General Order.

THE Commander-in-Chief has had under his consideration recent proceedings of the Charlottetown Artillery Company.

His Excellency has also had under his consideration a letter from Captain Morris, Commanding this Company, in which, in answer to an enquiry made of him, he has reported that the Company under his Command paraded in the public streets, on Wednesday afternoon, on the 10th inst., without his sanction, and also without the cognizance of the other officers of the Company; and further, that he, on the previous evening, having some intimation of their intention of handing in their Arms, remonstrated with them, and explained to them the Section of the Law by which they could not be released as Volunteers without giving three months notice.

The Commander-in-Chief has received with satisfaction the assurance of Captain Morris that he, in conjunction with the other Officers, did all in their power to put a stop to the extraordinary proceeding referred to.

Without strict attention to discipline and subordination, to superior authority, a military body of any description will soon degenerate into an armed mob, and if the Volunteer Force desires really to become an efficient organization its members cannot keep too much before their minds the principle, that unquestioning obedience to authority is their first duty.

The state of insubordination to which the Artillery Company has unhappily arrived is notorious, and is confirmed by the admission of its own Commanding Officer.

That a Company should parade at all in a public street, with the manifest intention of expressing its disapproval of the action of its Commander-in-Chief, is a proceeding which, for the sake of the efficiency of the service, if for no other consideration, cannot be tolerated; that it should act not only without the orders of its Commanding Officer, but in spite of his remonstrance, shows a spirit of internal insubordination, which renders its continuance as a military body impossible.

Captain Morris will therefore receive orders to return the Arms, &c., issued to his Company into store, as a preliminary step to the Company being disbanded.

The Commander-in-Chief is pleased to direct that this Memorandum be published in General Orders.

By command,

(Signed) P. D. STEWART, Lt. Col. and
 Adj. Gen. of Militia.

Adjutant General's Office.

General Order.

THE Commander-in-Chief has had under his consideration a letter from Captain Morris, commanding the Charlottetown Artillery Company, with which was forwarded a communication from that Company to their Commanding Officer, in which the members of the Company express their sincere regret for their proceedings which called forth His Excellency's Memorandum of the 15th instant, and promise caution and strict obedience to discipline for the future, if His Excellency will "pardon their delinquency" on this occasion.

The Commander-in-Chief has received with satisfaction the assurance of Captain Morris that the expressions used by the Company are sincere.

As the letter conveying the unanimous sentiments of the Company shows that they are fully aware of the seriousness of the military offence which called forth His Excellency's grave censure, it is unnecessary for His Excellency to reiterate that censure or his remarks on the discipline which he requires to be maintained in the Volunteer Force.

It was with extreme regret that the Commander-in-Chief had decided to disband a Company which is of such long standing, and has acquired such proficiency, as the Artillery Company. It is, therefore, with equal pleasure that His Excellency has decided that discipline has been sufficiently maintained, without his having had recourse to that extreme measure.

The Order for the recall of the Arms issued to the Company is, therefore, hereby cancelled, and the Company will resume its duties.

His Excellency is pleased to direct that this Memorandum be published in General Orders.

 and Adj. Gen. Militia.
