DIEF FROWN REPORTED

Gerda Munsinger Story Given By Montreal Paper

MONTREAL (CP)—La Presse says that a few months before Gerda Munsinger left Montreal to return to Germany John Diefenbaker asked Pierre Sevigny, associate defence minister, to end his association with the woman.

The newspaper says that the meeting between Mr. Diefenbaker, then prime minister, and Mr. Sevigny took place in great secrecy and followed rumors which had been circulating in Parliament that "certain ministers" were having relations with a woman of doubtful past.

At the same time, says La Presse, Mr. Diefenbaker had in his possession certain confidential documents which had been sent to him by the RCMP.

The newspaper says Mr. Diefenbaker informed Mr. Sevigny that there was nothing in these documents to indicate that Mrs. Munsinger was a spy.

Meanwhile, La Presse says, the RCMP began investigating Mrs. Munsinger on the request of certain influential members of Parliament who took a dim view of the friendly relations she had with certain cabinet ministers.

There were, in fact, two meetings between Mr. Diefenbaker and Mr. Sevigny, the newspaper says.

denial file on Mrs. Munsinger he had received from the RCMP and that he also told the associate defence minister that the RCMP had a photograph showing a cabinet minister dancing with the woman.

Mr. Sevigny, the paper says, decided to end his association gradually with Mrs. Munsinger and told the party leader this. At the same time, it adds, he assured his chief that his relationship with Mrs. Munsinger was purely social.

After he had ended his friendship with her, the report says, another minister became associated with her, but this relationship only lasted a short time before she left Montreal for Germany in February, 1961, sick and penniless.

The paper says that the minister in question helped her financially on several occasions during these last few weeks.

Mr. Sevigny could not be reached for comment.

ANCIENT JOB IS DROPPED

LONDON (AP)—What were the two British soldiers doing standing on the Duke of York's steps just off London's busy Pall Mall?

That's what the army wanted to know during an inquiry into manpower wastage.

Defence Secretary Denis Healey disclosed Sunday that this was the answer: "Troops have been on duty there ever since the Napoleonic wars a century and a half ago, when they were posted to the spot to hold the Duke of Wellington's horse."

The men have now been put to more up-to-date work.

Russia Launches New Satellite

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union launched Monday its second apparently unmanned Cosmos satellite within a week.

Scientists at Bochum observatory in West Germany speculated the Russians would try a rendezvous in space.

But there was no indication here of any plans for a rendezvous.

Cosmos 113, launched Monday followed a widely different orbit from Cosmos 112, launched Thursday.

PARENTS MUST PAY

CHATHAM, Ont. (CP)—Council endorsed a resolution here calling for legislation to force parents of juvenile vandals to pay up to $200 in compensation for destroyed property. "I don't think you can put any value on vandalism in Chatham," said Alderman Douglas Allin, adding that not all cases were reported.

ORILLIA, Ont. (CP)—Police Constable James Wood has been collecting police badges since he was in police college. He now is writing to all the departments in Canada and the United States for samples. Wood already has badges from most countries of the world.
