MR. MOODY'S LAST WORDS.—Dwight L. Moody's last words were, according to a Boston despatch: "Earth recedes and heavens open before me. If this is death there is nothing awful here. It is sweet. These words were taken down by stenographer Ben Wright, of Boston, who had them directly after the death from Mr. Moody's son.

A GIFT APPRECIATED.—Lance Corporal Lorne Stewart, in the course of one of his letters to his father, says: "Thank Mrs. Lord for me for the very kind remembrance she sent us boys. It was Kipling's Recessional:

God of our fathers known of old,
Lord of our far-flung battle line,
Beneath whose awful hand we hold
Dominion over palm and pine,
Lord God of Hosts be with us yet,
Lest we forget, lest we forget.

I have it all off by heart now. It was very thoughtful of Mrs. Lord to send it, and we appreciate it very much.

The total acreage now ready for the spring's crop is 1,492,088, or an increase of 48 per cent., but he is informed by the most reliable authority that a good deal more plowing will be done next spring, bringing the increased area up to a still higher figure. The general superintendent states that the farmers see the same indications this fall as during the fall of 1886, which preceded the tremendous wheat crop of 1887.

THE CIVIC REPORTS.

Waterworks and Sewerage—City and Police Courts.

THE REPORTS of the various departments of the City of Charlottetown will be presented to the City Council at the regular meeting to be held on Monday evening next. THE EXAMINER has been courteously permitted to extract the following facts from the reports of the Water and Sewer Commissioners, as well as from those of Mr. H. V. Palmer, Clerk of the Police and City Courts:—

WATERWORKS AND SEWERAGE.

The annual report of the Commissioners of sewers and Water Supply shows that the waterworks branch is in good order, and that no accidents have happened throughout the year. The second boiler and pumping engine at the station were completed early in the year, the total cost of which work is $4,324.04. There were 45 services laid during the year, bringing the total up to 2,027, of which 1,805 are now in use.

The increase in the actual receipts for domestic purposes has been $396.58, for stores $100.77, for hose, etc., $6.75. The decrease for stables was $12.21, steamers, engines, etc., $117.08, and miscellaneous $21.31. The total revenue was $13,749.14 against $13,294.74 in 1898. The expenditure for the year was $3,565.23, $105.27 more than in the previous year. The commissioners were therefore able to hand over to the City Council $10,083.91. The interest on water debentures this year being $9,842.50 the amount paid over to the Council was $241.41 more than the accrued interest. The total length of the sewers laid during the year was approximately ten miles, and all parts of the completed work are in successful operation. The year closes with 170 dwellings and stores connected with the system, and a large number of applications for the coming season is expected. The amount spent on sewer construction during the year was about $71,000. During the year sewerage debentures to the amount of $56,000 were sold, bringing the total issue up to $117,000.

POLICE COURT.

MR. H. V. PALMER, Clerk of this Court, reports that during the year 1899 there were 436 cases heard and disposed of in the City Police Court, an increase of 19 over the previous year. Of these, convictions were obtained in 378 cases, 51 charges were dismissed and there were seven cases sent to the Supreme Court. There were 275 convictions for drunkenness against 256 the previous year. There were 20 convictions for violating the Liquor Regulation Act compared with 22 in 1898. The receipts for the year amounted to $1122.47 against $1289.28 in 1898. In all 831 documents were issued and delivered to the police for service or execution. Dog tax to the amount of $600 has been collected through the medium of the court.

CITY COURT.

In the City Court during the year 1899, according to the report of the clerk, there were 73 appeals from the valuation of real estate, personal property and the imposition of poll taxes heard and disposed of. There were 171 executions issued for the collection of taxes, against 253 in the year 1898. The receipts of the court for the year amount to $52.71.

A STRANGE CASE.—A strange story is told regarding a woman who arrived in Truro by train a few evenings ago. When the train stopped, it is said, she had entirely lost her memory and knew nothing of her past, where she was going or who she was. She could not even tell her name. She was about thirty-five years of age, well dressed, and of good appearance. She had a ticket from Lynn, Mass., to New Glasgow. The train officials transferred her to the eastern bound train and wired the authorities at New Glasgow particulars of the case.

LITERARY MEN OF BOSTON.—The National Magazine has an exceedingly interesting article under this heading, in connection with which are published excellent likenesses of Mr. C. W. Hall, for many years a resident of Charlottetown, and Mr. James Jeffrey Roche, editor of the Boston Pilot, whom nearly everyone here knows either by reputation or personally. Mr. Roche is spoken of as one whose poetic and novelistic productions are distinguished for their brilliancy, humor and ingenuity; and Mr. Hall is referred to as a man who has written much notable historical romance and verse. One of Mr. Hall's latest poems, "Pierre Godey's Story," is published by the National Magazine.

A BRILLIANT ACTRESS.—One of the stars of the stage of the present day, according to the St. Paul Globe, is Miss Coghlan, daughter of Charles Coghlan, so well known on the Island. Miss Coghlan, says the Globe, was born in London, and has crossed the ocean forty-one times. She has had only two years' experience in her art, but these have been passed under the guidance of her talented father. Her rise has been very rapid—from the least part to the most prominent and most difficult. When in the midst of her success her father died. The night after his death she played for the company's sake with the tears streaming down her face. In her lines are the words, "I am an orphan." Miss Coghlan is not a strong woman physically, but of intense energy. Though a great sorrow has entered her young life, the brilliant Miss Coghlan has bright prospects. Only two years, and yet a star. Surely this is a triumph that she, though reared in the atmosphere of the stage, may well be proud of.
