

Pearls of Truth.

What is resignation Placing God between ourselves and our troubles.

Charity is one of the noblest virtues that links earth with perfection.

Be loving and you will never want for love, be humble and you will never want for guiding.

Cheerfulness throws sunlight on all the paths of life. Peevishness covers with its dark fog even the most distant horizon.

The golden beams of truth and the silken cords of love, twisted together, will draw men on with a sweet violence, whether they will or not.

There are treasures laid up in the heart, treasures of charity, piety, temperance and sobriety. These treasures a man takes with him beyond death when he leaves this world.

In this world of ours there are people who would make just as much stir, and do just as much good, and benefit society just as much—and we don't know but more—were they killed and stuffed.

He who would do some great thing in this short life must apply himself to the work with such a concentration of his energies as, to idle spectators who live only to amuse themselves, looks like insanity.

A simple theology, a catholic spirit, and a forgiven temper, are a triple crown of glory for any man, and a source of power for any church, and they are the only crown and might worth contending for.

The real difference between men is energy. A strong will, a settled purpose and invincible determination can accomplish almost anything; and on this lies the distinction between the great men and the little men.

The weak man is he who forms many purposes and drops one after another in the face of difficulties. The strong is he who forms a few purposes and in the face of all opposition carries each one through to successful issues.

Nothing can be done right and efficiently without order and system, from the boiling of an egg to the management of the heaviest business or enterprise. There is a routine even in our daily personal habits. He is a safe man or woman whom you always know "where to find."

Make the recreation servant to thy business, lest thou become a slave to thy recreation. When thou goest up into the mountain, leave thy servant in the valley; when thou goest to the city leave him in the suburbs, and remember the servant must not be greater than the master.

Happy is a man whose life has verified, as so many lives have verified the words of the Apostle Paul, "Tribulation worketh patience; and patience, experience; and experience, hope." This is to have the soul take root in the midst of earthly trial and strength of an immortal hope.

Literature is one of the instruments, one of the most powerful instruments for forming character, for giving us men and women armed with reason, braced by knowledge, clothed with steadfastness and courage, and inspired by that public spirit and virtue of which it has been well said that they are the brightest ornaments of the mind of man.

Many persons fail in their endeavors merely because they dwell so exclusively to their conceptions of future improvements that they forget the certain and assured results of the past and actual workings of the present. There are vague imaginings and crude conceptions that can by no means stand the test of actual trial. It is often quite easy to conceive of something which it will be totally impossible to reduce to practice. Its supposed advantages shine out brightly; its real difficulties do not appear.

A Great Cause of Human Misery Is the Loss of MANHOOD.

A LECTURE on the Nature, Treatment and Radical Cure of Seminal Weakness, or Spermatorrhoea, induced by Self-Abuse, Involuntary Emissions, Impotency, Nervous Debility, and Impediments to Marriage generally; Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits; Mental and Physical Incapacity, &c.—By ROBERT J. CULVERWELL, M.D.

The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of Self-Abuse may be effectually removed without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings or cordials; pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

Send under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, on receipt of four cents, or two postage stamps. Address
