The first postal system was set up in North America in 1691. In that year the English crown gave a grant to Thomas Neale to establish a postal system in the colonies. But it proved too expensive for one person to operate so colonial postal systems came into being.

According to long period tests there's no egg quite so good for eating as that of the barnyard hen. Small birds come next and the duck egg was given 81st place.

Lack of memory is often due to lack of interest. Perhaps that's why elderly people can recall past events when they quickly forget recent events.

James Kirby's mother dreamed that he would be killed at work in Rockwood, Tenn. To quiet her fears he stayed home for one day. A grindstone went to pieces while he was sharpening a blade. One of the pieces hit him on the head and killed him.

Our word "martyr," one who dies for a cause, formerly meant "witness." It came by its present meaning when many early Christians "testified" to their convictions by dying for them.

Famous persons sometimes say odd things in their last words. "We shall go out together," said Maria Bashkirtseff, noted diary writer, as she noted her bedside candle burning long before her own death. These were her final words.

Before the executioner lifted his deadly axe to chop off the head of Marie Antoinette, she stepped on his foot and said, "I beg your pardon." Concerned all his life with the proper use of words Francois de Matherbe, French critic and poet, told the priest describing the wonders of heaven to stop talking because his bad diction bothered him too much. Then Matherbe went to his death.

Probably one of the most unusual death bed chats was held by a scientist with the dying Elie Metchnikoff, Russian bacteriologist. The dying man told the other scientist what to look for when a post mortem examination was made on his body.

While standing up corn in her field in Yanceyville, N. C., Betsy Johnson found an ear of corn exactly the shape of a baby's arm and hand, with five fingers attached to the hand.

Jet propulsion is nothing new in the fish world. The squids age old means of going forward was by jet propulsion. And stranger still this fish can propel itself either forward or backward.

According to tradition Sir Walter Raleigh was the first man to smoke a pipe in England. This is not true. The first was Ralph Lane, Governor of the colony of Virginia. Lane took the pipe to England and while there let Raleigh have a few puffs. That did it. Smoking became fashionable at court and from there it spread across England and the world.

Would a ship made of concrete float? It would.

Remember the 24 concrete ships built by Uncle Sam during World War II? They averaged about 4750 dead weight tons, and, although they floated all right, they were not practical.

Anybody interested in buying a faulty heart? If you are you might get in touch with Mrs. Mildred Hitchcock, 36, of Brookline, Vermont. Mrs. Hitchcock wants $3,200 for her ailing heart right now so that she and her husband can purchase the small chicken farm. But of course, she's not giving up the heart until after she dies.

Bill Howard went aloft last month for a 204 day vigil atop a flagpole in Reno, Nev. If he stays up all winter he collects $6,800 from sponsors of the venture. If he gives up he gets nothing.

ICE RACING HERE

At a meeting of the Victoria Driving Club held in this city Tuesday night a discussion took place regarding the desirability of bringing back ice racing to its once prominent place here. In years past it was one of the favorite winter sports and many will remember with pleasure the stirring contests that took place over the Harbor Ice. A decision was reached to make contact with various parts of the Maritimes and particularly with the sponsors of the very successful meets that have been held at Dartmouth for several years. If horsemen in those places like the idea of coming here to an Inter-Provincial meet the Victoria Driving Club is prepared to put on a program that will be one of the best in years. Indications are that there will be good ice available this season and given a few weeks preparation horses from the various parts can be fitted to give worthwhile performances.

There is a lot of speed on tap on the island and many are eager for the fray. No dates have been set but it is believed that mid-February would probably be the most suitable time for the big race meet. The following officers were elected: Hon. President, Lt.-Col. D. A. MacKinnon; President, D. K. MacLeod, Vice-President, Charles Willis, Secretary-Treasurer, A. B. Cutcliffe, Directors, Dr. R. F. Seaman, H. P. Goddard, Harry Murphy, Stanley Matheson, Russell Abbott and Roland Wood.

PENGUIN SPECIAL

CHRISTCHURCH, N. Z. (CP)—Seven tons of fish were stockpiled here for the American expedition to the Antarctic—not to feed the expedition, but to supply the 50 penguins they will take back to the United States. The penguins have been ordered by the Smithsonian Institute at Washington.

Another Maine horseman, George Reid, owned a half interest in Phillip Scott 1:59 2-5, that finished up his campaign with winnings of $79,720, the largest amount ever won during a single season by a New England owned pacer. In his final three starts of the year at Hollywood Park he forced Hilltop to pace in 1:59, Diamond Hall to 1:57 2-5 and finally Times Square to 1:59. His lifetime winnings in five campaigns total $195,728, the largest amount ever credited to a pacer from the Eastern United States.

The fourth Maine horseman, William T. Maybury of Dexter, is the owner of the star 3-year-old trotter Galphone 2:01, that was the major threat in the big 3-year-old trotting stakes last season to Scott Frost 1:59 2-5. His season's winnings were $64,971 and he took a record of 2:01.

AT SPRING GARDEN

Del MacTavish, Lachute, Que., a great friend of Rankin McLine, who usually raced during the winter at Dufferin Track, Toronto, is now located at Spring Garden ranch, De Leon Springs, Florida. He has a large stable with quite a number of record horses and promising younger ones.

Rankin's many friends will regret to know that he has recently undergone an operation in hospital, but we all hope he will be around again in the near future. We have heard a great many people speak about Rankin since his illness and they just confirm what we have always felt, that he was a very warm place in the hearts of all who have had the opportunity of knowing him.

The only woman driver that we have read about who was actively racing over night racing plants last season, Mrs. Mabel Webber, 36, was killed in an automobile accident on Christmas day near her home at Victor, N. Y. Two other persons were killed in the crash. Great sympathy is expressed by

A letter received from Harold M. Haswell co-inventor of the Universal Drivers Rating System, explains a change in driver's ratings as follows: "Dear Colby—Sorry, but due to the change in figures on some of the drivers racing recently, the order and percentages of some are changed. It is unfortunate, of course, that it displaces John Conroy as the top. Am sending this as soon as possible with the idea that this corrected list may be of use. The complete national list will be published in the Harness Horse, Horseman and Fair World and Hoof Beats the week of the 15th and will show these corrected figures. I hope this will reach you in time for correction."

HUNTERS' CORNER

loned remedies were brought into play such as goose grease and turpentine, sulphur and molasses, etc. When child birth was eminent there was no sleek, high-powered automobile at the door ready to roar off to the hospital at a moment's notice.....just a midwife with lots of boiling water on the wood stove.

None of us have any desire to revert to the "good old days" as they are often referred to but we have to pay pretty grim price at times for comforts of modern living. Electricity is a wonderful servant when working but Nature orders a general strike every about as helpless as babies. Until the time comes when we can draw atomic power from the air we'll have to modernize our electrical facilities as far as possible and keep our fingers crossed. It's a far cry to the days for this age.

HUNGARIAN PARTRIDGE

Our Hungarian partridge underwent a beneficial pruning but all well in the wildlife world at the moment. The older birds, that had about reached their life span in any event, and the weaker or aging members of the younger generation fell by the wayside. That is all to the good as it assures better and stronger birds for next season's crop. Nature culls her children the same as a farmer culls his stock, although in a slightly different manner, but the result is the same in the end.

ANNUAL REVIEW

We were delighted to have a letter from Edwin T. Keller, General Manager Vernon Downs, Vernon, N. Y., with complimentary reference to annual review of the Maritime Harness Racings....."At the USA meeting in Colorado, I approached the Saratoga officials, Vice-President Frank Wiswall and race secretary Harold Haswell, whose track and ours are only a little more than a hundred miles apart and suggested that we join together in promoting a series of pacing races for the coming season that would really be something for the owners, trainers and the fans to get enthused over. In this I, of course had the whole-hearted support of our very fine president here, Mr. Octave Blake and Proc. Eldred, our executive vice-president here at Vernon. We have reported these features.
