watch for the money, we recommend a good movement in a nickel case instead of a poor one in a fine looking colored case that will only wear a very short time.

Soliciting a share of you patronage, we remain, Yours respectfully, E. W. TAYLOR, Newfound land.
