VARIETIES.

IMPULSIVE MEN.

"Slowly and surely," is good motto. Impetuous zeal sometimes effects good results; but it is generally in despite of impetuosity, and not because of it. There is always safety in calmness and deliberation. A little forbearance never does harm, but the want of its exercise sometimes retards what it seeks to promote.

There is, however, a danger of running forbearance into supine indifference. Some men must either drive at locomotive speed, or not at all. They kindle in a moment, and must speak and act while the flame lasts, or they can do nothing. They bear their zeal

"As the flint bears fire,
Which, much enforced, throws out a hasty spark,
And straight is cold again."

For practical, effective uses, give us your calm, determined actors. Men who do not jump at conclusions in a moment, or run before the world; but who, when the time to act comes, stand up to principles with a resoluteness which nothing can deter. Such were our Revolutionary fathers; such are the really useful men of every age and nation.—Methodist Protestant.

THE SAILOR AND THE ACTRESS.—"When I was a poor girl," said the Duchess of St. Albans," working very hard for my thirty shillings a week, I went down to Liverpool during the Holidays, where I was always kindly received. I was to perform in a new piece, something like those pretty little affecting dramas they get up now at our minor theatres; and in my character I represented a poor, friendless orphan girl, reduced to the most wretched poverty. A heartless tradesman prosecutes the sad heroine for a heavy debt, and insists on putting her in prison, unless some one will go bail for her. —The girl replies, "Then I have no hope; I have not a friend in the world.' 'What, will no one bail you, to save you, from going to prison?' asks the stern creditor. 'I have told you I have not a friend on earth, was my reply. But just as I was uttering these words, I saw a sailor in the upper gallery springing over the railing, letting himself down from one tier to another, until he bounded clear over the orchestra and footlights, and placed himself beside me in a moment. 'Yes, you shall have one friend, at least, my poor young woman,' said he, with the greatest expression in his honest, sunburnt countenance. 'I will go bail for you to any amount. And as for you,' turning to the frightened actor, you lubber, it will be worse for you when I come athwart your bows.'—Every creature in the house rose; the uproar was indescribable; peals of laughter, screams of terror, cheers from his tawny messmates in the gallery, preparatory scrapings of violins from the orchestra; and amidst the universal din there stood the unconscious cause of it sheltering me,' the poor, distressed young woman,' and breathing defiance and destruction against my mimic persecutor. He was only persuaded to relinquish his care of me by the manager pretending to arrive and rescue me with a profusion of theatrical banknotes."

PAINT YOUR HOUSES.—Now is the time for preparation; soon after the heat of summer is over, say in September and October, is the best time to paint. One coat laid in Autumn is equal to two in Summer; the lead dries more evenly, and oil holds it much longer than when spread in hot weather. Paint laid in fall weather is more lasting than when put on in the Spring, because without exposure to the intense heat of July and August, and is therefore much less likely to suffer from the effects of the ensuing summer. Whenever white lead adheres to the timber when rubbed over it, put on a thin coat. A house once well painted, if lightly coated every third year succeeding, will be more economically painted and kept in better preservation than in any other way. Use none but the best material at any time.—Worcester Transcript.

THE PROSE OF AGRICULTURE.—A romance-reading young man, from a large city, was one day passing a moorland farm which was half covered with furze and heath, and had a fine back ground of barren rocks and dark pines. He remarked to the farmer, who was grinding his way through ragged roots of stones—"A magnificent locality Sir!—one of nature's triumphs!—an embodiment of poetry!" "O, yes," said the farmer wiping the large drops of perspiration from his brow, "the poetry of the place is well enough; but if ye had to plow up the prose o' my ground, ye would wish the poetry far enough."

LIQUID AND SOLID MANURE.—Charles Alexander a careful and accurate farmer in Scotland, found that while 14 head of cattle would make six loads of solid manure, the liquid would saturate seven loads of loam, rendering it of equal value. He had repeated the experiments for ten years, and found the saturated earth fully equal to the best putrescent manure. How many dollars worth are there lost annually by each of the million farmers of the country? And what is the aggregate loss in the whole country taken together?

Mechanics, Inventors & Manufacturers.

$450 IN SPLENDID PRIZES. $450.

VOLUME IX of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN commences on the 17th of September. It is chiefly devoted to the advancement of the interests of Mechanics, Inventors, Manufacturers, and Farmers, by the diffusion of useful knowledge upon these important branches. It is edited by men practically skilled in the arts and sciences, and is widely regarded as a sound and able journal. Nearly all the VALUABLE PATENTS which issue weekly from the PATENT OFFICE are ILLUSTRATED WITH ENGRAVINGS, and full CLAIMS of all the PATENTS are published in the columns; thus making the paper a perfect SCIENTIFIC and MECHANICAL ENCYCLOPEDIA for future as well as present reference. The SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is very widely circulated—its circulation in the last Volume exceeding 18,000 copies per week. It is in form for binding; each volume containing SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS and over FOUR HUNDRED PAGES of Reading Matter, with an Index. The practical receipts alone are worth to any family much more than the subscription price.

The Publishers offer the following valuable prizes for the largest list of subscribers sent in by the 1st January next:—$100 will be given for the largest list; $75 for the second; $50 for the third; $45 for the fourth; $40 for the 5th; $35 for the 6th; $30 for the 7th; $25 for the 8th; $20 for the 9th; $15 for the 10th; $10 for the 11th; $5 for the 12th. The cash will be paid to the order of the successful competitor, immediately after January 1st, 1854.

VETERINARY PRACTICE,

Under the Patronage of His Excellency Sir ALEXANDER BANNERMAN, Knight.

GEORGE LORD, begs leave respectfully to intimate to his friends and the public in general, that he has commenced practice in the VETERINARY LINE, under the patronage of His Excellency Sir ALEXANDER BRANNERMAN, Knight.

After a successful practice of 27 years—14 in England and 13 in Nova Scotia—during which time he has been directly instrumental, through his skill, in saving, for their owners, the lives of many valuable Horses and Cows in Cumberland, he now soliciting a renewal of PUBLIC PATRONAGE, he may be permitted to say that he considers himself to be as well qualified to prescribe MEDICINES and preform OPERATIONS, as any Veterinary Surgeon and Cow DOCTOR, or any individual who has ever practised in that line in this Colony; and he, therefore, presumes that he may confidently look forward to a renewal of that patronage which he formerly enjoyed in this Island.

RESIDENCE—Next door to the Victoria Hotel, Water Street, Charlottetown.

REFERENCE.—Messrs. DesBrisay & Co. Apothecaries' Hall. At the Depot of the Royal Agricultural Society.

June 13th, 1853.

The subjoined is a copy of the Certificate which Mr. Lord has received from His Excellency.

GEORGE LORD has been employed and exercised for some of my Cattle at Government House Farm, he has done so successfully, and I shall readily employ him again. A. BANNERMAN, Lt. Governor.

BELLS! BELLS! BELLS!

THE Subscribers manufacture and keep constantly on hand, all sizes of Church, Factory, Steamboat, Ferry, Locomotive, School House and Plantation Bells, with the best description of Hangings.

These Bells are made from the best stock, and the small sizes undergo the same process in manufacturing as Church Bells. An experience of thirty years, with a great many recent improvements, and an entirely new method of casting Bells, enables us to obtain the most melodious tone, combining also, in extraordinary vibration.

Nearly 9,000 Bells have been cast and sold from this Foundry, which is the best evidence of their superiority. We have fifteen Gold and Silver medals at our office, which were awarded for the "best Bells for improvement in quality of tone." We pay particular attention to the getting up Peals or Chimes, and can refer to those furnished by us. Our establishment is contiguous to the Troy and Boston Railroad, and Railroads running in every direction, which brings us within four hours of New York. Cash paid for old Copper. Old Clocks, Levels, Compasses, Transits, Theodolites, &c. &c. repaired at the shortest notice. All communications, either by mail or otherwise will have immediate attention.

LIST OF PRICES

British Periodical Publications.

FORWARDED by mail, under the provisions of the late Post Office Law, at merely nominal rates.

1. The London Quarterly Review (Conservative).
2. The Edinburgh Review (Whig).
3. The North British Review (Free Church).
4. The Westminster Review (Liberal).
5. Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine (Tory).

These Reprints have been in successful operation in this country for the last year, their circulation is constantly on the increase, notwithstanding the competition they encounter from American periodicals of a similar class, and from the numerous Eclectics and Living Ages published in the form of foreign periodicals. This fact shows clearly the high estimation in which they are held by the intelligent reading public, and they are confidently looked to as established on a firm basis, and will be continued without interruption.

Although these works are distinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary character which gives them their chief value, and in this they stand alone, for above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the masterly guidance of Christopher North, maintains its ancient celebrity, and is, at the same time, unusually attractive, from the works of Bulwer and other first literary notables, written for that magazine, and first appearing in its columns, both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such as "My Novel," "What will he do with it," and "My New Novel," (both by Bulwer). "My Peninsular Medal," "The Green Hand," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the British publishers. Recently, Blackwood has reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Messrs. Scott and Co., an historical work by Alison, in 2 vols. This magazine may always rely on having the earliest reading of these fascinating tales.

Astonishing efficacy of the Oxygenated Bitters,

IN A CASE OF LONG STANDING.

From Fitzhenry Homer, Esq., of Boston, Mass.

Boston, September 28, 1848.

DEAR SIR—It is now eighteen years since I was first troubled with the water-brash, and derangement of the stomach. I have taken advice of the best Physicians in this city and New York, in London, Paris, Edinburgh, Dublin, and Glasgow, and consulted, and visited the several sulphur and other springs in this country, the watering places of Germany, and elsewhere in Europe, and only found relief from using the Bitters I have never had a return of the Water-brash, which daily troubled me of late years to a very great degree. My appetite has returned; the other symptoms of indigestion, costiveness of the bowels, general debility, and sleepless nights and which I suffered, have entirely left me. Having found so great relief from them, I consider discouraging disorder. I have recommended a trial of your medicine to many of my friends, who are now using it to great advantage. And I cannot refrain from writing to you to say that I consider them the best Tonic that has ever stowed upon the community; and trust that what little is in my scope to offer in extending the circulation of this valuable medicine, will be done with grateful pleasure at all times.

Yours very respectfully,
FITZHENRY HOMER.

The Wonder of the World!
Devines' Compound
Pitch Lozenge.

THE Great Remedy is at last discovered, and COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, COSTIVENESS AND CONSUMPTION have lost their terror, and would as if by magic flee from this Sovereign remedy. Was it ever before known that, Hopeless cases of Consumption were cured for less than $5? Call at the Druggists and get a box of this pill, and if needs sympathy, it is the consumptive,—always expecting to get well, and yet the painful evidence of decay almost "makes the inner soul shrink with the cutter flesh from the outer air."

"Some bloom as roses bloom,
And live as roses live,
Their fragrance floats around them,
And sighs to lose its sweet."

While others, in more mature life,—by some imprudence and a slight cold neglected,—in the hectic flush, the painful cough,

"The grim shade of their parting steps appear."

All we ask is this one question:—If you have got mucous membranes, or any other members of the body that are dear to you, why not give this invaluable remedy in this great remedy, DEVINES' COMPOUND PITCH LOZENGE.
