The Mayoralty.

The Hon. T. H. Haviland was the recipient, this forenoon, of an address—signed by a large number of electors—in which he was requested to contest the forthcoming election for the Mayoralty.

Varia.

The Home Secretary announced in the House of Commons that Sir Charles Warren had sent in his resignation as Chief Commissioner of Police on the 8th ult., and that it had been accepted.

The common method of signing documents in these early days was to smear the right hand with ink and press it upon the paper with the words, "Witness my hand."

Printers are sometimes charged with making mistakes in setting up type, causing the printed matter to be very different from what the writer intended.

Some years ago one of our staff wrote for the same edition of our paper an account of the presentation of a gold-headed cane to the Rev. Dr. Mudge, the clergyman of the place, and the description of a patent hog-killing and sausage-machine which had just been put in operation at the factory.

The Latest Blaze.

P. J. FORAN'S TAILORING ESTABLISHMENT DAMAGED LAST NIGHT—LOSS COVERED BY INSURANCE.

SHORTLY after eleven o'clock last night Police Sergeant Cameron discovered that the tailoring establishment of Mr. P. J. Foran, on Queen Street, was on fire.

The fire originated in the press-room of the tailoring shop, and evidently started from the stove therein.

In the clothes room referred to there were some two or three dozen new suits, which were destroyed, as were all those in the workroom in which the fire started.

The damage to the building by fire is confined to the first and second floors. The ground floor is flooded with water.

The members of the different fire companies worked well throughout, as usual. The Salvage Corps removed the stock in the shop to Fargherson's store.

The building, which is of wood and three stories high, is owned by the Connolly estate. It is but partially damaged, and is insured in the City of London, represented by John Maccochran, for $2,000.

Mr. L. W. Watson very kindly supplied refreshments to the firemen during the night.

After the fire the tanks were filled from the hydrants.

Mr. Foran, we understand, gave employment to twenty-four hands, who will thus be thrown out of employment until he resumes business, which he proposes doing as soon as he can secure suitable quarters.

Serious Shooting Affray.

Says the Moncton Times of yesterday:—A shooting, which will probably prove fatal, is reported from Metapedia. A number of foreigners, Italians and Swedes, who had been working on the Bay Chaleur road, had been paid off and were preparing to leave the place.

After the fire the tanks were filled from the hydrants. Mr. Foran, we understand, gave employment to twenty-four hands, who will thus be thrown out of employment until he resumes business, which he proposes doing as soon as he can secure suitable quarters.

"Blood tells." We may not be able to infuse royal and noble blood into a man's veins; but we can do better; we can expel from them all impure and poisonous humors by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

St. Peter's Concert.

SIR,—With reference to the article in the Patriot of the 20th, upon the concert of the previous evening, permit me to say that the not advertising in that journal seems to be the desire of the Patriot itself rather than that of the members of any of the committees of St. Peter's Church.

Yours truly, A MEMBER OF THE COMMITTEE. Nov. 30, 1888.

Eczema, Itchy, Scaly, Skin Tortures.

The simple application of SWAYNE'S OINTMENT, without any internal medicine, will cure any case of Tetter, Salt Rheum, Ring-worm, Piles, Itch, Sores, Pimples, Eczema, all Scaly, Itchy Skin Eruptions, no matter how obstinate or long standing. It is potent, effective, and costs but a trifle.

The managers of the Glasgow Exhibition are rather proud of turning out a surplus of £40,000 from their exhibition. The money will be used for promoting art and science in Glasgow.

—The London, G. B., St. James Gazette in a recent issue, in reference to Sir John Macdonald's speech at the banquet at Sherbrooke to the Hon. J. H. Pope, said:—

"Sir John Macdonald, the Canadian Premier is to be commended for the dignified and uncompromising speech which he made at Sherbrooke a few days ago. He will have nothing to do with any talk of annexation to the United States, whether it be proposed under the disguise of 'Commercial Union' or 'Unrestricted Reciprocity.'"

—The Empire says: "It has been calculated in the United States, and is not disputed, that the presidential election cost directly and indirectly not less than $500,000,000, that is, at the rate of $125,000,000 a year for the presidential period. Thus the mere cost of choosing their ruler is not only far greater than what the Grits sometimes call the large salary and expense of our Governor General, but is even several times the amount of our whole public expenditure." This is a point worth noticing by those who incline towards Annexation.

St. Andrews Day Celebration at Souris.

BOISNER HOUSE was the scene of a very enjoyable social gathering on Thursday evening, 29th Nov. That being the day set apart by the St. Andrew's Society in Charlottetown for the annual reunion of the Society on this occasion, a few of the people of this thriving village, in sympathy with their friends in town, thought it advisable to convene and give to remembrance the land of their fathers, with the rich inheritance which we enjoy in this Canada of ours, as descendants of a people who have used the old handiwork in all the elements of national greatness, and thus given their worthy sons a passport in all lands the world over.

The small company assembled at eight o'clock and passed a couple of hours in social intercourse, accompanied by instrumental music and songs, interspersed with a few choice impromptu exhibitions of terpsichore agility until supper was announced.

A. Beaton, Esq., occupied the head of the table, supported on his right by Sheriff Macdonald, and on his left by another member of that leading and distinguished clan, who enjoys the warm affection of the people of Souris. The usual loyal and patriotic toasts were given and responded to with hearty enthusiasm. A notable feature was the warm attachment of the native Islanders to our own little spot of earth—the sentiment of a growing Canadian nationality, along with the remembrance of all that is good and true in the past as belonging to the several branches of the great British people from whom we are sprung.

Our Irish and French brethren were duly represented on this occasion—the latter by a fine specimen of the skipper class, who enjoys the highest reputation for integrity and nautical skill.

"Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the Queen" brought the meeting to a close about one o'clock.

After Sixteen Years.

Some sixteen years ago H. W. Knight, who lived in St. Stephen, was burned out and removed to St. John, his wife having died. He left his boy, about two years old, in charge of a woman who soon after ran away, taking the boy, his mother's gold watch and two hundred dollars. The woman died, and the boy was left in charge of one Joseph Young, who, it is said, used him badly and he ran away. The father never got a trace of him from the time of his first disappearance. The boy turned up, however, in Barry, Vermont, and attempts were made to find out his people. Pinkerton Detective Sharp, of St. John, happening to be in Boston, heard of the case and took it to work up. Patiently following threads of evidence he has finally located Knight at Sackville, where he is carrying on a business in butchering. Father and son have been put in communication with each other, and the latter is expected to come on soon. It is supposed the woman who ran away with the child did it in the hope of getting a reward. The above is substantially the story as told by Detective Sharp.

An English paper, irritated by lectures on the duty of always regarding very tenderly the interests of foreigners, says: "Let the world take care of itself. We want our statesmen to take care of England." Some Canadians may probably consider this saying with the necessary change for local application. Charity is good, but it need not begin abroad—nor what is still worse, cease there and proceed home.
